He Sees 'Unbounded Confidence.'

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—The first public message of Franklin Delano Roosevelt as President elect of the United States as given at his home in New York City today was:

"I am glad of the opportunity to extend my deep appreciation to the electorate of the country, that has given this greate vote of confidence. It is a voice that had more than mere party significance. It transcended party limitations and became a national expression of liberal thought.

"It means, I am sure, that the masses of the people of this nation firmly believe that there is great and actual possibility in an orderly recovery through a well conceived and actively directed plan of action.

Sees "Unbounded Confidence."

"Such a plan has been presented to you and you have expressed approval of it. This, my friends, is most reassuring. It shows that there is in this country unbounded confidence in the future of sound agriculture and honorable industry.

"This clear mandate shall not be forgotten. I pledge you this and I invite your help in the happy task of restoration."

This offer of hope was transmitted to the country in these ways: By release to the newspapers, by the radio, spoken by Mr. Roosevelt himself, and by the talking movies.

"It is absolutely all I will have for you today, fellows," he said at a press conference this afternoon, held in his house in New York City, before he took the road again for Hyde Park and Albany.

Not "Mr. President."

At the opening of the press interview one of the correspondents started a question with the salutation, "Mr. President——," and the Roosevelt head came up quickly as with a droll smile he said:

"Don't call me Mr. President. Just plain governor."

Everybody had a feeling that Gov. Roosevelt really will carry out his promise to be breaking precedents while he is in the White House, and one of the precedents he seems certain to break is that of preserving a stiff formality with newspaper men.

When the reporters entered the room in whch the interview was given, a drawing room, they found the next President in conversation with James A. Farley, his campaign manager. The reporters gathered around, and there were more of them this time than ever before.

"Good Night, Nurse," He Says.

After telling of the statement he was releasing, and sounding the warning not to address him as "Mr. President," the governor engaged in good natured repartee with the repoters.

"How do I feel?" he said. "Perfectly grand. But I'm sleepy."

In mock petulance he complained at having been kept up until 3 o'clock this morning.

"What do you know," he said, "Jimmy (his son) and Doc O'Connor (D. Basil O'Connor, his law partner), and Gus (Gus Gennerich, his bodyguard), kept me up talking until 3 o'clock."

"Sort of a drawing room cabinet, eh?" he was asked.

"Are you going to toss that old campaign hat of yours away now, governor?" was another question. The governor clung to a battered old felt hat all through the campaign, because he is superstitious about changing hats in the course of a campaign.

"No, I won't threw it away," he said. "I'll keep it for Warm Springs. It'll go all right down there."

Greets His Neighbors.

When the President elect reached his Hyde Park home today he found several hundred of his neighbors there to welcome him. He made a little informal speech.

"I'm going to be going up to Albany right on up to Jan. 1," he said.

GOV. ROOSEVELT HAS SIX MILLION LEAD IN NATION

U. S. Eager to Hear His Plans.

BULLETIN.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Associated Press returns from 106,283 districts out of 119,714 at 4 a. m. today gave the popular vote for President: Roosevelt, 20,167,660; Hoover, 14,184,867.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

With nearly complete returns augmenting the size of the popular majority over President Hoover won by Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt in his election to the presidency on Tuesday, the country turned questioningly yesterday to the President elect for light on his policies.

What the Democratic party is going to do to ameliorate the condition of the country, and how soon, was the question uppermost in the minds of the people as they adjusted themselves to the impending change in party control of the government wrought by the most sensational political overturn in our history.

The additional returns received yesterday confirmed the indications of early returns on Tuesday night that Gov. Roosevelt had received 472 electoral votes, a greater number than ever before was accorded any candidate for the presidency, and that Mr. Hoover had received 59, the fewest given any major party candidate for more than two generations with the exception of Taft, who received 8 when the Republican party was split in 1912.

Kentucky for Roosevelt.

The returns from Kentucky, which did not begin counting its ballots till yesterday, showed that Roosevelt had won the 11 electoral votes of that state by a large plurality. Kentucky was carried by Mr. Hoover in 1928.

With 72 per cent of the voting precincts of the country reported, Roosevelt had a lead of more than 4,600,000 over Hoover. The indications are that the Roosevelt popular majority over Hoover will closely approach if it does not exceed the six million Hoover majority over Smith in 1928. In 87,379 precincts out of 119,714 in the country, Roosevelt's popular vote was 17,248,872; Hoover's, 12,588,841.

Stock Market Sags.

The questioning uncertainty with which the people contemplated the advent of a new régime in Washington was reflected during the day on the stock market, which first rushed upward, then sagged, and finally moved falteringly upward again. Apprehensions that Democratic control of the government bodes no good to business and the stability of our financial structure were apparently in conflict with confidence that the economic situation had taken a turn for the better and is bound to improve, no matter what party controls the government.

One of the most interesting manifestations of what the public is thinking about was afforded by the telephone inquiries that rained into THE TRIBUNE office during the day. Some asked whether it was true that President Hoover and Vice President Curtis would resign in order to allow Gov. Roosevelt to assume the presidency at once. Others wanted to know whether it would be possible for such an immediate change in the executive office to be brought about.

Possible but Improbable.

So far as is known Mr. Hoover does not contemplate taking any such step which would be violently opposed by the Republican bureaucrats who are not eager to hasten the day of their replacement by Democrats and would be opposed likewise by most Republican leaders. It is possible that the notion of such a step was suggested to the inquirers by a recently published bit of secret history of 1916. Joseph P. Tumulty, who was secretary to President Wilson, related that Mr. Wilson intended, if defeated for reelection, to resign and turn over his office to Mr. Hughes.

The plan, said Mr. Tumulty, was that Mr. Wilson would appoint Mr. Hughes secretary of state, then President Wilson and Vice President Marshall would resign their offices and under the succession act Mr. Hughes would automatically become President.

Roosevelt Realizes Situation.

From New York came the information that Gov. Roosevelt is taking cognizance of the public uncertainty regarding his policies and the desirability of setting at rest any apprehensions that may exist in the public

"YOU'RE NEXT!"

SNOW FLURRIES HERE; BLIZZARD HITS NORTHWEST

Snow fell in driving flurries from a leaden sky in Chicago for forty-five minutes yesterday afternoon. The temperature, however, fell no lower than 40 degrees and the flakes melted as they struck the ground.

There were reports of a similar fall in central Illinois. In northwest Iowa, northeast Nebraska, Minnesota, and the Dakotas a blizzard piled huge drifts over the rural roads. The temperature fell to 22. Farmers, who were caught unprepared for the storm, faced a serious loss of live stock.

An air mail plane, inbound to Chicago from the northwest, made a forced landing in Elmhurst yesterday. The machine was undamaged and the pilot, A. W. Olson, who was not hurt, explained that visibility was so low he could not find his way to the Chicago airport. The mail was sent in by automobile.

Unsettled weather, with more snow flurries, was forecast for the Chicago area today. The lowest temperature is expected to be about 34 degrees. Yesterday's snowfall was the second of the autumn, a brief flurry having been recorded on Oct. 12.

A ROUGH VOICED JAZZ CANARY IS A FAVORITE NOW

The "jazz canary" is the newest fad in canary types, Thomas Cook, bird fancier, declared last night at a meeting of the Greater Chicago Cage Bird club at the Hotel Sherman. He is treasurer.

"The roller canaries of fifteen years ago, with their sweet, mellow songs and plain appearances are no longer in demand," said Mr. Cook. "The public today wants a 'jazz canary,' one of the 'type' canaries with loud, vulgar song, and of sleek appearance."

Consequently, Mr. Cook said, canaries today are being judged solely by appearances, and strange types have come into vogue. These new types, as well as the old fashioned species, will be exhibited at the first show of the club which will be held at the Sherman Dec. 1 to 4.

Roosevelt Third of Dutch Descent to Be President

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

THE HAGUE, Nov. 9.—Dutch newspapers today pointed out that President elect Roosevelt will be the third of Dutch descent to enter the White House. The first was Martin Van Buren and the second, Theodore Roosevelt. Franklin and Theodora had a Dutch colonist as a common ancestor, it was stated. Only a few families in Holland now bear the name of Roosevelt, most of the original spellings having been altered in the last three centuries.

Hurricane in Cuba Fatal to 45; Injures 250

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, Nov. 9.—Through the silence of broken communications tonight came bits of news and appeals for help that told of an appalling toll taken by a terrific Caribbean hurricane which swept northeastward across Camaguey province and central eastern Cuba today.

Reports of 45 dead in the provinces of Camaguey, Santa Clara, and Oriente, injuries to more than 250 and known property damage of $1,000,000 reached Havana. Gov. Juon Antonio Vazquez Bello of Santa Clara tonight sent a radio to President Machado pleading for immediate help. President Machado called congress to meet tomorrow to consider a $1,000,000 relief fund. Havana's direct wire connections do not reach farther east than the western edge of the storm area.

155 Mile an Hour Wind.

The hurricane came out of the sea with mountainous waves and heavy rain to strike Santa Cruz del Sur, Camaguey's largest seaport, at 3 o'clock this morning, and during the day moved at a rate of 10 to 12 miles an hour across the island 150 miles to Nuevitas. Wind velocities ranged from 130 to 155 miles an hour. A backlash of the storm hit Camaguani, Remedios and the capital in Santa Clara province. In Oriente province, to the east, Victoria de las Tunas and Meneses were struck as severely as the towns in Camaguey province.

In its path the storm leveled houses, telegraph lines, mills, and business houses, cane, coffee and fruit trees. Towns were inundated by the rain, swollen rivers and the sea. Railroad service was blocked. Power plants almost without exception were disabled, leaving much of eastern Cuba in darkness tonight.

Storm Heads Into Channel.

The hurricane had been raging in the Caribbean since Sunday. It left Cuba tonight, going into the Bahama channel, where it may disappear, according to Father Mariano Gutierrez Lanza, director of Belen observatory. He does not think it likely that the storm will strike the United States.

Towns stricken included Camaguey, Santa del Sur, Ciego de Avila, Moron, and Nuevitas in Camaguey province; Guisa, Victoria de las Tunas and Meneses in Oriente; Santa Clara, Camaguani, Remedios, and Jatibonico in Santa Clara. Meneses was reported entirely wiped out.

At Santa Cruz del Sur a dozen buildings were undermined by the waves, and former President Mario G. Menocal's sugar mill was damaged. Property damage was heaviest at Ciego de Avila, near the Santa Clara border. The greatest death toll was reported from Camaguani, where from 18 to 25 were killed. In many cases towns had warning of the storm and inhabitants fled to the fields and woods.

The government is dubious of the fate of the gunboat Yara. It has not been heard from since 2 p. m., when it radioed an S. O. S. while it was buffeted by a 145 mile gale 33 miles north of Nuevitas.

Jamaica Banana Crop Ruined.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Fully 50 per cent of the banana cultivations on this island were wiped out by a terrific storm which struck West Jamaica last night and lasted over into today.

The center of the storm hit Point Negril, the western extremity of the island. The wind registered 75 miles an hour. The damage was estimated at $3,000,000.

British Vessel Adrift.

Palm Beach, Fla., Nov. 9.—(AP)—The Radio Marine corporation station here tonight intercepted a message from the British steamer Ingola which said the vessel had lost steerage way and was adrift about 75 miles south of Nassau, near the center of a tropical hurricane. The Ingola did not ask for assistance, nor did she give her exact cause of her distress.

HENRY MURPHY.

John J. Touhy's Son Kidnaped, Then Set Free

Evidently intending to kidnap John J. Touhy, sanitary district trustee and Democratic leader of the 27th ward three armed hoodlums last night abducted his 13 year old son in front of the Touhy residence at 3255 Washington boulevard. The boy, John Jr., and Clark Irven, the Touhy chauffeur, who was kidnaped with him, were released an hour later after the hoodlums had discovered their error.

The kidnaping was regarded by police as an incident of post-election terrorism which might have had a serious conclusion had Trustee Touhy instead of his son been taken. Word of the abduction started the entire machinery of the police in operation and aroused Democratic leaders among them Mayor Cermak and Governor Elect Horner.

Excitement Subsides.

Excitement subsided generally with the release of the temporary captives, but police launched an inquiry on the premise that 27th ward political troubles were responsible.

Apparently the gunmen had been watching the Touhy home, for the kidnaping was completed with precision. About 7:20 o'clock Irven, who is 32 years old, a bailiff, and lives at 1633 Jackson boulevard, drove up to the Touhy home in Touhy's limousine to call for the trustee.

Irven rang the front doorbell and then returned to the car to wait for Touhy. John Jr., who had heard the bell, went outside, hatless and coatless, to inform Irven that his father would be out in a few minutes. The boy's mother, Mrs. Bernice Touhy, and his sister, Katherine, 21 years old, stood at the front window watching. They saw the kidnaping.

Three Men Seize Boy.

Three men emerged from a nearby doorway and grabbed the boy. One leveled a shotgun at the startled driver. As Mrs. Touhy and Katherine screamed for help they shoved the boy into the car and drove west toward Garfield park. Touhy reached the window in time to see the car disappear. He notified Mayor Cermak and the latter ordered police on the case. Judge Horner was also notified.

Meanwhile the kidnapers sped west to Homan avenue and north to Grand. They asked Irven his name, and when he answered they cursed in disappointment. "We thought you were Touhy," one said. Another, hearing Irven's name, charged him with being the accuser of Al Dean, a Republican election judge.

"We ought to kill you," the gunman threatened. "You'd better get Dean out of this scrape."

Police said the reference apparently was to Alexander Dean, 43 years old, of 1700 Van Buren street, a Republican election judge of the 29th precinct of the 27th ward, who was arrested Oct. 11 on a charge of slugging A. H. Corboret, 1705 Jackson boulevard. Dean is out on $5,000 bail, and is scheduled to appear in County court Nov. 18.

Chauffeur Is Robbed.

The kidnapers robbed Irven of $18, but didn't molest the Touhy boy. One of them conversed with him about sports, after assuring him they would not harm him. Near River and Higgins roads in Leyden township, the gunmen ejected Irven and the boy. The two were directed to a telephone at Adolph Deites' filling station by Adrienne Kelly, a 10 year old girl, who was later rewarded with a $10 bill by Trustee Touhy.

Touhy, who was reelected to the drainage board Tuesday for his second term, said he was certain he was the object of the kidnapers. He is a former alderman of the 27th ward and is now its committeeman. Police said he has refused to go along with a hoodlum political element in the ward headed by "Dago Lawrence" Mangano, Capone syndicate lieutenant.

Stege Blames Hoodlums.

Supervising Capt. John Stege, in whose district the kidnaping occurred, blamed the abduction on political differences growing out of Touhy's long opposition to the hoodlums. Chief of Detectives William Schoemaker ordered Mangano arrested for questioning.

William Allen White Stops Typewriting for a Minute

Emporia, Kas., Nov. 9.—(AP)—William Allen White, militant publisher and strong supporter of President Hoover, was pounding away at his typewriter in the Emporia Gazette offices.

"What are you doing this morning?" asked a staff member.

"Pallbearing," he replied.

Then he went on with his editorials.

Absent Minded Father of Triplets Reported Missing

Assistance was requested last night in a search for Henry Parisek, 32 years old, 2857 Mildred avenue, who has been missing since Saturday. Parisek is the father of triplets born last January and of three other children. Relatives say he is subject to lapses of memory.

WETS MOBILIZE FOR A DRIVE IN THIS CONGRESS

Spurred by Result of Election.

Nine more states vote to repeal dry laws; total without prohibition acts will be increased to sixteen.

Blatz Brewing company of Milwaukee makes plans to spend $2,000,000 in rehabilitating plant; Atlas Brewery and others in Chicago ready to start at once as are some in St. Paul, East St. Louis, and Belleville, Ill.

In London an official of the organized brewing industry predicted that large amounts of the British beers and ales would be sold to America in bulk and boiled over here. In Berlin, Vienna, and Buda Pest the stock markets were benefited, the brewery shares leading.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Action on a measure to legalize and tax beer in the "lame duck" session of congress which opens next month was forecast by the wets yesterday as completer returns continued to increase the upheaval in Tuesday's congressional elections. With the anti-prohibition wave running high in the corn belt, formerly bone dry, as well as in the industrial centers, the wets conjecture that great changes in wet and dry alignments will show themselves in December in the short session of the expiring 72d congress.

The anti-prohibitionists figure that, at least a wet majority will be produced in each house of the present congress, enough to pass a bill modifying the Volstead act for beer and revenue.

May Come in Three Months.

In fact there seemed a prospect of legalized beer in the next three months. Wet leaders admitted yesterday that roll calls on the wet and dry question in the last session disclosed a substantial dry majority in both houses. But, they contended, many of the senators and representatives who voted dry at that time will change their votes in the light of the wet avalanche so visible Tuesday.

Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi told the Associated Press yesterday in New Orleans that the Democrats would take immediate steps at the December session to modify the Volstead law "to permit the manufacture and sale of beer within constitutional limits." Harrison has been heretofore a dry leader, but he changed his views last summer.

Walsh to Get Into Action.

In Massachusetts Senator David I. Walsh announced that he would introduce a bill in congress calling for the legalization of beer of 3 per cent alcoholic content on the opening day of the "lame duck" session Dec. 6. The measure will contain provision for taxation under the federal revenue law.

Congressman Fred A. Britten [Rep., Ill.], just reelected, said he would press a bill for legalized beer at the session next month.

Beer as Revenue Measure.

Although Washington reports that some Republican leaders have launched a move to sidetrack beer legislation until a special session can be called by President Elect Roosevelt, indications last night were that this plan would not be successful. Tentative plans now being arranged by certain Republican leaders call for the pushing of new revenue legislation and other bills which would crowd beer off the calendar.

Those opposing such a plan pointed out that passage of a beer bill would raise sufficient revenue to obviate the necessity of new revenue legislation. Whether it would receive President Hoover's signature or be slowed up by appeals to the United States Supreme court remained the question.

Repeal for New Congress.

As to repeal of the 18th amendment, to submit which requires a two-thirds majority in each house, the wets estimate this may go over to the new congress which Gov. Roosevelt has indicated he will call in special session after he takes office on March 4.

The 73d congress will be overwhelmingly wet and Democratic by large majorities in both house and senate.

Eleven senate seats were captured from the Republicans by the Democrats, on the basis of returns still incomplete in a few far western states. On this reckoning the Democrats will have 53 members of the senate after March 4. This is the greatest number of Democratic senators in history.

The numerical strength of the Democrats in the new house is as yet undetermined, many districts still being in doubt, but the Democratic majority has been largely increased.

Two outstanding Republican wets elected to the house were James M. Beck of Pennsylvania and James W. Wadsworth of New York. Mr. Beck, former solicitor general of the United States, as a house member has been a battling anti-prohibitionist and has especially brought out the fundamental aspects of the 18th amendment as subversive of constitutional doctrine.

Mr. Wadsworth is a former United States senator who has been a leader in the fight for repeal of the 18th amendment. His election serves to strengthen materially the fighting wet leadership in the house.

Gain Eight Illinois Seats.

Through the corn belt, in old dry regions and former Republican strongholds, the anti-prohibition wave surged with an astonishing sweep. Here the handwriting on the wall loomed in largest letters. In Illinois the Democrats now appear to have 20 seats out of 27 in the house, besides electing a senator, William H. Dieterich. It was a Democratic gain of eight. Returns from two or three districts are still incomplete.

The upset washed out at least five veteran drys downstate.

In Iowa, former dry Iowa, six dripping wet Democrats, figures still incomplete, appear to have overthrown six Republican corn fed drys [politically]. The state elected Democrats to seven out of nine house seats, while a dripping wet Democrat, Louis Murphy, was elected to the senate, the second Democratic senator from Iowa in seventy years.

In Michigan, old rockrib, which went dry in 1918 before national prohibition, the Democrats appear to have elected eight Democratic congressmen, four others being in doubt. In the present congress Michigan has only one Democrat.

A stackup by the Crusaders yesterday showed that Michigan, formerly "life for a pint" Michigan, will have in the next congress sixteen wet congressmen out of seventeen.

In Indiana the Democrats gained three and have the house delegation solid. In Kansas they picked up two seats, in Ohio eight or nine, in bone dry Utah two, and in Wisconsin, apparently, four seats.

Smoot-Hawley Team Out.

In the west the famous Smoot-Hawley team, authors of the tariff bill, has been wiped out. Senator Reed Smoot of Utah—thirty years in the senate—was snowed under by Dr. Elbert D. Thomas, wet Democrat. Representative W. C. Hawley of Oregon was defeated in the primaries.

The net wet gains, added to the tremendous sweep of the anti-prohibition wave, is expected by the wets to lead the vote of the South in the senate to move over to the wet side with the possible exception of Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas, author of the 18th amendment, and other die hards.

In the next senate the indicated gain of eleven seats by the Democrats will add to the wet forces a battery of aggressive wets. Eight of the new members are listed as for repeal and modification by the organized wet forces. Three Republican wet leaders, Senators Otis F. Glenn of Illinois, George Moses of New Hampshire and Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, were defeated by Democratic wets.

5 and 10 Jones Beaten.

In the swamping of the drys, among Tuesday's victims were Senators Smoot, a pillar of the 18th amendment; James E. Watson of Indiana, who took a semi-dry, semi-wet stand on the Republican straddle plank, and Wesley L. Jones, author of the 5 and 10 law bearing his name.

Senator W. Warren Barbour, Republican of New Jersey, appeared the winner last night over his Democratic opponent, Percy H. Stewart. With only a few districts unreported, Barbour was leading by 8,000 votes. At noon he had conceded defeat.

HIS HEADACHE DUE TO BULLET; DIDN'T KNOW IT

Mt. Morris, Ill., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Luther Haines, 15 year old high school student, learned today what caused the headache he has had since last Saturday.

Luther was one of a party of youths who, it is alleged, drove an automobile up on a lawn in the village of Leaf River, six miles to the north, and fled laughingly when Village Marshal Clayton Schreiber called on them to halt. The marshal then fired several times at them with a .38 caliber pistol.

Investigation disclosed that the car, abandoned by the youths, had one bullet hole in the back of the rear seat. Local authorities were much puzzled as to what had become of the bullet. The mystery was solved today. Luther went to a physician today to discuss his headache and the doctor found the missing bullet imbedded in the back of his head. It was extracted.

"I didn't know it was there," said the lad, "but my head feels better now."

Big Grocery Store Owner Hangs Self in Basement

9 MORE STATES VOTE TO REPEAL THEIR DRY ACTS

Total Without Prohibition Laws Will Be 16.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—The wet sweep in yesterday's election extended to several states where anti-prohibition measures were rolling up larger and larger majorities as returns neared completion. All told, nine states appear to have knocked out their prohibition laws.

Sven other states—New York, Wisconsin, Montana, Nevada, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, and Maryland—already had no state prohibition laws.

A voters revolt in Michigan resulted in a 2 to 1 vote for repeal of the bone dry clause in the state constitution, carried in a resolution also authorizing the state legislature to establish a liquor control commission. Michigan is the state that a few years ago enforced the life-for-a-pint law.

Connecticut Asks Repeal.

Connecticut adopted by a margin of approximately seven to one a proposal to petition congress to submit a repeal amendment to the states.

In Louisiana, besides sending a complete slate of wets to both houses, the voters approved overwhelmingly two anti-prohibition proposals, one to repeal its state enforcement act and another petitioning congress for a constitutional convention to repeal the Eighteenth amendment.

New Jersey voted ten to one to repeal its state enforcement act.

North Dakota, which has never known anything but prohibition since it entered the union in 1889, by a majority which probably will reach 40,000, repealed the prohibition clause of the state constitution.

Washington Votes Wet.

The defeat of Senator "Five and Ten Year" Jones in Washington was coupled with an overwhelming vote to repeal the state bone dry law.

Colorado, which had been dry since 1914, repealed its state dry law by a large plurality.

In California the so-called "Wright act," the state's enforcement measure, was removed from the statute books by a vote of nearly 3 to 1.

Oregon repealed its enforcement act, known as the Anderson bone dry law, by more than 30,000.

Wyoming overturned the 2 to 1 vote for prohibition of thirteen years ago by voting the same ratio for a memorial to congress for repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

BRITAIN WISHES ROOSEVELT LUCK IN SOLVING CRISIS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 9.—British press comment on the American election was generally favorable today. The newspapers all wish Roosevelt luck in solving the problems of the crisis. Some see a slight recrudescence of Wilsonianism, while others are chiefly interested in American tariffs, and all have a word for reduction of war debts.

The Daily Telegraph said: "as to war debts, Roosevelt is opposed to cancellation but is not upon record as against concessions short of that. He is all for protection but against prohibitive tariffs."

The Times said: "There can be no question that the return of prosperity to the United States will contribute to the recovery of the rest of the world, just as the restoration of more stable conditions elsewhere will contribute to the recovery of America." It concludes with a statement that Roosevelt, and more still, Al Smith, has shown an inclination to reduce tariffs.

The Daily Mail asserts that war debts is the gravest world problem today, concluding that "the President elect carries with him the goodwill of the world."

The Morning Post makes an attack on the Hawley-Smoot tariff.

The Morning Post says: "The plain truth of the whole matter is that the whole world has been forced into high tariffs by the example of the United States. The present American tariff, as the Democrats contend, has led to retaliatory action by more than forty countries."

The Liberal News Chronicle quotes Roosevelt's statement after his election, in which he alluded to his triumph as a "great liberal victory." This paper was disposed to accept the term with the British definition, namely, free trade and international coöperation.

The Laborite Daily Herald bemoans the fact that the election has delayed the world economic conference, but looks to the new administration to revive the hopes founded on world coöperation.

Blatz Brewing Company Will Spend $2,000,000 On Its Plant

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—The Blatz Brewing company has plans laid for spending more than two million dollars in rehabilitation and expansion and for putting 700 to 800 more men to work as soon as modification of the Volstead act is effected, Edward Landsberg, president of the company, announced today.

EDW. LANDSBERG.

"We anticipated Gov. Roosevelt's election," Mr. Landsberg said, "and developed plans for expanding production and distributing facilities some time ago."

Other Milwaukee breweries also are waiting only for the Democratic platform pledge to be made operative to begin a large increase of employment and extension of operations, they said.

S. E. Abrams, general manager of the Schlitz Brewing company, expects jobs for an additional 2,000 men at that plant.

More Jobs Promised.

W. H. Kraft, general manager of the Miller brewery, predicted a large increase of workmen, and the Pabst corporation, which now employs 600 men, will give work to two thousand, Fred Pabst, president, said.

"As soon as modification of the Volstead act is effected we shall start work on a new boiler house and a large addition to our bottling department. Our orders now are ready for new manufacturing equipment, cases, bottles, raw materials, delivery trucks, conveyors and vats," Mr. Landsberg said.

"In Milwaukee alone we will add from seven to eight hundred employés. The brewing industry, which has been running along with skeleton organizations, again will give employment to one hundred thousand men in the United States. An army of carpenters, painters, mechanics, electricians, plumbers and laborers, will be employed to reëquip the brewing plants for the manufacture of legalized beer.

To Aid Two Millions.

"With the demand for billions of bottles; for cooperage, bottling and refrigerating machinery, labels and stationery, it is easy to visualize a working force of a half a million men. On the basis of four to a family this means feeding, housing and clothing more than two million individuals, and a great deal of this will come to Wisconsin, because in 1916 Wisconsin breweries produced one-eighth of the nation's total output of beer."

"All this activity will mean a great deal to the farmers and the railroads," he added.

"I feel that the passing of prohibition also will have a marked beneficial and stimulating effect on business generally," he declared.

"It will increase real estate values, and is the first step toward the long delayed return of prosperity. The country is as rich in money and other material resources as it ever was, and restoration of individual liberty to the people will create a feeling of satisfaction and contentment which cannot fail to have a favorable reaction on business conditions throughout the country."

CHICAGO IS READY

Chicago beverage brewers are prepared to resume the manufacture of real beer, of any designated alcoholic content, within twenty-four hours, Anton Laadt, general manager of the Atlas Brewing company, 2107 Blue Island avenue, announced yesterday following the election of a wet, Democratic congress.

"Our plant is ready to turn out from 25,000 to 30,000 cases of bottled beer a day," he said. "We have been preparing to resume the manufacture of real beer for two years and can do so at a 24 hours' notice. Other Chicago breweries are preparing to change over also.

"Those making near beer by the dealcoholizing of real beer can change over night, while those that employ different processes will require more time. But there will be beer enough for all as soon as it is made legal."

ST. PAUL PREPARES

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 9.—(AP)—A building program to prepare the Theodore Hamm Brewing company for beer manufacture was announced as an election aftermath today by President William Hamm Jr. He said nationwide balloting yesterday convinced manufacture of beer would be legalized "soon."

The program, he stated, calls for $250,000 worth of new equipment, $250,000 in repairs, and purchase of 500,000 bushels of barley and 250,000 bushels of hops for a year's operation. Addition of 650 employés is contemplated.

Hamm asserted plant reconstruction probably would start in the near future.

100,000 BARRELS

East St. Louis, Ill., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Two breweries in this district, each with a capacity of 100,000 barrels a year, will be ready for the manufacture of beer in event the Volstead act is modified.

The Highland brewery at Highland, Ill., which covers a city block, is being repaired for the manufacture of beer, owners of the plant announced last night, while operators of the Griese-Dieck-Western brewery at Belleville revealed that their plant was prepared to begin the manufacture of beer at once.

Eugene Schott, a member of the family that operated the Highland brewery in pre-prohibition days, said between $15,000 and $20,000 would be spent in repairing, painting, and cleaning the plant.

BRITISH ARE HOPEFUL

[Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Nov. 9.—British brewery interests greeted Gov. Roosevelt's victory joyfully today in full confidence that the Volstead act will be modified and beer legalized in a very few months.

Distillery and brewery shares were bought greedily when the stock market opened. They remained active and advanced throughout the day. At the same time brewers made plans to send agents to the United States to advertise their products when the change came.

H. C. Vickery, secretary of the Allied Brewery Traders association, predicted Americans would buy big quantities of English beer and ale, to be shipped in bulk and bottled there, despite their former allegiance to German lager.

BERLIN STOCKS RISE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 9.—Germany greeted the election of Gov. Roosevelt with great satisfaction. "This means a new era of prosperity for German brewers and wine makers," was a common expression of opinion. Brewery stocks were strong on the boerse today. Some newspapers complained that France would be a likely competitor for American trade in things to drink.

VIENNA SHARES BENEFIT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, Austria, Nov. 9.—"The gluttonous world crisis has gulped another victim. It is Hoover. The key to the renaissance of the entire world has been handed over to a new man by the American people. It is Roosevelt." That was the comment of the Vienna Die Stunde newspaper. Brewery stocks advanced on the exchange and other shares rose on guesses as to what the Roosevelt administration will do toward the $4,500,000,000 borrowed from the United States, much of which was invested in central and eastern European nations.

Shares of the Austrian Goresser brewery gained eight points. The stock exchange at Budapest also was helped.

Robert Schlumberger, wine expert, said that before the world war Austria exported 120,000 quarts of beer, a negligible amount in comparison with the total production, adding "The hope for Austria lies in the export of wines."

The Socialist paper, Allgemeine Zeitung, attacks the sale of alcoholic drinks as a means of solving the unemployment problem.

LEWIS OUTLINES PARTY COURSE IN KEEPING PLEDGES

Believes Roosevelt Will Delay Special Session.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis, speaking from a sickbed in his suite at the Ambassador hotel, yesterday discussed the course which the new congress and the new President are likely to pursue in redeeming Democratic campaign pledges.

He said that President Elect Franklin D. Roosevelt may not find it advisable to call a special session of congress immediately after his inauguration in March to take up the question of repeal of the 18th amendment, the modification of the Volstead act and the regulation of the tariff.

May Delay Special Session.

The senator explained that business leaders are less likely to be uneasy about measures taken by the new congress if they understand that these actions are to be performed with deliberation and approved by a President who has had several months to accustom himself to his responsibilities. Therefore, the special session may not be convened until September, Senator Lewis said. The first regular session of the new congress is scheduled for December, 1933.

In the short session of the present congress, which begins next month, the Democrats will propose the modification of the Volstead act to permit the immediate manufacture and sale of beer, Senator Lewis predicted. He believes that President Hoover will veto any proposal to legalize beer as long as the 18th amendment is in effect and he doubts that the present congress has sufficient wet strength to pass the measure over the veto.

Simple Majority Needed.

After Roosevelt is inaugurated in March there will be no danger that the efforts of the wets in congress will be blocked by the chief executive Senator Lewis said. Therefore a simple majority will sufice to bring about the modification of the Volstead act.

However, the new congress is expected to do more than that, the senator said. He predicted that as soon as it convenes there will be a proposal to repeal the 18th amendment, which would require the approval of two-thirds of congress and ratification by three-fourths of the states. He said that there would be a sufficient wet strength in the new congress to muster the necessary two-thirds.

Senator Lewis then took up the question of the tariff, explaining that the Democratic attitude in this matter will be governed largely by the outcome of the international trade conference, which is to be held some time next spring, probably in London. If European nations persist in imposing high duties on American goods it will be necessary for this country to maintain a proportionate level, the senator pointed out.

The question of agriculture and relief in general will be affected by the outcome of this trade conference, Senator Lewis said.

Jury Gives Woman $20,000 Damages for "L" Accident

A jury in the court of Superior Judge Marcus Kavanagh yesterday awarded damages of $20,000 to Mrs. Kate Kreegan, 55 years old, 2149 Osgood street, for an injury to her hip suffered last Jan. 8, when she fell on the platform of a Chicago Rapid Transit company station at Thornton avenue. During the trial it was shown that Mrs. Kreegan was thrown off her feet when a pneumatic door on a train from which she was alighting was prematurely closed.

FOREIGN DEBTS MADE PROBLEM BY CHANGE OF ADMINISTRATION

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—President Hoover, in the opinion of many members of his official family, will invite President Elect Franklin D. Roosevelt to come to Washington some time during the next three months to consider the war debt question and other international problems which may come to a head before the Republican administration is retired.

In this connection attention was called today to the fact that in the past President Hoover repeatedly has called Democratic as well as Republican senators into conference when confronted with international problems where acquiescence by congress is necessary to the successful carrying out of a program. This procedure was followed by the President in the case of the German moratorium and a number of his national relief projects.

All indications today are that the European powers who owe this country an aggregate of eleven billion dollars in unpaid world war and post-war obligations will take diplomatic steps within the near future to have these debt payments modified. State department and treasury officials anticipate that Great Britain, France, and the other war debtor powers will begin diplomatic negotiations on the war debts prior to the ending of the Hoover administration.

Some doubt exists as to whether President Elect Roosevelt would accept an invitation to come to Washington to consider the war debt or other international problems in advance of his taking office. Old timers said today that at the end of the Taft administration President Elect Wilson declined an invitation to confer with President Taft and state department officials on the Mexican situation, then acute.

Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson said today he would be glad to do anything he could to make smooth the transition period in foreign relations.

MAINE RETURNS TO G. O. P. FOLD; STATE TO HOOVER

Portland, Me., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Maine was her old rock-ribbed Republican self once more today following her primary day fling with the Democrats. Almost complete returns from yesterday's presidential election show the electorate of the state had erased the "blot" of their primary relapse by giving President Hoover and the ticket headed by him a plurality of 27,000 votes.

Only one of the state's 16 counties was content to remain in the Democratic column. This was Androscoggin, home of the Democratic governor-elect Louis J. Brann which gave Roosevelt a plurality of about 4,000. Four years ago every county in the state went Republican in the national election giving Hoover 179,923 votes to the 81,179 cast for Alfred E. Smith.

Late returns show that the 1928 G. O. P. vote was reduced substantially all down the line. This was a source of no little gratification to the Democrats and served to take some of the sting out of their defeat after the hopes raised in their breasts by the success of the Brann ticket last September.

St. Lawrence Waterway Hearings Begin Monday

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Chairman William E. Borah [radical Rep., Idaho] of the senate foreign relations committee today announced that the scheduled hearings on the St. Lawrence waterway would not begin until next Monday. He indicated that the hearings would be concluded before the short session of congress begins in December.

Hoover to Start Saturday on Trip Back to Capital

BY JOHN HERRICK.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Palo Alto, Cal., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—President Hoover expects to leave his home here next Saturday evening and be back in Washington some time next Wednesday.

The President made this announcement today at a conference with the newspaper men who have toured with him on the campaign trips which ended yesterday.

Advisers close to the President and understood to be speaking for him characterized as "absurd" and "silly" reports that he would resign. Rumors have been afloat that the President might cede his place to President Elect Roosevelt by securing the resignations of Vice President Curtis and Secretary of State Stimson, then appointing Gov. Roosevelt in Mr. Stimson's place, in which case if he resigned the governor would succeed to the presidency.

Will Live in California.

For anything other than the immediate future Mr. Hoover said he had no plans. Except this—that he would not remain in Washington, as do so many ex-officials who have been retired from active public life by the voting public. He intends to come back to California and the Hilltop house in the faculty section of Leland Stanford university.

But as to what he will do to occupy himself after fourteen years of public service he had not yet taken thought.

Tension Is Relieved.

The President's appearance set at rest early morning rumors that the overwhelming defeat of the Republican ticket, piled atop more than a month of tense campaigning, had sent him to a sick bed.

He strolled into the living room of the home, a hand characteristically stuck in the pocket of a dark blue suit. Though somewhat pale and lined, his face showed fewer signs of strain than on yesterday. Smiling, he admitted that for the first time in months he had slept late into the morning and had had "a delightful night's rest."

He said that he had had a pleasant acknowledgment of last night's telegram of congratulation to Gov. Roosevelt, but he did not give out the text of the message from his successful rival.

Still smiling, he said that he had no news other than to give out the plans for his return. The announcement disposed of the proposal, which had been seriously considered, that the journey back to Washington would be made by battleship through the Panama canal.

Budget on His Mind.

The budget is doubtless the most important of the government matters, calling the President to Washington earlier than would be possible by a return by sea. The bulky list of the department demands for the next fiscal year must be approved and in the printer's hands very soon in order to be ready for the convening of congress on Dec. 5.

The special train on which the presidential party came to California, having been sent to San Francisco for inspection and a thorough house cleaning, will be ready to start about 10 o'clock next Saturday night. The route is expected to be via the Southern Pacific to Los Angeles, then via the Santa Fé to Kansas City and Chicago, then on the B. & O. to Washington.

Next Wednesday morning should see the President back at the capital. President Hoover was pleased at the flood of telegrams which have been pouring in upon him.

"I have received literally thousands of telegrams," he said. "They are fine in tenor and especially expressive of the determination of the Republican party to put in four years of constructive work."

Girl Is Accidentally Hit by Knife at Dance

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—The feature event of a dance tonight at Miller's hall, West State and North 8th streets, sent one of the girl dancers to the hospital. Dozens of balloons were released at 10:30 p. m., and the dancers tried to break or capture them. One of the men pulled out a knife and was jabbing at the balloons. Gladys Mead, 18, of 2511 West Highland avenue, put her hand toward a balloon at the same time he struck at it. The knife went through her hand. She war taken to County Emergency hospital.

Throughout Illinois yesterday the Democrats celebrated two achievements in Tuesday's election which set new high marks of accomplishment for the party in the state.

They helped elect a Democratic President by giving him an estimated plurality of 426,240 in Illinois and were victorious in all contests for state offices. And, for the first time, they will have both United States senators, the governorship, a majority of the congressional delegation, and control of both houses of the general assembly.

Reverse Normal Tide.

The Democrats also pointed out that they had almost completely reversed the normal tide of victory by carrying almost three-fourths of the counties in the state, a feat seldom accomplished by the party in Illinois.

In 1928 President Hoover carried 91 of the 102 counties in the state, including Cook county. Tuesday Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt carried 76 counties, including Cook, with the outcome in eight counties still in doubt. In 1924 Coolidge carried 88 counties, and the final figures will show Roosevelt close to that mark.

There is the same contrast on the governorship. In 1924 Len Small carried 70 counties. In 1928 Gov. Emmerson carried 81 counties. On Tuesday Judge Henry Horner, the Democratic victor, carried 67 and the result in nine is still in doubt.

Several Hundred Precincts Missing.

There are no material changes in the results of the state-wide battles as the result of delayed figures received yesterday. There are still seven Cook county precincts missing in the unofficial returns and several hundred downstate precincts have failed to report for various offices.

Judge Horner continued to hold his place as top man both in point of total vote and of plurality. His lead over Gov. Roosevelt, however, was cut down slightly from previous estimates.

The latest analysis estimates the Horner total vote as 1,851,639 and the Horner plurality as 541,789. It is estimated that Roosevelt's vote in the state was 1,825,157 and his plurality 426,240.

Vote in Cook County.

Judge Horner apparently received 53.57 per cent of the vote cast by the two major parties, and Roosevelt received 56.61 per cent of it. In Cook county Horner received 63.59 per cent of the Democratic and Republican vote and Roosevelt was accorded 57.42 per cent of that vote. Roosevelt led downstate by 55.81 per cent to Horner's 53.57 per cent.

Post-election comment continued to include a study of the vote received by Senator Otis F. Glenn in spite of two handicaps—the fact that the Small element in the state scratched him in many downstate and Chicago wards and the fact that thousands of voters who marked for the presidency and the governorship, upon which attention was concentrated, overlooked marking for the senatorship, which was between the two on the ballot.

Exceeds Hoover Vote.

Glenn showed unusual strength, and this was ascribed to special support he received on his record at Washington, particularly on prohibition and governmental economy. He was commended for this repeatedly and his total exceeded that of Hoover as a result.

The rivals for the senatorship ran in about the same ratio in Cook county as they did downstate, but Glenn carried the Cook county suburbs of Chicago by 136,640 to Dieterich's 107,501. This was a much better showing than President Hoover made in this area.

Third honors in the state plurality column went to the youngest candidate in this field, Edward J. Barrett, who was elected state auditor.

ELECTION BEARS OUT BETTING ODDS ON PRESIDENCY

50 Yr. Records Prove Gamblers Right.

Election results the nation over on Tuesday proved that gamblers in Wall street and other speculative centers made no mistake in establishing Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt as a 6 to 1 favorite to defeat President Hoover.

Search of the records shows that in the last fifty years the favorite candidate in what would be "final readings" at the race track has invariably won.

In the closest election of modern times, that of 1916, the odds quoted just before the ballots were cast were even. In that race President Wilson defeated Hughes with 277 electoral votes to 254. A change of only 12 electoral votes would have defeated Wilson.

Cleveland Favorite in 1884.

Another close contest was that of 1884 when Cleveland won over Blaine, 219 to 182. Final odds in that race were 11 to 10, with Cleveland the favorite. Harrison was a 5 to 4 favorite over Cleveland in 1888 and won. Cleveland was a 6 to 5 favorite in 1892 and defeated Harrison. The only complaint that could be made of the betting odds as indications of the result in these three elections would be that they were not long enough.

In 1896, although Bryan started out as a slight favorite over McKinley, the final quotations were 3 to 1, with McKinley favored. The 1900 election saw McKinley a 4 to 1 favorite over Bryan, and in 1904, when Theodore Roosevelt collected 336 electoral votes to Alton B. Parker's 140, the bettors quoted 5 to 1 as the odds against Parker.

Taft 8 to 1 Favorite.

Coming down to 1908, Taft was 8 to 1 to defeat Bryan. Wilson, in a three cornered race, was 4 to 1 in 1912. The odds in 1920, when Harding won over Cox, were 6 to 1. In 1928 the odds were 5 to 1, with Hoover the favorite. If anything is proved in regard to betting and voting in 1932 it is that the 6 to 1 odds quoted on Sunday and Monday were not quite long enough to represent what the Democratic victory would be.

OFFICES IN NEARBY COUNTIES WON BY G. O. P. CANDIDATES

The traditionally Republican counties bordering Cook county appeared yesterday to have given local Republican candidates a safe lead while joining the Democratic landslide in the national and state election.

Lake county voters, who have not elected a Democratic candidate to county office since 1892, defeated Edward W. McDermott, Democratic candidate for county auditor, by only 287 votes, according to complete returns. McDermott, who led until the last five precincts were counted, was beaten by Robert J. Pearsall, Republican, by 21,799 votes to 21,392.

Returns from 70 of the 75 precincts in the county revealed a clean sweep for the other Republican candidates for county office. Charles E. Mason, Republican, received 24,375 votes to 17,464 votes for William A. Deane, Democrat, for state's attorney.

Similarly in Kane county, State's Attorney George D. Carbary, Republican incumbent, was assured reëlection over his Democratic opponent, Clarence J. Rudy, of Aurora, the final returns giving Carbary 28,182 votes to 26,500 for Ruddy. All other Republican candidates won.

Reports from most of the 78 precincts in Du Page county indicated that all the Republican candidates for county office were reëlected, including State's Attorney C. W. Reed.

Virgin Islands Jubilant Over Roosevelt Victory

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ST. THOMAS, Virgin Islands, Nov. 9.—Inhabitants of the Virgin islands are jubilant over the election of Gov. Roosevelt and anticipate a complete change of administration here which will be for the benefit of the islands. Political factions in St. Thomas and St. Croix believe that the turning point in the future of the islands has arrived and that prosperity is ahead. An invitation to visit the Virgin islands will be extended to President Elect Roosevelt.

Coal Will Travel by Air to Pay Slemp's Losing Bet

New York, Nov. 9.—(AP)—C. Bascom Slemp, secretary to Calvin Coolidge when the latter was President, must pay an election bet by transporting a ton of coal from Scranton, Pa., to Washington in five hours. Slemp bet on Hoover with John F. Costello of Washington, chairman of the Democratic central committee. The coal will be taken by truck to Philadelphia and from there to Washington by air on Friday.

Costa Rica Renounces 1923 Peace Treaty as "No Good"

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Nov. 9.—(AP)—President Ricardo Jiminez announced today that Costa Rica will renounce the Central American treaty of peace and friendship signed in Washington in 1923 "because the government considers the treaty fruitless and productive of embarrassing situations."

DR. A. Z. CONRAD, 76, BOSTON PASTOR, WEDS; BRIDE IS 27

Medford, Mass., Nov. 9.—(AP)—The Rev. A. Z. Conrad, pastor of the Park Street Congregational church, Boston, and Miss Jean Livingston of Medford, were married late today at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Livingston.

Dr. Conrad, former president of the Prohibition Loyalty league, and a noted prohibitionist, is 76. His bride gave her age on the marriage license as 27. She is an organist and was a friend of Dr. Conrad's first wife.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Dr. Conrad's brother, the Rev. W. O. Conrad, pastor of the Congregational church at Georgetown.

Belcastro Wins Delays in 2 Dry Law Cases

Rocco "Crazy Rocky" Belcastro was arraigned in two courts yesterday on charges of liquor law violation and gained a continuance in each. He was released in bonds of $1,000 and his hearing set for Nov. 16 after he was arraigned before United States Commissioner Walker on charges of prohibition violation. A hearing on charges of possessing liquor was continued to Dec. 2 by Judge Freeman L. Fairbank in the State street court. Belcastro lives at 2511 West Chicago avenue.

DIES OF POISONING.

John A. Rukas, 25 years old, of 3036 West 42d street, died yesterday in the county hospital of poisoning.

WISCONSIN GOES TO ROOSEVELT BY 340,000 VOTE

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Gov. Roosevelt carried Republican Wisconsin by a landslide majority of approximately 340,000 votes over President Hoover and swept into office virtually an entire Democratic state administration, it was disclosed tonight by nearly complete returns.

With all but 81 of the state's 2,399 precincts reported the presidential vote stood: Hoover, 337,612; Roosevelt, 680,752.

For the governorship A. G. Schmedeman, Democratic mayor of Madison, defeated former Gov. Walter J. Kohler, Republican, by 103,944 in 2,778 precincts.

John B. Chapple, militant Republican editor of Ashland, was defeated by F. Ryan Duffy, Fond du Lac Democrat, by more than 200,000 votes, closing returns indicated.

The Democratic state ticket, including lieutenant governor, attorney general, and state treasurer, appeared to have won decisively. Secretary of state Theodore Dammann, Progressive Republican and only survivor of the landslide, was reëlected.

In the congressional elections, with ten seats to be filled, the Democrats and Republicans elected four each and two remained in doubt.

Berwyn Votes $200,000 Bonds to Pay Employes

Berwyn voters approved the $200,000 bond issue to be used for payment of back salaries to city employés and other civic debts by an estimated margin of 2,500 votes. "Since the bond issue has been approved," Albert Novotny, city controller, said yesterday, "the taxpayers have 20 years to repay the money on their tax bills. Had they defeated the issue, they would have had the entire $200,000 on the 1933 tax levy, an increase of 80 per cent."

FIERCE GALE BATTERS NEW JERSEY COAST; LASTS INTO NIGHT

New York, Nov. 9.—[Special.]—A fierce gale, raging more than 55 miles an hour, battered the New York and New Jersey coast all day and tonight. It endangered a family of ten on a leaky houseboat, caused widespread property damage, delayed shipping and forced abandonment of a coast guard station. The storm continued with unabated fury late tonight.

The gale was accompanied by unusually high tides that flooded four railroad tracks in the Erie terminal in Jersey City at the height of the rush hour this evening. Cellars of private residences, yacht clubs and unoccupied summer bungalows on Staten Island, Long Island and in Westchester county also suffered. One summer bungalow at Rockaway Point was swept out to sea.

For three hours a leaking houseboat, used as a home by Charles Allen, a crippled musician, his wife, seven children and a daughter-in-law, drifted helplessly after being torn from its moorings in the harbor of New Rochelle. Waves 20 feet high prevented rescuers from putting out to it. Finally the craft was pulled to land.

Steamer in Peril.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Coast guard headquarters is advised that the British steamer Ingola, bound from Montevideo to New York, is helpless in a hurricane 245 miles east of Andros island. The vessel's S O S said it had lost its rudder.

BLAME EXPOSURE FOR DEATH.

The body of an unidentified man about 40 years old was found yesterday in a vacant lot at 7413 West 61st place, Summit. Death apparently was due to exposure.

G. O. P. IS BEREFT OF PATRONAGE BY FOES' LANDSLIDE

Democrats Get Monopoly of County Offices.

As a result of the complete sweep of the Democratic county slate in the election on Tuesday Republican leaders found themselves bankrupt of patronage as they turned their attention yesterday to the task of rebuilding their shattered organization. Never in Chicago history has one party possessed the monopoly of power which the Democrats have won.

With one exception, the election gave the Democrats control of every large governing and tax spending body in Chicago and—with the exception of suburban municipalities—in Cook county. The Chicago exception is the school board, where six holdover trustees retain control as an unliquidated survival of the former Republican city hall administration. On May 1, however, Mayor Cermak will appoint successors to three of the six, giving his appointees control of the schools.

Get Park Board Patronage.

When the Democratic victors take office on Dec. 5 party control will change in the offices of the state's attorney, clerk of the Circuit court, clerk of the first district Appelate court, and county surveyor. More important from the point of patronage, however, is the fact that Judge Henry Horner's election as governor gives his party control of the Lincoln and west park boards, whose members are named by the governor.

State's Attorney Elect Courtney will find at his disposal about 200 jobs, among which are the relatively high salaried posts of assistant state's attorneys. John E. Conroy, elected clerk of the Circuit court, will find about 65 jobs open to his appointments.

The office of Appellate court clerk has only eight employés, but Ald. Sheldon W. Govier, Democratic winner of the post, will find himself in possession of considerable power because of the manner in which the office operates. It is unique among court clerks' jobs in Chicago in that it is the only office in which the holder receives all the fees paid by litigants. These fees, out of which the expenses of the office are paid, are said to approximate $100,000 a year.

Appropriation Only $300.

Henry Riedl, elected county surveyor, has virtually an honorary post. He has no patronage and the county board appropriation for the office this year was only $300.

The Lincoln and west park boards, however, have even in these lean times patronage power over more than 1,100 jobs. The Lincoln park board has 793 employés on its rolls now, of whom between 350 and 400 will be safe under a change of administration because of their civil service status.

Charles J. MacGowan, superintendent of employment in the west park system, said yesterday that the board now has 700 civil service employés and between 450 and 500 temporary employés, who are political appointees. Last spring, however, when the park pay rolls swelled as a result of the primary campaign the board is understood to have had 1,700 employés, of whom 1,000 were temporary political pay rollers.

Few Republican Survivors.

A still more vivid picture of the Democratic power in the county is given by calling the roll of the surviving Republican office holders. The only major job in the lot is that of City Treasurer James A. Kearns. He, however, has only a handful of jobs at his disposal, practically all of his employés being under civil service.

With the exception of his office, the Democrats control the city hall and all city institutions except the schools. They control the south park board. Howard W. Elmore is the only Republican trustee on the sanitary board, and his Democratic colleagues took his patronage away from him months ago.

The Democrats hold 13 of the 15 county commissionerships. Commissioners William Busse and George Miller, the Republicans, are understood, however, to have a number of jobs at their disposal in the county and forest preserve district.

There are about 300 temporary jobs in the school system open to political appointment. The Republican trustees control a majority of these. Republican aldermen also control some jobs in the city hall, principally in connection with council committees which they head.

Brooks Makes Best Race.

In searching election returns yesterday for potential vote getters in future contests, Republicans discovered that Assistant State's Attorney C. Wayland Brooks, their nominee for state treasurer, had made the best race of any one on their slate in Cook county.

The Democratic victor, John C. Martin, led him by 67,896 votes in the county. Mr. Brooks polled nearly 24,000 more votes in the county than did President Hoover, and he led Len Small, who set the low for the Republican ticket in the county, by more than 250,000 votes.

The only other Republican candidates who kept within 100,000 votes of their Democratic opponents in the county were Senator Otis F. Glenn, whom William H. Dieterich led by 91,027 votes, and William J. Stratton, who lost the county to Edward J. Hughes in the contest for secretary of state by 73,313 votes.

On the county ticket, Thomas J. Courtney scored the largest plurality, 316,594 votes over State's Attorney Swanson. Recorder Clayton F. Smith led John H. Passmore, in past campaigns a great vote gatherer, by 299,638. Both Courtney and Smith exceeded Gov. Roosevelt's 238,101 lead over President Hoover, but fell far short of the 428,573 vote lead which Cook county voters gave Judge Horner over Small.

City and Cook County Vote

WETS CAPTURE 24 OF ILLINOIS' CONGRESS SEATS

Fred Britten and De Priest Forge to Victory.

Late returns yesterday gave victory to four Republican congressmen of Illinois who were apparently defeated in the early stages of the ballot counting. They are Oscar De Priest of the 1st district, the only colored member of congress; Fred Britten, veteran representative of the 9th district; Frank R. Reid, of the 11th district, another veteran who has been a consistent dry, and John T. Buckbee, of the 12th district, a former dry who became an advocate of repeal. De Priest and Britten are wets.

The strong finish of these four gives the Illinois delegation this lineup as indicated by nearly complete returns: 20 Democrats and 7 Republicans; 24 wets and 3 drys. Two years ago the lineup was 14 Democrats and 13 Republicans; 12 wets and 15 drys.

The three elected congressman who had the indorsement of the Anti-Saloon league are: Reid; Leo E. Allen, Republican, 13th district; and Claude V. Parsons, Democrat, 24th district.

De Priest Defeats Baker.

De Priest, in the 1st district, defeated Harry Baker, who has been his opponent three times and who maintained a large lead until the last of the colored precincts reported. Britten, who under the Republican organization of congress was chairman of the naval affairs committee, made a strong finish and defeated James McAndrews, a former congressman.

The 10th district furnished a close contest with Charles H. Weber, Democrat, the apparent victor on nearly complete returns. James Simpson Jr. the Republican candidate, had expected to overcome his opponent's lead by the vote of Lake county, but it failed to give him enough.

Other Close Contests.

ELEVENTH DISTRICT.	Reid [R.].	Howell [D.].
Kane	28,381	26,636
McHenry	9,052	8,214
Du Page [2 precincts missing]	20,651	20,165
Will [1 precinct missing]	22,793	24,793
Totals	81,077	79,808

TWELFTH DISTRICT.	Buckbee [R.].	Linscott [D.].
Winnebago [8 precincts missing]	4,103	2,474
City of Rockford	15,337	15,190
La Salle	19,943	22,643
De Kalb	9,694	5,817
Grundy	4,724	4,027

Congress at Large Results.

The two Democratic candidates for congressmen at large, Martin A. Brennan of Bloomington and Walter Nesbit of Belleville, were elected by large margins over their Republican opponents, Julius Klein of Chicago and Richard Yates of Springfield. Out of 7,211 precincts in Illinois returns from 5,869 gave:

Tenth district—435 out of 442 precincts in Cook county gave Weber [D.], 81,644; Simpson [R.], 79,518; Church [Ind.], 34,674. Seventy out of 75 precincts in Lake county game Weber [D.], 16,419; Simpson [R.], 17,652; Church [Ind.], 6,507. With 12 precincts missing the count stood: Weber, 98,063; Simpson, 97,170; Church, 41,244.

Dist.		Dist.
11.	F. R. Reid [R.]	19.	D. C. Dobbins [D.]
12.	J.T.Buckbee [R.]	20.	H. T. Rainey [D.]
13.	Leo E. Allen [R.]	21.	J. E. Major [D.]
14.	C. Thompson [D.]	22.	E.M.Schaefer [D.]
15.	J. L. Adair [D.]	23.	W. W. Arnold [D.]
16.	E. M. Dirksen [R.]	24.	C. V. Parsons [D.]
17.	F. Gillespie [D.]	25.	K. E. Keller [D.]
18.	J. A. Meeks [D.]

Schaefer, the winner in the 22d district, was named as the Democratic candidate two days before election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Congressman Charles A. Karch, and stickers were attached to the ballot so that voters could mark for him. With two days' notice, he was elected.

Congressman Henry T. Rainey, the present majority leader in the national house of representatives and a potential candidate for speaker, was among those who won easily. He was formerly a dry but recently became an advocate of repeal.

WADSWORTH AND BECK SURVIVORS OF PARTY UPSET

Several Congress Leaders Stave Off Defeat.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Notwithstanding the Democratic landslide that swept the Republican party out of power, several Republican standbys in the senate and house survived the storm. Most of this group, which included Representative James M. Beck [Rep., Pa.] and former Senator James Wadsworth [Rep., N. Y.], newly elected representative from New York, were wets.

JAMES WADSWORTH

Among those who will be returned to congress notwithstanding the big mortality rate among their colleagues include Representative Bertrand H. Snell [Rep., N. Y.], house Republican floor leader; Representative Fred A. Britten [Rep., Ill.], ranking minority member of the naval affairs committee, and one of the leading house wets, and Representative Isaac Bacharach [Rep., N. J.], one of the wet leaders.

Simmons Reelected.

Another member of the house returned to Washington was Representative Robert G. Simmons [Rep., Neb.], one of the Republican leaders who fought for adoption of an economy bill at the last session of congress.

Representative Burton L. French [Idaho], a veteran of almost thirty years' experience in the house, was another Republican leader to survive. He is chairman of the naval subcommittee of the house appropriations committee.

Among other Republicans of considerable legislative experience who were reelected were Representatives Roy O. Woodruff [Mich.], Earl C. Michener [Mich.], and Carl E. Mapes [Mich.], and A. Platt Andrew [Mass.], a veteran of ten years' house experience.

Massachusetts, one of the states found in the Roosevelt column this morning, returned two Republican stalwarts to the house of representatives in the persons of George Holden Tinkham, arch foe of the Anti-Saloon league and Bishop Cannon, and William P. Connery. Both are staunch supporters of wet legislation. Among New York Republican survivors were Representative Robert L. Bacon, Hamilton Fish, and Frank Crowther.

Beck Constitutional Expert.

Representative Beck has long been a familiar figure in Washington. Prior to his entering the house from Pennsylvania he served as solicitor general during the Coolidge administration. From the time he was elected to the house a few years ago he has taken the leadership in the fight to eliminate the 18th amendment from the constitution. He is regarded as one of the ablest constitutional lawyers in congress.

Former Senator Wadsworth of New York was one of the pioneers in the fight to abolish national prohibition. While in the senate he was one of the army and navy's staunchest supporters in the fight for an adequate national defense. He was defeated as senator when the drys voted against him and elected a Democrat rather than permit his continuance in the senate. He served in the senate from 1915 to 1927.

Boy Burglar Caught as Bullet Punctures Pants

Lawrence Schupolsky, 2431 North Springfield avenue, a private watchman, came upon two youths early yesterday as they were forcing their way into the Aikin dress shop, 1731 West Chicago avenue. He fired two shots as they fled. When a bullet passed through the trousers of one of the pair, Frank Krewitzyk, 17 years old, 1901 West Superior street, he surrendered. Schupolsky, a son of Sergt. Schupolsky of the detective bureau, is one of the candidates for the police force who recently passed the civil service examinations.

Accidentally Wounded While at Target Practice

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Sylvester Kusta, 22, of 1809 South 25th street, was accidentally wounded late today, while engaged in target practice in the basement of his home. Kusta was replacing the target when a 22 caliber rifle in the hands of a friend was discharged. The bullet entered his left arm. He was treated at the County Emeregency hospital.

SEE GATEWAY AMENDMENT BEATEN IN VOTE

Although the fate of the "gateway" amendment was in doubt last night, it appeared from the incomplete returns that the amendment had been beaten. In 4,441 precincts out of the 7,211 in the state the amendment was approved by 666,937 voters. A projection of that vote would give the amendment a total vote of 1,091,861, which is about 500,000 votes short of the required majority of the total vote cast in the election. The total vote is gauged by the number of names written in the poll books on election day.

The amendment, if approved, would permit the submission of as many as three constitutional amendments, instead of one, as at present, at a session of the general assembly and to the voters for approval at future elections. Critics claimed that panaceas might creep into statutes by way of this easier path to constitutional amendment.

Incomplete returns showed that the $20,000,000 bond issue to redeem out of the gasoline tax the state tax anticipation warrants sold recently for unemployment relief had already received a majority of votes cast for members of the general assembly, as the law requires. In 4,693 precincts the proposition had received 1,648,250 favorable votes.

The banking act amendment, which needed only a majority of the votes cast on the proposition to pass, apparently had been approved. In 4,342 precincts the vote on it was: For, 737,300; against, 109,288. The amendment to the Municipal court act was approved by a vote of 699,789 to 177,218.

Evanston Police Chief Recovers His Stolen Car

Police Chief William O. Freeman of Evanston yesterday recovered his automobile which was stolen Tuesday evening from Clark street near the Hotel Sherman, where he was listening to election returns. Policemen Raymond Sullivan and Arthur Conley found the car abandoned in front of 604 Cornell street.

MAURICE L ROTHSCHILD

MINNEAPOLIS — State at Jackson CHICAGO — ST. PAUL

NATION ANXIOUS TO HEAR PLAN OF NEXT PRESIDENT

Roosevelt Has Piled Up Greatest Victory.

mind. He is said to be fully aware of the desirability of reassuring the business world that he is not bent upon embarking on radical ventures and that the fiscal policies of his administration particularly will be in the keeping of conservatives.

Te attitude of business leaders was reflected in a statement issued by Alfred P. Sloan Jr., head of General Motors, who stressed "the prime importance and helpfulness" of the earliest possible disclosure by the President elect of the course he intends to pursue in connection with pending public questions and of an announcement that uppermost in Mr. Sloan's mind were the prospective Roosevelt fiscal policies and his selection for the secretary of the treasury.

May Announce Cabinet.

There appears to be reason to believe that Gov. Roosevelt, in response to such urgings to dissipate uneasiness in the business world, may announce at an early date his choice for some, if not all, of the places in his cabinet. It is considered not unlikely that he will make known in a short time his selection for secretary of the treasury, who, according to those closest to the President elect, will be a conservative in whom the business community has confidence.

Among those said to be under consideration for secretary of the treasury are Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National Bank of Chicago; Owen D. Young, Bernard Baruch, Senator Carter Glass and Alfred E. Smith.

For secretary of state speculation is busy with the names of John W. Davis, Norman H. Davis, and Newton D. Baker.

Walsh as Attorney General.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana is one of those said to be under consideration for attorney general. Others are Prof. Felix Frankfurter of Harvard and Arthur Mullen of Nebraska.

Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, Senator John S. Cohen and Clark Howell of Georgia and Josephus Daniels of North Carolina are some of the suggestions for secretary of the navy.

Newton D. Baker is slated for a cabinet post if he will accept one and if not given the state portfolio he might be found in his old place of secretary of war.

Gov. George Dern of Utah is a possible selection for secretary of the interior and Democratic National Chairman James Farley unquestionably has the refusal of the chief patronage dispensing office of postmaster general.

Norris May Get Place.

For secretary of agriculture the suggestions are former Gov. Harry Byrd of Virginia, Robert Marks and Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, the radical nominal Republican, who shepherded the Republican "sons of the wild jackass" into the Roosevelt fold in the recent campaign.

Frederick A. Gardner has been put forward for secretary of commerce, although another suggestion is that Al Smith might take this post.

The President elect has intimated on more than one occasion that he contemplated the appointment of a woman to his cabinet and as a result there has been much speculation on the possibility of a feminine secretary of labor under whose jurisdiction are the children's bureau and the women's bureau. Miss Frances Perkins, New York's labor commissioner, or Mrs. John C. Greenway might be given this place.

Other Possibilities.

Other cabinet possibilities are Robert Jackson, Democratic national committeeman for New Hampshire; Richard Washburn Child, Harding's ambassador to Italy who headed the Republicans for Roosevelt league; Joseph P. Kennedy, Boston financier, and Bruce Kremer, Montana national committeeman.

As to policies business men are interested in knowing whether there is to be an extraordinary session of the new congress next spring to revise the tariff. Business customarily regards tariff revision, particularly by the Democrats, as a cause for uneasiness. Not knowing to what extent, if any, the tariff protection of various industries is to be continued, business usually marks time pending the completion of the operation.

That was one reason for the Republican argument that if the Democrats were returned to power the revival of business would be discouraged pending a determination of tariff schedules.

That there will be an extra session soon after March 4 is regarded as a foregone conclusion. Gov. Roosevelt in one of his campaign speeches gave such assurance to those who are seeking expeditious action toward the repeal of the eighteenth amendment. Even in the remote event of such action being taken at the approaching December session of the Seventy-second congress an extra session of the Seventy-third congress would be required for the early redemption of the party's tariff pledges.

Agricultural Stand Known.

The only assurance so far given by Gov. Roosevelt with respect to tariff revision is that he does not purpose to destroy the tariff protection of American farmers and workingmen. The inference to be drawn is that in his view the tariff can be reduced to some extent and reciprocal tariffs negotiated without destroying such protection.

There will be abundant occasion for the President elect to exercise his newly conferred leadership during the December session of congress, although he will not be due to take office till its expiration on March 4. There are numerous Democratic platform pledges which it would be possible to redeem at this session if Democratic senators and congressmen should discharge these obligations unitedly.

Take for example the Democratic promise of a 25 per cent reduction in the cost of the federal government. Much of that reduction could be accomplished at the winter session, when the budget for the 1934 fiscal year will be voted, if the Democrats in both houses comply with their party mandate. It may require pressure by the President elect and Speaker Garner, the Vice President elect, to obtain anywhere near 100 per cent of such compliance.

Then there is prohibition reform. If campaign platforms mean anything there is no good reason that the disestablishment of national prohibition should not be submitted by congress at the approaching session.

Of course in the Seventy-third congress, of which the Democrats will have overwhelming control in both branches, there will be no excuse for the failure of the Democrats to fulfill their promises with respect to prohibition reform, reduction of federal expenditures, the tariff, farm relief, etc.

Editorial Comment of Nation's Papers on Victory of Roosevelt in Election

Editorial comment on the election by newspapers in various sections of the country follows:

ATLANTA CONSTITUTION—"As in 1912 the nation has turned from a condition of rundown governmental efficiency, resulting from more than a decade of Republican control, in the hope that now, as was the case with the Wilson administration, a vigorous, progressive and united Democracy may lead to an era of better times."

CLEVELAND NEWS—"No one doubts that from the councils of the Democratic party will emerge great leadership, men skilled in statecraft, finance, industry, and public service. . . . The party of Newton D. Baker, Owen D. Young, and John J. Raskob should be ready for the task before it."

DENVER POST—"The majority of the American people voted for a Democratic administration and booze. The depression grouch and resentment against prohibition beat President Hoover. Deep down in their hearts the overwhelming majority of American voters know he is utterly blameless for the hard times with which the United States and every nation have been afflicted."

DES MOINES REGISTER—"The Register takes back nothing of its criticisms of the indefiniteness of what the governor chose to call, for campaign purposes, his 'farm program.' It will await, hopefully, the translating of that general pledge into definite and practical action."

DETROIT FREE PRESS—"The overwhelming triumph of Gov. Roosevelt and Speaker Garner, the election of a Democratic congress and the consequences that have followed in the states in the train of those events were all results of a profound, nation-wide demand for change and new things that had little to do with the men, party records, party policies or party alignments. . . . The belief among millions that the coming of a better and brighter day has been hastened by the political upheaval of Tuesday should itself help the sun to rise on that day."

INDIANAPOLIS STAR—"Now that the people have decided who is to be intrusted with leadership, it is the duty of all to put a shoulder to the wheel and help."

KANSAS CITY STAR.—"The congress that meets next month will have the opportunity to pave the way for a successful administration. At the last session it authorized President Hoover to propose plans of consolidation of bureaus in the interest of the economy. These plans should be carried out and a long start made in the 25 per cent reduction in governmental expenditures, pledged by the President elect. Here will be real relief for business and for the whole country."

LINCOLN JOURNAL—"President Hoover fought a good fight. He went down with colors flying, with his face to the enemy, with every ounce of his energy and all of his resourcefulness employed. History will place Mr. Hoover properly."

LOS ANGELES TIMES.—"As for Gov. Roosevelt, he is not of genuinely radical tendencies; all his training and association must bend him in the other direction. He has carefully refrained from the specific, and has allowed double inferences to be taken as to his views on many public questions. He became more conservative as the campaign progressed. Now that he has been elected, this lack of definiteness will prove of considerable advantage to him, since it will enable him to choose policies, methods and men that may considerably disappoint his radical following, indeed, but which may conduce to the good of the nation."

MILWAUKEE JOURNAL—"Ballots have given an answer to the attempt to scare the American people with pictures of worse things. Ballots have given the answer to the attempt to coerce employés. The country is safer because of the result."

NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE—"Much as we regret Mr. Hoover's defeat we are glad to see a New Yorker again in the White House, and especially a New Yorker bearing a name that is a symbol of stanch Americanism the country over. We can think of no better wish to make for the governor than that he may live up to it."

NEW YORK POST—"It is evident to all of us that through these last three years the democracy had made up its mind that it would not stand for the conditions under which it has had to live. . . . But they could and did use the regimented instrument of the American system to express one plain mandate at the polls."

NEW YORK TIMES—"There can be no mistaking the determination of the American electorate to order a change in their government and in its policies. It seems probable now that any respectable Democrat nominated for the presidency this year would have been the beneficiary of the discontent and desire for a new political order which had spread over the whole country."

NEW YORK SUN—"Fate decreed the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt. It is impossible to quarrel with fate. But it is possible to quarrel with a man who takes the decree of fate as a personal compliment, who believes that the policies which he declared during the campaign were responsible for his success and who convinces himself that he was elected by a positive vote when the truth of the matter is that his opponent was defeated by a negative vote."

OMAHA WORLD-HERALD—"The nation has returned a 'clear mandate' for a new deal and against four years more of the new era that was ushered in with such extravagant promises, four years ago. It is well that Mr. Hoover's defeat is so overwhelming. For we now have to look to the positive rather than the negative side; to the future rather than to the past; to the incoming rather than the outgoing administration."

PHILADELPHIA INQUIRER—"It now becomes the patriotic duty, the bounden duty, of every true American, no matter what disappointment he may have suffered, to honor the man as well as the great office which he is about to hold, and give him support in every practical method he may undertake to aid in restoring the nation to its normal prosperity."

PORTLAND OREGONIAN—"The returns of the election give assurance that congress will be of such political complexion as must facilitate Mr. Roosevelt's plans for the recovery of the country. But let no citizen look hopefully toward him as to a miracle worker. The problems of government in a crisis are not so simply solved. There must be patience with the new President."

SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE—"It was general depression, not the Democratic party or its candidate, that won. If the Democratic party had been in power as it was during the great war, it would have been turned out now, as it was then, and the Republicans would have been the beneficiaries."

ST. PAUL PIONEER PRESS—"Gov. Roosevelt's opponents argued against any change of administration at this time on the grounds of the business uncertainty that would ensue. . . . Gov. Roosevelt can, if he wishes, show that these fears have been idle . . . by showing now that he intends to surround himself with those members of his party, who, like himself, command nearly universal confidence."

WASHINGTON STAR—"Gov. Roosevelt gains the presidency charged with a heavy responsibility. The very size of his majority of popular and electoral votes adds to that responsibility. He is summoned by the people in their distress to bring them back to prosperity. He will have in support of his program a congress assuredly Democratic in both branches and presumably in accord in general with his plans for the retrieval of the national welfare."

THE VOTE ON PRESIDENT

The Associated Press compiled the following table on the vote for President by states, showing the precincts in each state, the number reporting, and the popular vote and the electoral vote for Hoover and Roosevelt. (The estimated pluralities were figured in THE TRIBUNE office.)

Wilmette O. K.'s Ordinance for $580,000 R. F. C. Loan

The village board of Wilmette last night approved a special ordinance formally requesting a loan of $580,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation for the construction of a pumping and filtration plant to replace the present water equipment. The request had been made previously in the form of a resolution, but the finance corporation specified an ordinance rather than a resolution be filed.

CREDO

I

We believe in the United States of America; in the soundness and permanence of its institutions; in its destiny to lead the family of nations to peace, brotherhood, and contentment.

II

We believe in the ability of our appointed leaders to overcome the obstacles which obstruct the path of our people to happiness and prosperity.

III

We believe that the business men of this country can and will work together for our national welfare; setting aside, if need be, the powerful influences of self-interest; and will so coordinate their efforts and policies that recovery—material and spiritual—will be hastened.

IV

We believe it to be the duty of all who have jobs, to try to create jobs for those who have not.

V

We believe that we can best show our patriotism and our faith in our country by thrusting aside all distraction, setting our faces forward, and working—harder, more thoughtfully than ever before.

COURTNEY GIVES PLEDGE TO PUSH THE INSULL CASE

Says He'll Take an Active Part in Prosecutions.

Thomas J. Courtney, the newly elected state's attorney, yesterday promised a vigorous prosecution of Samuel and Martin Insull, if he finds that they have violated any of the criminal laws. The youthful prosecutor elect, who is 37 years old and the youngest man ever to hold the office, said that he was under no obligations to any one who had committed a crime.

"If the Insulls violated the criminal laws of this state they will be prosecuted as vigorously as I know how," said Mr. Courtney yesterday. "Of course, I do not know any of the facts in the case and will not have them first hand until I take office, but to me the Insulls are no different from any one else who has committed a violation of the criminal laws.

Will Push Pending Cases.

"The public may rest assured that all prosecutions now pending will be pushed to a conclusion. At this time I do not want to specify any particular cases, but no one need have any fear that any case worthy of being prosecuted will be dropped or sidetracked."

Mr. Courtney, who will take office on Dec. 5, said that his first aim would be to instill confidence and respect in the state's attorney's office.

"I am not criticizing any particular past prosecutor, but the people of this community have for some time looked at the state's attorney's office as somewhat of a joke," he said. "Respect must be created for that office."

Mr. Courtney said he had not yet considered any appointments, but he said that his first assistant must be a man of ability and integrity, who knows the criminal law and the Criminal courts building. He must be active and on the job, supervising the work of the assistants at all times, Mr. Courtney said.

Mentioned as Assistants.

Attorney Grover Neimeyer and Charles J. Dougherty are already mentioned as being slated for prominent posts in the new staff to be organized by Mr. Courtney. Attorney Neimeyer was a prosecutor under Maclay Hoyne and had considerable experience in prosecuting bank cases. Attorney Dougherty also has had previous experience in the state's attorney's office and was known as an "ace prosecutor."

The assistant prosecutors scattered throughout the city in the Municipal courts, who in the past have been virtually state's attorneys in their own little domain, must also come under stricter supervision, said the prosecutor elect. The same is true, he said, of the civil division of the prosecutor's office, which handles numerous tax matters.

Mr. Courtney made it plain that he does not intend to be a rubber stamp state's attorney. He will be on the job at all times, he said, and will make it his business to visit the various courts personally and see at first hand what his assistants are doing.

To Take Active Part.

When a prosecution demands his personal appearance in court, he will be in there fighting with his assistants for a conviction, he said. He pointed out that he cannot appear in all cases personally in the courts, but he will participate in as many as practicable.

"I intend to operate a law office," he said. "The police have certain duties to perform and so has the sheriff. I intend to do my part and I will demand that the other agencies do their share."

Among the important cases which it will be the duty of the new prosecutor to follow through the appeal courts are the sanitary district graft case in which Timothy J. Crowe and other political leaders were convicted; the Bain bank case and the Serritella-Hockstein case. Dan Serritella was former city sealer under the régime of a former mayor, and Harry Hochstein was his assistant. They were convicted of short weight conspiracy.

Swanson Addresses Staff.

State's Attorney Swanson was at his office at the usual time yesterday. He showed no traces of bitterness over his defeat. He called his staff together and urged them to carry on until their successors are appointed.

"Of course, we will not initiate any new investigations," said Mr. Swanson. "I shall turn over the various pending matters to my successor and let him decide on his own matters of policy. However, we will keep the boat steady for him until he takes office."

Mr. Swanson pointed out that Courtney would have many advantages which he did not have when he assumed office. He will have the benefit of a virtually clean court calendar and of a modernization of many of the old laws of procedure, such as the right of a judge to try a felony case without a jury. These changes were brought about by Supreme court decisions.

NEW CONGRESSWOMAN FROM KANSAS KNOWN TO ILLINOIS WOMEN

Hays, Kas., Nov. 9.—(AP)—A woman Democrat, who rode broncbos on a western Kansas ranch and eventually became a lawyer to escape the humdrum of bookkeeping in her father's automobile agency, is to be the first woman representative in congress from Kansas.

Miss Kathryn O'Loughlin of Hays, who won over the Republican incumbent, Representative Charles I. Sparks, is a tall, slender, 33 year old brunette who wears her hair bobbed. She went about the campaigning meeting men candidates on their own terms, shaking hands, debating and driving to distant points to speak.

Graduate of Teachers' college here and the University of Chicago Law school, she returned to Chicago in 1921 as editor of a legislative service bulletin and counsel for an association of insurance companies, at the same time conducting legislative campaigns for the Illinois League of Women Voters.

INSULL JUNIOR HOME; SAYS HE'S "HERE TO STAY"

Refuses to Discuss Case Against Father.

Samuel Insull Jr., back from a visit with his father in Paris before the latter went to Greece, refused to discuss that visit yesterday. After alighting from the Broadway limited of the Pennsylvania railroad, which he boarded in New York Tuesday, young Insull went to his office on the sixteenth floor of the Commonwealth Edison company building at 72 West Adams street and there issued the following typewritten statement:

"I have just returned to Chicago from a vacation as planned when I left. I have returned to my job and I am here to stay."

To all questions concerning the indictment of his father, the extradition proceedings now pending against his father, and the collapse of the Insull companies young Insull answered that he had nothing to say.

"State's Attorney Swanson, who indicted your father, was beaten in yesterday's election," a reporter reminded him. "Does that interest you?"

COLLAPSES IN GARAGE; DIES.

Milton Sinson, 60 years old, 4444 North Sacramento avenue, collapsed in a garage in the rear of his home yesterday and died of heart disease.

REVEAL INSULL WARRANT STILL IN WASHINGTON

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 9.—(AP)—A warrant and evidence for extradition proceedings against Samuel Insull, former Chicago utilities head, will be forwarded here from Washington in a few days, the American legation was informed today. Insull, who was arrested last week, considered it significant that the legation had not disclosed until after the American election that the warrant had not been received. He still believes he will not be extradited to face larceny and embezzlement charges in Chicago.

FLORIDA DIKE BURSTS; 6,000 ARE IN WANT

West Palm Beach, Fla., Nov. 9.—(AP)—A dike around Lake Okeechobee broke in the flooded Everglades last night and water inundated an area of 15 square miles, including the town of Canal Point. Authorities estimated that as a result of a flood that followed Sunday's cloudburst 6,000 people in the Everglades would need public support for the next two months. Boats are being assembled to remove residents, but officials have not determined where the refugees will be housed.

Paraguay Claims Capture of Another Chaco Fort

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The war ministry announced today that Paraguayan forces in the Gran Chaco had captured the Bolivian Fort Loa.

TRUDE AND CASEY ONLY G.O.P. BENCH WINNERS IN CITY

Other Republican Judges Snowed Under.

Municipal Judges Samuel H. Trude and Edward B. Casey were the only two Republican candidates for the Municipal bench who survived the Democratic landslide, the final figures revealed yesterday. Eight of the twelve successful candidates, all Democrats, have never served before on the bench.

Among the Republican judges who were snowed under in the vote were Judges Samuel H. Heller, John Sbarbaro, George B. Holmes, Alfar M. Eberhardt, Freeman L. Fairbank, Robert E. McMillan, Joseph Schulman, and William R. Fetzer. The last two had been characterized as "utterly unfit" for their office by the Chicago Bar association.

Twelve Judicial Winners.

The twelve winners of seats on the Municipal court bench and their vote on final unofficial returns were:

R. J. Dunne..736,366	M. G. Kasper..636,916
E. J. Holland..702,646	J. H. McGarry..634,253
C. C. Smith..699,063	N. J. Bonelli..627,280
J. Gutknecht..693,007	*E. B. Casey..623,465
*H. Hayes...653,816	E. J. Hasten..611,478

*Sitting judges.

Those who were defeated and their votes on final unofficial returns:

F. H. Bicek..608,537	*F. L. Fa'b'k..538,032
A. G. Urb'ski..604,704	*A. M. Eb'dt..515,366
*S. H. Heller..603,683	*J. Schulman..505,229
*J. Sbarbaro..601,229	E. A. Fisher..499,083
*G.B. Holmes..581,667	J. A. Haas..492,815

*Sitting judges.

Haas, who ran 23d in the list of 24 candidates, is the man whose real name is Joseph H. Mall and who, the Chicago Bar association charged, changed his name to Haas because of the vote-getting ability of the late Joseph F. Haas, who was county recorder. Disbarment proceedings have been started against him.

Sketches on New Judges.

Sketches of the eight new men on the bench follow:

ROBERT J. DUNNE. Age 32. Son of former Gov. Edward F. Dunne. From 1924 to 1930, assistant football coach for Northwestern and Harvard universities. In general law practice for eight years. The Bar association termed him "honest, industrious, capable and qualified for the office."

EUGENE HOLLAND. Age 37. Graduate of Georgetown university, in practice in Chicago for 12 years. Assistant corporation counsel, 1923-1927 and assistant attorney for sanitary district, 1927-1931. "Conscientious, efficient and qualified for the office," according to the Bar association.

CECIL CORBETT SMITH. Age 39. Received legal education at Valparaiso university. In practice in Chicago for 11 years The bar association said of him: "He is industrious, conscientious and possesses judicial poise. By ability, character and temperament, he is well qualified for the office."

JOHN GUTKNECHT. Age 42. Graduate of University of Michigan. In general practice in Chicago for 19 years. Professor of law at De Paul university since 1917. "He is phinstaking, thorough, even tempered and serious in purpose, being well qualified for the office," the Bar association said of him.

MICHAEL G. KASPER. Age 44. Born in Poland. Legal education at John Marshall law school. The Bar association said, "He is a lawyer of ability and character. He is even tempered, patient and is qualified."

JOSEPH H. McGARRY. Age 38. Legal education at De Paul university. In practice 12 years. Senior assistant trial attorney for sanitary district. Termed "conscientious, efficient and qualified" by the bar association.

N. J. BONELLI. Age 41. Legal education John Marshall law school. In practice since 1922. For the last two years, assistant to probate judge. The bar association said: "He performs his duties in Probate court courteously and competently, but he is not fitted by education or experience to be a Municipal judge."

ERWIN J. HASTEN. Age 42. Legal education at Loyola university. Admitted to bar in 1913. President of the Cook county civil service commission. Formerly in employ of Chicago Daily Journal. The bar association commented: "His experience does not qualify him for the office."

ESTRANGED WIFE TAKES POISON.

Mrs. Gertrude Hicks, 21 years old, swallowed poison yesterday at her home, 6059 Wentworth avenue, and died soon afterward in St. Bernard's hospital. Her mother said Mrs. Hicks had been despondent since an estrangement with her husband.

Evanston Judges

Police Magistrate Harry H. Porter and Attorney Walter W. Ross were elected judges of the newly created Municipal court in Evanston, final returns yesterday showed. J. D. Kindig was elected clerk of the court over 18 other candidates for the position. The court was created by a referendum on April 7, and the newly elected officers will take over their duties immediately, city officials said.

Magistrate Porter was given 18,478 votes, as compared to 9,289 received by Ross. Justice of the Peace James Corcoran and City Attorney Erwin S. Stolle ran close to Ross with 8,774 and 8,117 votes, respectively. The other candidates were Raymond J. Roth, with 2,295 votes, followed by Samuel Harrison, Ernest E. Anderson, George T. Crossland, and Earl J. Smith.

A total of 31,059 votes was cast in Evanston out of a registration of approximately 32,000. With returns of 45 of 53 Evanston precincts counted, the proposition to place the suburb under the jurisdiction of the election commissioners' office was defeated by a vote of two to one.

SENATOR ELECT FROM ILLINOIS TELLS POLICIES

Will Work to Cut Cost of Government.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Beardstown, Ill., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—In the wake of a Democratic sweep of the nation that gave him an indicated plurality of 300,000 votes over United States Senator Otis F. Glenn, his Republican opponent, William H. Dieterich today prophesied a slow but certain return to happier days.

The hopes of the senator elect from Illinois are based on three things he says his party will do: return to the financial policies of the Wilsonian era, bring about economy in government by lopping off useless bureaus and getting the government out of business, terminate Volsteadism.

Mr. Dieterich, who will serve Illinois as congressman at large until he takes his oath as senator in the next congress, entered into his discussion of better days to come with alacrity, although he had been aroused, somewhat rudely, from his bed at 8 a. m., four hours after he retired.

Regaining Economic Security.

The senator elect settled his stalwart figure in the library of his commodious but not pretentious frame dwelling and launched into the things he wants done for the nation and Illinois. He postponed his waiting breakfast, a feat not helped by the snow and rain pounding against the windowpane.

"The big problem confronting the Democratic party," he said, "is getting back to economic security, and that will take time. There is no magic by which the recovery can be effected, but simplicity in government and time will do it.

"We must cut down governmental expenditures and reduce the tax burden. The government has been injecting itself into so many lines of activity that we must start over again and take it out. Government in private business must end. It always results in more boards and bureaus, more tax squandering.

"We must curtail public building. The expense of erecting useless public works is not justified by the small measure of relief it affords to the unemployed. Industry must solve the problem of unemployment, and industry cannot do this if it is crushed by taxation to support a public building program."

Wilson Financial Policy.

Mr. Dieterich took up the theme of the Wilson financial policy, the departure from which had much to do with bringing about the depression, he charged in his campaign speeches.

"Agriculture and industry can be restored throughout the country only by reëstablishing the services of the community bank through extending the credit of the federal reserve system," he said.

As expounded by Mr. Dieterich, the federal reserve banks under the Wilson régime served as protection for the community banks, and there was confidence and security in the nation. Through amendments to the national banking act, the Republicans, he said, stopped the long term credit on farm and real estate securities.

The community banks were required to invest in "quicker" securities and advised to buy foreign bonds; the buying up of foreign bonds developed industry in foreign countries and destroyed our foreign trade at the expense of domestic industry and agriculture, according to the senator elect.

Mr. Dieterich believes the present congress will modify the Volstead act to permit light wines and beer, that in any event the new congress will do this. He hopes for repeal of the 18th amendment within two years at the most.

The new senator from Illinois was born in 1876 on a farm near Cooperstown, in adjacent Brown county. After attending both the high school and Kennedy's Normal school at Rushville, he studied law at the old Northern Indiana university at Valparaiso.

In 1901 he was admitted to the bar, whereupon he married Nona Runkle and started practicing law. At Rushville he also served as alderman, treasurer of the Union school district, city attorney, master in chancery, and county judge.

He moved to Beardstown in 1912, from whence he went to the state legislature for two terms under Gov. Frank O. Lowden. He reëntered public life two years ago as congressman at large, when Senator James Hamilton Lewis led a Democratic landslide.

Mr. Dieterich has two children, a daughter, Ruth, and a son, William Jr. He is a portly man, ruddy of face and genial of manner. He has a jaw that suggests strength, candid blue eyes and gray hair.

DOCTOR BITTEN BY MONKEY; DIES OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS

New York, Nov. 9.—[Special.]—A victim of his own attempts to find a means of preventing infantile paralysis, Dr. William B. Brebner, assistant professor of bacteriology at the medical college of New York university, died today in Bellevue hospital. He was bitten by one of the monkeys he was using in his experiments, the wound became infected and all the efforts of his fellow doctors to save him proved futile.

Dr. Brebner, who was only 29 years old, was a scientist who was expected to go far, according to his superiors. He was a Canadian and came here a year ago after having done research work in other universities.

For some months Dr. Brebner had been conducting experiments in the immunization of monkeys against infantile paralysis. Two weeks ago he was bitten by one of the monkeys. Last Saturday the doctor became paralyzed.

ASSESSOR HEARS TAX PROTEST OF SURFACE LINES

Assessor J. L. Jacobs and the members of the board of tax appeals held a hearing last evening on the protest of all the allied companies of the Chicago surface lines to the $46,000,000 assessed valuation at which they have been placed on the 1931 personalty rolls. The company attorneys have informed Fred W. Brummel and George F. Nixon, members of the appeals board, that they are willing to pay a tax on a $36,000,000 valuation.

Assessor Jacobs informed the board that when he prepared the assessment on the surface lines, representatives of the companies produced an appraisal which showed their entire personal property holdings at $12,000,000 assessed value. This appraisal was rejected and the companies later produced appraisals which were $25,000,000 and finally $35,000,000, he said.

The assessor told the board that Special County Attorney Lee La Rochelle recently had forced the companies to pay 1930 personalty taxes on an assessed valuation of $40,000,000 after a trial before Circuit Judge Hood.

After two hours of argument the attorneys representing the surface lines agreed to bring in their books in an effort to prove their assertions.

SNOWDEN ASSAILS IMPERIAL TRADE PACTS AS FRAUD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The most severe attack on the imperial trade agreements yet made in parliament was launched in the house of lords tonight by Viscount Snowden, who resigned as lord privy seal recently in protest against the treaties. Lord Snowden charged that Canadian Prime Minister Richard Bennett, as well as other dominion leaders, had boosted tariffs to an unscalable height and offered to lower them slightly in return for genuine trade advantages with the United Kingdom.

Predicts 50 Years for Pacts.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 9.—Prime Minister Bennett of Canada prophesied a fifty year duration for the British empire trade pacts in speaking before an Ontario Conservative party rally here tonight. The pacts are drafted for five years, but Bennett declared their apparent benefits assured a lasting empire trade tieup.

DEMOCRATS GET CLEAN SWEEP IN VOTE OF INDIANA

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—It now seems certain the Democrats carried Indiana Tuesday by possibly 200,000.

Not only did the state give a plurality to a Democratic presidential nominee for the fifth time since the civil war, but it swept into office Democratic candidates for United States senator and governor, gave them complete control the statehouse, elected all twelve representatives in congress, and carried an overwhelming majority in both houses of the 1933 general assembly.

By electing the Democratic candidates for representatives in congress Indiana, which still has the most bone dry of state prohibition laws in the Union, will send to Washington a delegation pledged 100 per cent for prohibition reform.

All the congressional candidates and the United States senator elect, Frederick Van Nuys, stood on the Democratic national platform calling for immediate modification of the Volstead act and ultimate repeal of the eighteenth amendment. Not only that, but the state senators elect and state representatives elect ran on a platform that asks for the repeal of the state bone dry act.

Colombian Gunboat Sunk in Clash with Peruvians

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Reports reached here today of a naval engagement in the Putumayo river between Colombian and Peruvian squadrons. A Colombian gunboat, the reports said, was sunk and the gunboat Santa Maria captured.

JAP DELEGATE DEMANDS RADICAL BAN ON WAR GAS

[Copyright, 1932, by the New York Times.]

GENEVA, Nov. 9.—A most radical stand against gas warfare was taken in the disarmament conference bureau today by Nantake Sato of Japan.

Not content with the "absolute" prohibition satisfying others, he took the stand that gas should not be allowed even for reprisals against those violating the ban on it. He urged that the manufacture of material for defense against gas be forbidden.

"There must be no need left for it, even for a study of defensive methods," he insisted.

IDENTIFY TRAIN VICTIM.

The body of a man, who was killed by a train on the Indiana Harbor Belt railroad tracks at 94th street and Jeffery avenue on Tuesday, was identified yesterday as that of Georg Jensen, 42 years old, 8729 Kingston avenue.

THE BATTLE OF HASTINGS—1066 A. D.
"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by J. Scott Williams . . . inspired by the surging fury of the Norman hordes under William the Conqueror, in their merciless onslaught against the English in the Battle of Hastings, October 14, 1066. "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes.
"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"

LAST BALLOTS TO DECIDE CLOSE RACES IN EAST

Barbour Is Ahead After Conceding Defeat.

New York, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Despite the Roosevelt triumph, Republicans and Democrats alike could find bright spots tonight by looking to the east, where several close election fights were being decided by the counting of the last ballots.

The situation in the eleven seaboard states stood:

One Republican senator, James J. Davis, Pa., and one Democratic senator, Robert F. Wagner, New York, won reëlection.

Two Republican senators, George Moses, New Hampshire, and Hiram Bingham, Connecticut, were displaced by Democrats.

In the New Jersey senatorial fight Senator Warren Barbour [Rep.] conceded the election of his Democratic opponent, Representative Percy H. Stewart, and then saw his own total top Stewart's. The margin was so slight, however, that a recount may be necessary to settle the outcome finally.

In six states—New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Delaware, West Virginia, and Massachusetts—the Democrats increased their number of seats in the house.

Three Republican governors—in Delaware, New Hampshire, and Vermont—won reëlection, as did the Democratic governor of Connecticut.

Mrs. R. R. Donnelley, 87, Is Reported Seriously Ill

Mrs. Naomi A. Donnelley, widow of Richard R. Donnelley, is seriously ill at her home at 4609 Woodlawn avenue, it was learned yesterday. Mrs. Donnelley became ill at the Lake Forest home of her son, Thomas Elliott Donnelley, president of R. R. Donnelley & Sons Co., early in October. She is 87 years old. Her condition yesterday was said to be slightly improved.

JOLIET PRISON TO PAY CONVICTS 2 CENTS AN HOUR

Convicts employed in the automobile license plate factory at Stateville penitentiary will be paid two cents an hour for their labor starting next week, Warden Frank D. Whipp announced yesterday. The convicts work six hours a day. Prisoners otherwise moneyless, the warden pointed out, may use the money earned in the purchase of tobacco and candy at the prison store.

If the plan is successful, Warden Whipp said, it will be extended to the furniture and soap factories and the tailor shop.

Mrs. Bertha Finnegan, superintendent of the woman's prison, offered her resignation yesterday to take effect on Nov. 15, when she will go to work for the Chicago office of the parole division. She will be replaced by Miss Hazel Hazzard, who will also retain her present position as superintendent of the woman's prison at Dwight.

SUTTON SLATED TO GET GOVIER'S COUNCIL POSTS

Ald. David L. Sutton [8th] is slated for the council committee posts that will be left vacant when Ald. Sheldon W. Govier [9th] takes office as clerk of the Appellate court of the First district, it was reported yesterday in the city hall. The most important posts that Sutton, who is ending his first term in the council, will get are the chairmanship of the World's Fair, conventions and expositions committee, and membership on the finance committee. Ald. Sutton now is vice chairman of the World's Fair committee. He is a Democrat. Govier won the court clerkship in the election Tuesday.

NEW YORK G. O. P. CASTS ABOUT FOR NEW LEADERSHIP

Wadsworth Regarded as Likely Chief.

BY TOM PETTEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Republicans of this state began to cast about for a "new deal" of their own wherever they gathered today to take stock of the situation and scan the gloomy skies for bright spots.

They appeared convinced that the sweeping Democratic victory which carried the national, state, and city tickets into office should be sufficient warning that new leaders must be found. Although late returns, with 40 election districts missing, reduced President Elect Franklin D. Roosevelt's lead to 594,733 over President Hoover, the Republicans found little cheer—for that was a tremendous defeat.

In many Republican quarters Tuesday's Democratic cyclone in this state was interpreted as foreshadowing the political emergence of former United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, who won a seat in the house of representatives where other Republicans were buried under a mountain of rival votes.

May Supplant Mills.

There were those who maintained that Mr. Wadsworth had won the right to supplant Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills as the state's top party man.

Had President Hoover been reëlected and had Col. William J. Donovan, Mr. Mills' selection for governor of New York, won his race then Mr. Mills would have been sitting on top of the state. They didn't win, and already there is talk of Wadsworth as the Republican standard bearer in 1936.

An all around shakeup in leadership of the party was forecast for this state. The position of W. Kingsland Macy, state chairman, was regarded as precarious. One leader said the thing to do was to remove from party places all traces of "the Hoover influence." He called Mr. Hoover "a great President, but a poor politician."

Organization Weakens.

The city Republican organization has grown weaker with the years under constant defeat from Tammany and has slipped into the habit of accepting favors from their stronger Democratic rivals.

Mr. Wadsworth's name, however, appears to have taken on its old importance in state party ranks. The voters showed interest in wet candidates this year and Wadsworth is a wet who has consistently fought prohibition through the years.

As final returns began to roll in tonight from the rural districts of the state Gov. Roosevelt's lead dropped to the afore mentioned total of 594,733. He received a total vote of 2,521,333 compared with 1,926,600 for Hoover with only 18 districts still to be heard from.

Roosevelt Fans Besiege Los Angeles Times Building

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—A downtown street parade of Roosevelt celebrators besieged the building of the Los Angeles Times, chief California spokesman for President Hoover, this morning. The paraders fired a broadside of vegetables against the walls of the plant, and filed past in a procession several blocks long, each rank of marchers saluting with noisy "raspberries."

SUNDAY MOVIES WIN IN OAK PARK BY A MAJORITY OF 4,000

Voters of Oak Park approved Sunday movies in their village by a majority of more than 4,000 votes. With one precinct of the 42 missing, yesterday the vote stood 17,360 for and 13,6"8 against.

The balloting ended a fight of more than 13 years by village liberals for Sunday movies. The vote Tuesday was the fourth referendum on the question. Moving pictures lost by a vote of 11,048 to 4,256 in 1920 and 1923, and in 1925 they were defeated.

Thomas J. Barrett and J. Edward Jones each claimed a victory yesterday in the voting for judge of the newly created Municipal court. After the court had been voted into being last April the village board refused to hold an election until ordered to do so by Judge Walter T. Stanton in a hearing on a writ of mandamus. The board still refused to print ballots until Attorney General Carlstrom held that the voters had the legal right to vote for judge and clerk and write in the names of their candidates. Barrett claimed 500 votes to 30 for his opponent. Jones also claimed victory and filed a petition for a writ of mandamus in the Superior court to force the village officials to count the ballots.

IOWA IS SWEPT BY DEMOCRATS AS CONGRESSMEN

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Two Republican congressmen are the sole political survivors in this state. With only 210 rural districts to be heard from, it is unlikely that further returns will change the result. Gov. Roosevelt swept the state; 2,225 out of 2,435 precincts gave Roosevelt 544,342, Hoover 379,278, making Roosevelt's lead 165,064.

Louis Murphy has perhaps 120,000 votes more than his nearest competitor, Henry Field, who defeated Senator Smith W. Brookhart in the Republican primary in June. Senator Brookhart ran a poor third as an independent.

Governor, 5 Justices, Too.

Clyde Herring will be the next governor, having clearly defeated Gov. Dan Turner by a majority which may equal 30,000. Five Democrats have been elected to the Iowa Supreme court. In this case two vacancies and the three regular expirations threw a majority of the court into the Democratic party. Formerly Iowa's one Democratic congressman, B. M. Jacobsen of Clinton, Second district, is leading his Democratic colleagues in seven of the nine newly laid out Iowa districts. All of the Iowans are wet.

Gilbert N. Haugen, dean of the United States house of representatives, is trailing more than 10,000 behind Fred Biermann in the Fourth district.

Get State Offices, Too.

Gillette, a Democrat, is expected to hold a comfortable 3,000 lead over Campbell, Republican congressman.

From governor down the Democrats seem fairly certain of victory for every state officer, with the possible exception of Secretary of State Greenwalt, who is leading Mrs. Alex Miller, Democrat.

Killed as Handle to Pump Touches Live Wire

Coldwater, Mich., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Mrs. Dora Shephard, 53, Homer, near here, was killed late today when the handle of a pump came in contact with a high voltage wire. Her husband standing nearby was badly burned.

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets help arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their normal functions, people rarely suffer from indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you had a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Try Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping cramps or pain. All druggists 15c, 30c and 60c.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like.

Victor Has Confidence in Nation's Future.

"These reports about my resigning as governor were just some more newspaper yarns.

"And another thing. I'm always going to be plain Franklin Roosevelt in this part of the country, and don't you forget that."

Mr. Roosevelt called out to those in the group whom he recognized and to one, Mrs. Margaret Hedgecock, he said:

The governor, grown expert in meeting demands of the news photographers, told Mrs. Hedgecock just where to stand.

"What I need now is some sleep," the governor said.

"You sure don't need any votes," a neighbor called.

"Well, I don't know about that," the governor said. "I had a very serious talk with Jim Farley today about why we lost some of those states."

"You won't lose them next time," came from another.

"No, that's right. We'll see what we can do about getting all of them next time," Roosevelt said.

On the way up to Albany, after the governor had his evening meal at Hyde Park, he fell asleep in the car and he dozed most of the way. When he reached the executive mansion at half past ten he went right to bed.

Plans Trip to Springs.

The governor plans, he said, to go to Warm Springs, Ga., the site of a sanitarium he founded for the treatment of infantile paralysis, shortly before Thanksgiving for a short rest.

Hundreds of persons came a-calling at the governor's house today, to pay their respects to the next head of the national government, but he saw few of them. He lunched with Col. House, the confidential adviser of the late President Wilson, and spent some time with Senator Byrne of North Carolina and Raymond T. Moley, professor at Columbia university, who has aided the governor in the preparation of his campaign utterances.

Mr. Roosevelt received a veritable rain of telegrams and cablegrams from all over the world.

"I've waded through a couple of hundred of them this morning," he said, "but I don't know when I'll see the rest."

Shortly after he got out of bed this morning Mr. Roosevelt sent the following telegram to President Hoover, thanking him for the message sent to the governor by the President last night:

"I appreciate your generous telegram for the immediate as well as for the more distant future. I join in your gracious expression of a common purpose in helpful effort for our country."

Takes Child to School.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who next March will be the nation's first lady, was her true self today, as she got up early, took her granddaughter, "Sisty" Dall to school, and then went on to the private girls' school she heads to teach her classes in American history, current events and English literature. Having just been elevated to the great honor she received did not alter her program a whit.

She did not even appear in the movies and news photographs taken of the new President's family. The governor's mother, proud and happy but determined not to say for the movietone "how I feel," joined in the picture taking, with the governor's daughter, Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall, and his son, James.

James Roosevelt and his wife, the former Betsy Cushing of Boston, are sailing tomorrow night for Bermuda, and the governor explained that Mrs. Roosevelt will stay over until then to see them off.

"Jimmy and Betsy are coming down to Warm Springs for Thanksgiving dinner with me,'" he said, "and Mrs. Roosevelt will come up to Albany to join me there tomorrow."

The governor left New York City at half past three this afternoon, driving to his Hyde Park home, where he stayed for supper, going on to Albany later in the evening.

On the way up the governor was met by a large crowd at Poughkeepsie, the county seat of his home county of Dutchess, and they gave him a rousing welcome.

Druggist Fights Bandits; Shoots One in Duel

A bandit was shot and wounded last night when he and a companion tried to hold up Henry S. Bartig in his drug store at 2856 North Ridgeway avenue. Bartig suspected the two when they entered the store and opened fire, dropping one of them to the floor. The second man returned the fire, picked up his fallen pal, and carried him outside. The two escaped.

TWO MILWAUKEE HOMES ENTERED BY BURGLARS

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Two homes, one of them on the east side gold coast, were entered and ransacked tonight by burglars.

Jewelry worth $100 and cash totaling $15 were stolen at the home of Henry Eckstein at 2690 North Summitt avenue, in one of the city's best residential districts. Mr. Eckstein is president of the C. F. Hibbard company, an insurance firm. The burglars entered while the Ecksteins were at a dinner given by friends. The second floor was thoroughly ransacked. Entrance was gained with a pass key.

John Scherzinger, restaurant proprietor, was attacked by three burglars whom he surprised in his home at 6819 West National avenue, West Allis, when he entered tonight. As Scherzinger was about to turn on the lights he saw three shadowy forms in the semi-darkness.

"Let's get him now," one of the men said.

The next instant a blanket was thrown over his head. He struggled and in the scuffle a kitchen window was broken. The men fled, one of them leaving a pistol behind. Police who were called found the home had been ransacked. Scherzinger said a preliminary examination did not disclose anything missing.

DELAY DEADLINE ON ENTRIES IN POULTRY SHOW

Entries in the 2,003 classes of the annual Chicago Coliseum poultry show, to be held Nov. 22 to 27, inclusive, have been extended to Monday, Nov. 14, it was announced yesterday by Harvey C. Wood, manager of the exposition.

Last year thousands of entries were exhibited from all sections of the United States and Canada. Inquiries and entries already received indicate fully as many this year.

Boys and girls of the nation's four-H clubs will compete in special divisions and also in the annual judging contest between picked teams of the youths from various states.

Do you blame common winter ills on outside causes like

DRAFTS
CHILLING WINDS
OVERHEATED ROOMS

No matter how cautious you are about drafts, sloppy weather, raw winds, and overheated rooms, you may still be susceptible to ills this winter if your resistance is low!

In a state of depleted vitality, germs are likely to get the best of you, regardless of special precautions against exposure you may take.

Therefore, as a defense against usual winter ills, build good resistance! Wet, cold weather, stuffy rooms are unlikely to bother you so much when your general condition is good.

A new concentrate of cod-liver oil vitamins, Squibb Adex Tablets-10D, provide an abundance of the important factor which helps to increase resistance and physical stamina — Vitamin A.

Squibb Adex are also an exceptionally rich source of Vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin. Each tablet supplies as much Vitamins A and D as one-half teaspoonful of Squibb Cod-Liver Oil with Viosterol-10D.

FOR ALL-AROUND WEAR THERE IS NOTHING SMARTER— FOR ALL-AROUND VALUE THERE IS NOTHING LIKE THESE

Hudson Seal* Coats

$165 $195

We are bringing Hudson Seal*, always a classic, into its own in presenting these fashions. Designed for specific coat needs, these coats have distinct personality, though they are not too definitely sports or formal.

The swagger coat at right, for instance, has raglan sleeves and a touch of color to emphasize the rich black. The other coat, gracious in its sweep of line, has just an intimation of formality about it.

Coat at immediate right is generously cut. Sizes 36 to 44. $195.

Old Golds

SO COOL AND GENTLE TO YOUR THROAT

Take the choicest tobacco Nature grows; sun-ripened Turkish and domestic tobacco from the heart of the stalk. Age it. Cure it. Until it's as free of impurities as the sunshine that grew it.

OLD GOLDS are FULL-WEIGHT

DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK

—IF YOU DON'T SAY THIS IS THE BEST VEGETABLE SOUP YOU EVER BOUGHT!
HORMEL
Flavor Sealed
VEGETABLE SOUP
U.S. INSPECTED AND PASSED BY

THE OFFER

NOV. 10 - NOV. 19
(INCLUSIVE)

Go to your nearest food store. Pay the regular price of 15c for one big 20-ounce can of Hormel Flavor-Sealed Vegetable Soup. Follow instructions on label and serve. If you sincerely do not believe it the best vegetable soup you ever bought, write your reasons on the label, with your name and address, and mail before midnight, Nov. 19, to George A. Hormel & Co., Austin, Minn., who will return twice what you paid. Offer limited to one can to a purchaser.

Rich, beef soup stock creates an amazing new homelike flavor

If you could buy another vegetable soup in America that tasted or was made like the new HORMEL VEGETABLE SOUP, we would never dare make this unique "Double Your Money Back" offer.

But... the flavor is so entirely new and homelike... your own tongue will notice the new taste so easily... and we are so eager for you to have your first taste right away... that we take this unusual way of urging you to try it.

We honestly believe that you can't tell it from homemade vegetable soup. Here's why.

When YOU make vegetable soup, you cook down a rich soup stock. SO DOES HORMEL.... with top quality beef. Then YOU add vegetables. HORMEL adds vegetables, too... exactly the right amounts of 15 of them, crisp and tender. You cover the kettle and cook. Hormel seals the individual can, so that no rich flavor can escape. THE CAN YOU BUY IS THE VERY KETTLE THE SOUP WAS COOKED IN! To serve, simply open this kettle, heat and pour into soup bowls, without adding water ... like you pour soup from your own kettle.

Doesn't that sound worth a try, when you run no risk of disappointment? (See "The Offer" at left.) Then tell your food store today to put a can of Hormel Vegetable Soup on your order. ACT TODAY ... offer good only for a short time.

"The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and mold public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."

THE ELECTION OF JUDGE HORNER.

Illinois was particularly fortunate in the sisterhood of states in this election, because surely none other escaped from such a nightmare as the people of Illinois voted themselves out of Tuesday. With full appreciation of the probability that other states had troubles within their own boundaries, it is certain that none other was threatened with such wholly unbelievable political conditions as those from which this state escaped by electing Judge Horner and defeating the attempt of a certain seemingly imperishable outfit of politicians to reproduce an administration which already had given eight indescribable years to Illinois government.

A confusion and complication of personal ambitions and partisan jealousies had resulted in the primary in the nomination of Len Small. There was a chance that a normal Republican vote for President in a normally Republican state would put this man back in the governor's office. The consequences of such a decision could not have been viewed with anything but the gravest alarm for the common decencies of administration and the common security of the state. It can be said without the slightest exaggeration that at no time had such a man been in a governor's office in any other state within the knowledge of this generation, nor had such a danger been presented to any other electorate in this election. The people of Illinois can truly be grateful, whatever their feelings may be as to results in other phases of the general election, that they are rid, and they may hope now for good and all, of this man and his associates. They have seemed imperishable, but time as well as votes is now against them.

Judge Horner offers the state an opportunity to make progress towards a better standard of state government. What Illinois has needed particularly is a readjustment between the metropolitan and the rural districts. A majority of the people the state over have no permanent interest in a conflict between urban and country citizenship. This conflict has been protracted and embittered for partisan political purposes. It has engendered a feeling in Chicago that injustice was premeditated in the legislature, and outside of Chicago a feeling that a malignant power was sought by the massed voters of the city area. There is no excuse for inequities in the relationship of people who as a whole have a common interest, whose well-being is a well knit unity, and who find their real benefits in common purpose and common action.

Chicago is an asset to Illinois. It cannot be regarded by other sections of the state either as a province to be milked or as a danger to be restrained. Either of these views pressed into legislation or administration is hurtful to the people, both within and outside Cook county. If Judge Horner's opponent had been reëlected, the state would have had four more years of stimulated rancor. City and county would have drifted further apart, each one fearing the other as an enemy. The state now can hope for better conditions. Judge Horner is an honest, fair minded man. Chicago wants to give and receive a fair deal. It asks only to be met on common ground in such purposes. The people of the state of Illinois can pull together. They can make an even division of their tax burden and revenue. They can cease aiming discriminatory and destructive legislation at each other.

No other electorate in the Union can be congratulated so heartily upon the results of its state election. A nightmare has been escaped. A fantastically scandalous organization of Republican politicians has been thrown into the garbage can. The lid is on. There is the prospect of a new era.

RESPECTABILITY BY SUPPRESSION.

The final appeal of the Rev. Mr. Davidson, the rector of Stiffkey, has been dismissed by the British privy council, and now scandalized English respectability hopes that is the end of that. The Rev. Mr. Davidson, it will be recalled, was tried in the consistory court by the bishop of Norwich on charges that his evangelism had been entirely too amatory and that he was unfit to continue in ecclesiastical service. The clergyman appealed from the consistory court and there were two hearings before the privy council, all of which took money. The condemned cleric was busted by the proceedings and adopted some bizarre methods of getting cash. For one one thing, he exhibited himself squatting in a barrel with a show of performing fleas alongside. At two pennies a peep the rector's promoter had raised $500 from curious English yokels before the police busted up the show on a charge of obstructing traffic.

The rector of Stiffkey in himself is only an aberration which may occur any place at any time. But the attendant social phenomenon, such as the degradation of peeping multitudes, was a reflection upon the theory of innate British superiority to common frailties, and that was the sore spot for the British observation of the scene.

The discussion now deals with ways and means of suppressing such incidents in the future. It is proposed that when such a distressing episode is in prospect the disturbing person shall be yanked into a secret hearing from which no colorful and odorful details shall escape to the public notice. What the public does not know will not hurt it, and the innate superiority above mentioned will remain serenely dominant. If you can suppress conflicting evidence you can preserve the fiction.

A good deal can be said for this policy of agreeing to forget what it would be generally unpleasant to notice. It is a human instinct to save face, but when a nation by suppression of its frailties endeavors to present a superior front to the rest of the world, the other peoples imposed upon by such pretenses have a natural right to go behind the scenes and discover what these pretenses rest upon.

It has been the American habit to take the exposure and the consequences together as being in the long run the safest public policy. A hypocritical front carefully preserved by journalistic suppression will not forever conceal the fact that frailties exist, and it may long retard the correction which ought to go to the roots of that.

The Rev. Mr. Davidson permitted thousands of English subjects to reveal themselves as zanies. It was a spectacle which the English newspapers would have rejoiced to have discovered in a midwestern American community. It was one which the caste newspapers regarded as entirely too deplorable to be repeated in the public gaze. Therefore the London Times, for instance, observed that hereafter when misconduct becomes "too stubborn to yield to the quiet influence of the bishop or too gross to fall within it," the subsequent proceedings should be of such a nature as to prevent "the broadcasting of unimportant or unsavory detail."

EDUCATING MILITARY COMMAND.

The adjutant general of the regular army has decided that younger officers shall be given preference for study in the war college. The average of graduates is now 49. Gen. Bridges stipulates that at least half the quota assigned shall consist of officers who will be less than 44 upon graduation.

The order is a move in the right direction, but not far enough. A soldier is past his best years at 44, with very rare exceptions. The truth is that army regulations, in our army and in every regular army, are not primarily in the interest of military efficiency but in that of those who control them. Military bureaucracy is like every other form of bureaucracy. Its policies and practices are directed to serve the bureaucratic machine. Inside politics dictates its conduct, protects its hierarchy in the distribution of privileges and advantages, and makes convenient regulations rather than rules which will make the most disinterested use of available human material.

War college work should reach the officer when his mental and bodily vigor is high, his mind open to ideas and critical. The civilian institutions of higher learning are not full of students in middle age or past it, and the military type, in which obedience to forms and discipline is necessarily stressed from the beginning, is more likely to become uncritical and stereotyped than the civilian who spends his life in the perpetual competition and shifting conditions of business and civil affairs.

The cost in human life and in military reverse which the hidebound and unrealistic military mind has been responsible for in all wars has never been frankly revealed, but enough is known to appall any student of military history. We hear much of improvements in armament and organization, but even more important is improvement in military training and education in the direction of cultivating intellectual initiative, a realistic critical faculty, scientific respect for conditions and experience, and resistance to bureaucratic routine and self-seeking.

Editorial of the Day

TO KEEP OR BREAK FAITH!

[London Observer.]

M. Herriot came to London on Wednesday and returned to Paris on Friday with the words "All is well" on his lips. We could wish that it were. To the plain man neither official nor unofficial statements convey any reassurance, because they have the appearance of being concerned exclusively with forms and matters of convenience, when everybody knows that there is something of substance at stake.

What, exactly, then, has been achieved by the MacDonald-Herriot conversations? The real problem that had to be faced had been clearly defined since the end of August, when Freiherr von Neurath gave diplomatic form to the German claim to equality of status. That equality had been promised to Germany in 1919 and promised again in 1925. The statesmanship, first of Dr. Stresemann, then of Dr. Brüning, accepted those assurances in good faith and coached the German people to wait patiently and loyally for their fulfillment. They were not fulfilled. The advent of the Von Papen-Von Schleicher government marked the end of German patience and a demand for immediate satisfaction. The German claim was both reasonable and moderately expressed. It demanded not a German arming up to the strength of France but a French disarming to something nearer the strength of Germany; in short, a closing of the gap. What was the difficulty? France and her allies were committed by their signatures to grant what Germany asked. It was not even a new request. It was a request that an old promise be honored. France, however, by her note of Sept. 11, while holding out no hope of her own disarmament, vigorously combated what she diagnosed as an implied German threat to rearm.

Has it been made plain to M. Herriot that this country holds the German claim to be well founded and that its influence will not be lent to any continued evasion of an undertaking to which Great Britain and her allies of the war are fully committed? Unless that has been done all is not "well," but very far from it.

The face saving of high diplomacy is a matter that rouses the rest of the world to uttermost impatience. The fencing over selection of a suitable scene for discussion of the German demand comes into that category. Where there is a will to confer there is no difficulty in finding a place for it. The credit of no party is improved by the present demurrances. For Germany to be obstinate will only extend the impression that she is relapsing into the Hohenzollern philosophy. If France is beset by fears of such a development she is taking the surest way to fulfill them when she postpones the looking of her own pledge in the face. She will be blowing "security" sky high if she tries to enforce the bond of Versailles upon others and to repudiate its obligations upon herself.

COCK A DOODLE DOO! COCK A DOODLE DOO!

Our sole remaining rooster is cheering for the great moral victory won by our peerless leader, Norman Thomas. We gave the other roosters to the Democrats who wanted them for their great triumphal banquet. We thought if we gave them half our roosters they ought to be satisfied, but they insisted they had to have two chickens in every pot, though where they got that idea we cannot say. Anyhow, Mr. Thomas and his faithful followers won a great moral victory. In the words of the dramatic critic when a show is a flop, "It was an artistic but not a financial success." But that is what we yearned for. We wanted a moral victory. Moral victories are much greater than actual victories. When a great moral cause wins success the moral is marched out the next morning and shot at sunrise. When it doesn't achieve popular success the moral lives on and on and on until finally it triumphs. Whereupon it straightway goes to hell.

TO IDA.

Your eyes, your lips, your intimate caress,
These have you given me for good or ill,
And as we part today I must confess
That I shall find your place too hard to fill;
You've spoiled me for the run of petty souls,
Catlike or serpentine or selfish-sad,
Should I regret spilled milk or broken bowls,
Remembering the days that were so glad?

And so I shall walk lonely for a time,
How long the lords of life alone can tell,
Translating longing into restless rhyme,
I shall win port despite the blight of odds,
Ignoring all the gossip of the gods.

E. LESLIE SPAULDING.

OUR UNCLE LIGE says there's no danger, they'll never know. That was when we asked him what the sovereign voters who supported Gov. Roosevelt under the impression they were voting for Col. Theodore Roosevelt would do when they woke up and found out their mistake. "They'll never find out," said Uncle Lige. "Look at Tennessee; they've been voting for Andy Jackson down there since 1828, over a hundred years, and they'll keep on voting for Old Hickory for the next hundred years."

THE SWEET old custom of hanging up stockings on Christmas eve seems to have received an awful kick in the pants as a result of the election. Everybody we talked with yesterday said they were going to hang up a beer keg.

LIQUOR STOCKS went soaring on the Paris bourse yesterday as a consequence of our little election over here. Benedictine shares jumped 200 points and Cusinier brandy made a rise of 5 points. Oh, friends, think it over; they hope soon we will be in the market for Benedictine and Cusinier brandy. Just to think of sipping Benedictine and Cusinier brandy again! Here, waiter, take this white mule and this bath tub hootch away and throw it in the alley.

AND THERE WERE many signs and portents yesterday of a new day dawning in the sky. Max the Bootlegger called up and asked us if we knew anybody that wanted to buy a good second hand sixteen cylinder sedan.

DEETS PICKETT, one of the high fences for the bone drys, tried to smile through the gloom which enshrouded his sacred cause yesterday by getting hold of an "anyway" that seemed to soothe his lacerated soul a little. "Anyway," said Deets Pickett, "anyway, Mr. Roosevelt is a total abstainer." We were going to say—but, no, if it gives the drys any bit of happiness to dwell upon the fact that Mr. Roosevelt is a total abstainer, far be it from us to intrude at this sad moment with a mocking laugh. But why is it that the drys are so satisfied with Mr. Roosevelt's total abstainer attitude now and never thought to rejoice over it before the election? Huh! And also we are reliably informed that Mr. Roosevelt is very fond of spinach. But we do not think he is going to ask for a constitutional amendment requiring every citizen of this glorious country to likewise eat spinach.

Every poet sings of posies—
Sweet peas, hollyhocks, and rosies.
I think what this country needs
Is some one to sing of weeds.
Flowers get their share of glory,
They are praised in song and story.
Weeds, poor things, work just as hard
Growing out in my back yard.
Not one word of praise they get,
Naught but criticism—yet
Do they murmur or complain?
No! They grow through sun and rain.
Do they pine and fade away?
Don't you think it. Every day
They produce their crop of seeds.
Unappreciated weeds!

MARJORIE F. W.

AND IN SPITE of the crashing and splintering and wreckage all over the place, up jumps Henry Ford and says he voted the Republican ticket. Aha, Henry, so you're the one!

WELL, NOW the election is over, what shall we get excited about next? A Jap-Chinese war is old stuff—we can hardly get a kick out of that—and the depression isn't exciting; it's just a pain in the neck. Go ahead, somebody, and start something. We've just got to keep all het up over something or other.

THE MALAY MIND.

FREDERICK O'BRIEN made the statement that we had greatly harmed the South Sea islands by imposing on them a religion that was out of harmony with their philosophy of life. They had tried to embrace it but they failed, so far as basic principles were concerned. Nor had they been able to purge themselves of their philosophy. What was added to their lives would not mix with what they retained. The result was half oil and half water, each spoiled the other, and, therefore, the mixture as a staff of life was nothing at all.

Just where it came from no one knows, but in the great racial admixture found in the Pacific South seas there is a type of mind which makes the person live each day by itself. There are no tomorrows and no yesterdays. Somewhere they got hold of the philosophy of present living. The Hawaiians have it, and probably we on the American mainland know most about it as a Hawaiian characteristic; and, knowing so little about it, we are unable to understand it. Of the people who think as we do probably the Australians and New Zealanders have seen more of it at close range than any of our group.

The South Sea Islanders did not get it from the Japanese or the Chinese. Probably no philosophy is farther from it than that which predominates in Japan. If the South Sea islanders did not get it from the Japanese or Chinese, to whom they have been considerably exposed, could it have come to them from the once great colonists, the Spaniards and Portuguese? The approach of these nations has always been religious and their religion is, philosophically, one of future punishments and rewards.

If a source must be found the African Negro seems to be the best prospect, and to them the South sea people have been exposed in varying degree for centuries. The philosophy that is part of the make-up of the Negro is that of present living, with its implications of no yesterdays and no tomorrows.

One of the remedies proposed for our present disorders is that we bring over the South Sea island philosophy and adopt it as an antidote for our individual and collective worry disorder; that instead of teaching the Hawaiians to think and feel as we do that we teach ourselves to view life as they do. Here and there in these islands are men who suffer the discomforts of living among those people who feel themselves repaid in the opportunity they have for present living, with its escape from the worries of tomorrow living. It is proposed that we bring the Hawaiian policy to our people rather than force individuals to make long journeys and to live in discomfort to get it.

Our social basis is one of thought of the morrow. On it are based planning organization, economic development, thrift, power, not to mention religion. On it are also based worry, anxiety, fear, uncertainty, insomnia, inferiority complexes, dishonesty, selfishness, covetousness, and some other vices that grow out of thrift and a sense of responsibility. Worry has become almost a national menace. It is certainly a great menace to mental health. But can this leopard change its spots? The South Sea islands have not, nor has the Hawaiian leopard. The American Negro has been trying to change his for seventy years. How well has he succeeded?

TUBERCULOSIS.

Mrs. R. D. writes: 1. How does one fumigate a house in which a patient died from tuberculosis after having been sick for four years?

2. What should be done with articles that cannot be washed?

3. For what reason did the patient's doctor perform an operation on her side by removing a part of rib to drain from the pleural cavity, and also at her neck?

REPLY.

1. Sun the house well, air well, and clean well. Beyond that you need not go.
2. Sun and air them.
3. Probably there was a tubercular pleurisy and tubercular glands with pus in both.

OPERATION.

Mrs. D. M. writes: We have been told that my son, 12 years old, had a rupture, perhaps since birth.

1. Is there any method of permanent cure?
2. Would a truss be advisable?
3. Is operating a permanent cure?

REPLY.

1. Yes—operation of some kind. A few cases are cured by trusses and an occasional one by exercise.
2. Yes.
3. Yes. There are some exceptions.

MAY KEEP MOUTH OPEN.

Mrs. H. H. B. writes: I am 21 years old and have good health. My tongue stays coated all the time and I have a terrible taste when I get up in the morning. I am not constipated.

REPLY.

MORTGAGE.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—The bank which has the mortgage on our house has failed. In the savings department of the bank we had some money. Can we get credit for the full amount of what we had in the bank in payment on our interest notes?

H. L.

Yes, if the bank is actually the beneficial owner of the notes, but it seems probable that they are held by other persons and the bank has been merely acting as collecting agent.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

DISPOSITION OF ESTATE.

Washington Island, Wis., Nov. 6.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—In a case where a will is not made, an administrator appointed, and property probated through court, [1] is it then possible for the administrator to sell the property without the heirs signing papers to give him that privilege? 2. In such case is the buyer of the property given a clear deed? In this particular case the taxes on the property were paid by the administrator during the time it was going through court. The property is now sold and paid for [3] to the knowledge of no one but the administrator. W. H.

1. If the personal property is not sufficient to pay debts, then statutory proceedings to sell real estate to pay debts are possible.
2. Yes, if the facts warrant the proceedings and they are properly handled.
3. We see no reason why you should not examine the records in the office of the clerk of the court and ascertain the theory on which the sale was handled.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

REPAIRS MADE.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—[Friend of the People.]—What steps can be taken to have the street car company replace a badly depressed rail? Every time a car passes over it you can hear it blocks away, and it is very annoying during the night. This condition has existed the last two years.

G. E. K.

An inspector assigned to investigate this complaint reports a defect in the rail at the point mentioned. The Surface Lines have made the necessary repairs and passing cars should not cause any further annoyance.

JEFFREY A. O'CONNOR,
Commissioner of Public Service.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

NOVEMBER 10, 1916.

CHICAGO.—President Wilson has been reëlected. Unofficial returns gave him a total of 269 votes in the electoral college—three more than the requisite majority. Complete returns may increase his total to 272. The election was determined in favor of the President last night after forty-eight hours of uncertainty by additional returns showing that California had gone Democratic. The President early in the day had been assured of 251 electoral votes. The addition of California gave him 264. In North Dakota he has a lead that is not likely to be overcome by the complete returns and the five votes from that state make his total 269. New Mexico also seems likely to be added to the Wilson column, making the President's score 272. In New Hampshire the result is in doubt, with Mr. Hughes in the lead, but the Democratic managers are claiming the state for Wilson. Mr. Hughes appears to have won Minnesota and West Virginia and with New Hampshire he has a total of 259 electoral votes, seven less than a majority of the electoral college.

BUCHAREST. — The Bulgarian troops are retreating along their whole front in the province of Dobrudja, according to a semi-official statement issued here. As the Bulgarians withdraw, the statement says, they are systematically burning the Rumanian villages.

BERLIN.—German artillery defeated several efforts of the French and British to make advances on the Somme front, the war office statements say. These efforts were made between Le Sars and Bouchavesnes as well as to the south of the Somme near Pressoire.

BERLIN.—Prince Henry of Bavaria, nephew of King Louis and commander of a battalion of the King's Own infantry, has been killed in battle. The prince's mother has gone to the front to bring back the body of her only child. Prince Henry was 32 years old. He was unmarried.

CHICAGO.—"A dry Chicago by 1918 and a dry nation by 1920." Chicago drys representing all branches of the temperance movement have adopted this as their aim. The dry Chicago federation will have William Jennings Bryan as its speaker Nov. 20. The coming of "Billy" Sunday to Chicago next fall is also counted on as an important factor in creating sentiment which will carry to a successful issue a dry vote in the spring.

KANSAS CITY, Kas.—A bill declaring the Adamson national eight-hour law "unconstitutional and unworkable" and asking that the district attorney and "labor leaders" be enjoined from putting it into effect was filed in the federal District court here today by the Santa Fe railroad. The Union Pacific has already taken similar action. The claim of unconstitutionality is based on allegations that the law is not a regulation of commerce, but "a mere experiment for future decision as to whether there ought to be any legislation"; that it violates the fifth amendment by depriving the company of its liberty of contract and property; that it "unjustly excludes certain railroads and employés from its operation"; and that it inflicts enormous penalties.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

NO RECOMMENDATION.

Oak Park, Ill., Nov. 8.—It is with regret that I find that you sidetracked the presidential recommendation. I can honor you for choosing any candidate for President, but I cannot forgive you for dodging this issue. J. E. PRINGLE.

THE SPIRIT OF THINGS.

Riverside, Ill., Nov. 8.—Whoopee!! Farley for secretary of state!

JOHN OWEN THOMAS.

OH, YEAH, AND SEZ YOU.

La Grange, Ill., Nov. 7.—This letter is not a case of "sour grapes"; please note it is written before the election. I simply wish to express profound disgust and contempt of your stand, if I may use the word in its broadest sense, on the presidential election. For a paper to lean towards one presidential candidate throughout the campaign only to publish on the eve of election what it knows to be ridiculous and misleading odds favoring the opposite candidate is one of the worst cases of yellow journalism I have seen. W. C. MEYERS.

IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN WORSE.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—The splendid coöperation of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE in the selection of better judges is most gratefully acknowledged by the Chicago Bar association. CHARLES P. MEGAN,
President, the Chicago Bar Association.

NOTRE DAME'S DEFEAT.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Westbrook Pegler has voiced the opinion of all lovers of true sport in his article of Nov. 1 regarding the loss of the game at Pittsburgh by Notre Dame.

One would have thought, to read the comments of the sport writers in your last Sunday morning edition, that the Pittsburgh Panthers had committed some crime in defeating Notre Dame, and, in fact, the tendency of the sport writers all fall has been to set Notre Dame upon a pedestal, and I for one am glad to see them tumbled off.

It would do the boys good down there if they would lose about half their games, as one-sided sport, with one team winning all the time, is not good sportsmanship. E. G. VAIL.

FRANCE'S MAGNIFICENT INNOCENCE.

Hinsdale, Ill., Nov. 2.—Premier Herriot said in one of his recent speeches that France is protected today as she was in 1914 by her magnificent innocence. Laying aside France's share in the war guilt; laying aside her innocent child, the treaty of Versailles; forgetting about her military hegemony in Europe; forgetting about her accumulation of Europe's gold and her reluctance to pay us—it was France which approved of Japan's recent military aggressions; it is France which is blocking our open door policy in the orient. Magnificent innocence! Hell's dame! Some of us are not quite innocent enough to swallow such bunk. E. C. M.

DEDUCTING TAXES FROM WAGES.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Here is an idea to make a far greater number of our citizens tax conscious and lessen the evils of the present system: Let all employers of labor of any nature deduct from the wages of their employés a fair proportion in order to pay the employés' share of the tax burden imposed on the business. R. I. SIMONS.

RECOLLECTIONS OF THE GREAT FIRE.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—I thank you for the editorial in this morning's issue reprinted from THE TRIBUNE of Oct. 11, 1871, entitled, "Cheer Up." I can say amen to everything in that editorial.

I saw the Chicago fire. I was employed at that time by John V. Farwell & Co. in their wholesale dry goods house on Wabash avenue near Madison street. The fire had gone past the Farwell building, the wind being southwest to northeast, and we thought that we were safe. I was on top of their building for two hours that morning and saw the fire to the southwest, west, northwest and north. I saw the Field & Leiter building burn that morning; saw a pigeon go down through the smoke near Wabash avenue and Washington street and fly away over the lake.

About 10 o'clock on the morning of the 10th Gen. Sheridan came to Chicago and took charge of matters and had powder put under two buildings on Wabash avenue and Hubbard court [now 7th street]. Gen. Sheridan said to C. B. Farwell, "I want somebody to give me authority to blow up these buildings." Farwell said, "Will you take me?" Sheridan said, "Yes." Farwell said, "Go ahead." But he did not tell this for about 20 years, because he was afraid they would sue him for the value of the buildings, but the blowing up of those buildings stopped the fire from going south and probably saved a large part of the south side. The fire department was out of commission, the pumping station at Chicago avenue and North Michigan having burned about a quarter of three o'clock in the morning.

What goods the Farwell company saved were put in Lake park about Eldridge court [now 9th street], and they were moved to John A. Logan's barn on the alley next to the Illinois Central right of way, north of 22d street, a one story barn, built that way to allow the people from the house on Calumet avenue to see Lake Michigan.

I was on guard the night of the 10th and Gen. Logan handed me an 18 shot rifle which had twelve shots in it, and I asked for the other six and Gen. Logan and Mr. Farwell, who was there at the time, laughed heartily at my request.

I sold the first bill of dry goods for John V. Farwell & Co. after the fire and took them on a basket truck to 22d street to the customer. I know of the tremendous amount of food and clothing that was sent to Chicago. I was a member of the Plymouth church at the southeast corner of Wabash avenue and Eldridge court, I think the nearest church to the burned district on the south side, and this church was one of the depots where the necessities of life were given out.

I have seen Chicago grow over eleven times in population and six times in territory and I have great faith for the future of this city.

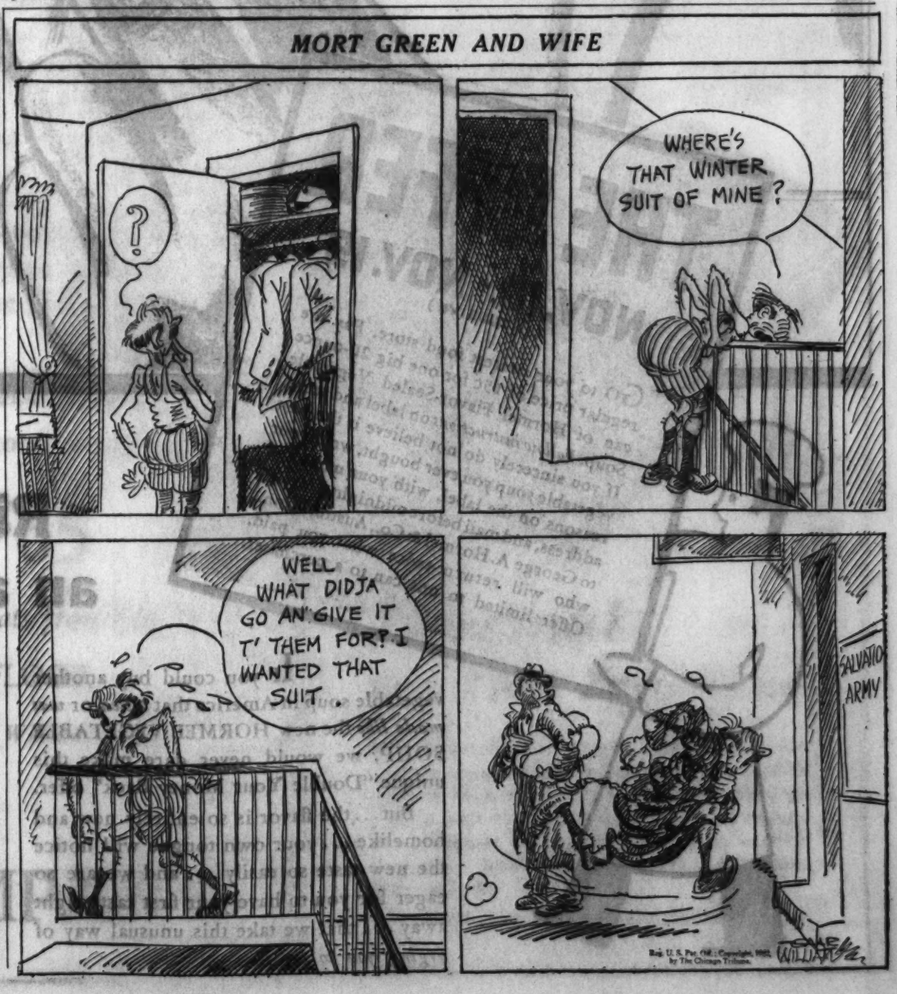
ARTHUR BURRAGE FARWELL.

BUT THE INDIAN REMEDIES WERE NEARLY WORTHLESS.

Hinsdale, Ill., Nov. 7.—After reading Katherine McLaughlin's interesting article in yesterday's TRIBUNE on the medicinal and healing properties of herbs, nature's own remedies, it makes one wonder if the old time clean remedies are not still much more effective than the diseased animal products now so generally advocated—and injected in the blood streams of our children.

MRS. H. O. MATILE.

MORT GREEN AND WIFE



GOV. ROOSEVELT AND DEMOCRATS SWEEP FAR WEST

McAdoo Wins; Colleague of Borah Beaten.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Democracy's broom swept the far west as it never has been in the present century by any Democratic ticket, cleaning out most of the Republican incumbents or candidates, veteran and newcomer alike.

While the 49 electoral votes of the seven states were going to the Roosevelt-Garner hopper, a lone Republican senatorial candidate and a handful of Republican candidates for national representative managed to keep their feet.

In Oregon Senator Frederick Steiwer, Republican, was reelected and at least one of the state's three national representatives will be of the same political faith. It will be the only far western state with two Republican senators at Washington.

Reed Smoot Defeated.

California, registering a gain of nearly a half million Democrats as compared with 1928, gave Franklin D. Roosevelt a plurality over the 300,000 mark. The senatorial contest went to William G. McAdoo. The state expected to have at least five Republican representatives.

In Utah Reed Smoot, Republican of 30 years' standing in the United States senate, will be succeeded by Dr. Elbert D. Thomas, Democrat.

Wesley L. Jones of Washington, Republican incumbent, lost to Homer T. Bone.

Borah's Colleague Beaten.

Nevada swept aside a veteran, Tasker L. Oddie, who first rode into the senate on the crest of a similar Republican wave in 1920. The victor, P. A. McCarran, Democrat, pledged aid for the mining and live stock industries.

POLICE DECIDE SLAIN TAILOR ENDED OWN LIFE

Matthew Chermak, 55 years old, of 1110 West 63d street, who was found shot to death at 31st street and Spaulding avenue early yesterday, apparently killed himself and was not a robbery victim, Lawndale police said last night after a day of investigation.

From Chermak's son, John, Lieut. Julian Bernacchi learned that Chermak was unable to meet a $5,000 payment on a $14,000 mortgage on his home. Police had understood earlier that Chermak was expecting to meet the note.

During the day detectives questioned Rudolph Knafl, 28 years old, a nephew of Chermak. Chermak had spent part of Tuesday night at the Knafl home at 3059 South St. Louis avenue, which is two blocks from where his body was found. Robbery was followed as a theory at first because Chermak's money and watch, which he usually carried, were missing from his pockets. These were found at his home last night.

KENTUCKY JOINS ROLL OF STATES FOR ROOSEVELT

Ballot Count Delayed Day by Law.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Kentucky came into line with the other states of the south which went on to pile up unprecedented majorities for the next President of the United States.

The blue grass state under a state law had to delay the start of its ballot count until this morning. From the first it showed a two to one trend for Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Senator Alben W. Barkley had a ratio proportionate to Gov. Roosevelt in the figures tabulated in the Kentucky senatorial race.

The Democratic sweep in the south left only two Republican congressmen, B. Carroll Reece of the First Tennessee district and J. Will Taylor of the Second district in that state. These two districts have long been Republican.

Majorities Are Large.

Virginia, North Carolina, Florida, and Tennessee, which were carried by President Hoover in 1928, returned to the Democratic ranks yesterday with tremendous majorities for Roosevelt.

Robert R. Reynolds, Democratic senatorial nominee, won by an overwhelming majority in North Carolina over J. F. Newell, Republican. Reynolds in the Democratic primary defeated Senator Cameron Morrison by a 107,000 majority on a platform advocating immediate repeal of the prohibition act. Newell was for the retention of the eighteenth amendment. Reynolds' ratio over Newell was more than two and a half to one. The state gave an even greater ratio to John C. B. Ehringhaus, Democratic nominee for governor.

Florida Margin 100,000.

Roosevelt's majority in Florida neared the 100,000 mark, compared with the approximate 43,000 majority by which it went for Hoover in 1928. W. J. Howey, Republican, was defeated for governor by Dave Sholtz, the vote showing a ratio of approximately 2 to 1 for the Democrats.

The vote in Virginia for Roosevelt was more than two to one over President Hoover, and the entire Democratic slate of congressional candidates was elected by a big majority. Virginia in 1928 gave Hoover a majority of approximately 24,000.

VOTERS DEMAND COLORADO DRY LAW'S REPEAL

Democrats Lead on State Tickets West.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Down the slopes of the Rockies the Democratic avalanche rolled with accumulating force today as the count of ballots cast in yesterday's election progressed.

In Colorado Alva B. Adams, former United States senator and nephew of Colorado's governor, increased his lead over his Republican opponent, Karl C. Schuyler, for the six year term. Schuyler held a lead over Walter Walker, Democrat, Grand Junction, Colo., newspaper publisher, for the short term following the death of Senator Waterman, Republican. The voters approved a constitutional amendment to repeal June 30, 1933, the state's 18 year old bone dry law. Two income tax measures were snowed under.

Dennis Chavez, Democrat, congressman at large of New Mexico, and Gov. Arthur Seligman were reelected by safe leads. All Democratic candidates were elected in New Mexico.

Gov. John E. Erickson, Democrat, of Montana was in a close race for reelection with Frank A. Hazelbaker, Republican lieutenant governor. With 713 precincts of 1,443 tabulated; Erickson got 52,555; Hazelbaker, 52,332. Miss Elizabeth Ireland, Montana state superintendent of public instruction, was the only Republican to survive the Democratic sweep in her state.

WOMEN PREPARE FOR $7,500,000 WELFARE DRIVE

The women's division of the emergency welfare fund of Cook county met yesterday in preparation for the opening of the fund's public drive for $7,500,000 for welfare work, which begins on Monday. Mrs. William L. Hodgkins, chairman of the division, presided. Robert A. Gardner, chairman of the drive, spoke on the relief needs of Cook county.

A speakers' division will be organized by the fund at a meeting to be held tonight in the Chicago club. The chairman will be Courtenay Davis. The speakers at the meeting will be R. Douglas Stuart, president of the fund; Mr. Gardner, Mr. Davis, and Samuel Goldsmith, executive director of the Jewish Charities.

FINNS ALARMED AT NEW DRIVE BY RUM SMUGGLERS

[Copyright, 1932, By the New York Times.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Nov. 9.—Appearance in the Gulf of Finland of a steamer said to be flying the British flag and carrying 40,000 litres of German made alcohol, is viewed with concern here as indicating an invigorated liquor smuggling offensive by international capitalists.

Recently another large British rum runner with 100,000 litres of alcohol operated in the Baltic and it was rumored that several more British rum runners were engaged in smuggling liquor into Finland.

POLICE RELEASE SUSPECTS SEIZED AT VOTING PLACE

A number of suspected hoodlums, arrested on Tuesday in the vicinity of polling places, were released yesterday when arraigned on charges of disorderly conduct. Police admitted they had no definite charges against the men.

The authorities repeated that it was the quietest election in many years. The only victim was Philip Schwartz, 23 years old, captain of the 14th precinct of the 39th ward, who was beaten by several men at the polling place at 3654 Lawrence avenue. Schwartz was recovering yesterday.

HORNER TO HAVE SMALL MAJORITY IN LEGISLATURE

"Old Timers" Uprooted by Democratic Votes.

Governor Elect Henry Horner apparently has been given a small majority of Democratic assemblymen in both houses of the legislature. The returns, which were still incomplete last night, indicated, however, that the Democratic advantage would be small.

The political upheaval, however, changed the complexion of the legislature materially. A number of old timers were uprooted by the avalanche, notably Senator Henry M. Dunlap of Savoy, the veteran Republican who has been elected continuously since 1892, except in 1912 when he was defeated by the landslide in the "Bull Moose" year. Senator Dunlap was about 2,000 votes behind his Democratic opponent, W. E. C. Clifford of Champaign, with but 16 precincts to be heard from.

Mrs. Bohrer Defeated.

Mrs. Florence Fifer Bohrer, the daughter of former Gov. "Private Joe" Fifer of Bloomington, and the first woman senator in Illinois, was also apparently snowed under. She lost to L. C. Sieberns of Gridley. There were other notable casualties in both chambers.

After having been declared defeated early yesterday, James J. Barbour of Evanston, another veteran Republican, came to the front in the last returns, defeating Walter A. Goranson, the Democrat. Final returns from the 6th district gave Barbour 61,150, Goranson 60,683. A third Republican who seemed to be defeated was William R. McCauley of Olney, the senator from Gov. Emmerson's district, who was trailing H. S. Burgess of Fairfield, former senator and a Democrat, on the basis of incomplete returns.

If the upsets indicated in the early returns are borne out by complete downstate reports, which were slow in coming in, considerable attention will turn to the organization of the legislature next January when the 53th assembly convenes. Lieut Gov. Donovan, a Democrat, will be the presiding officer in the senate.

Senate Leader Needed.

The selection of a president pro tempore from these ranks will be one of the difficult jobs the Horner administration faces, for there are not many Democrats in the senate who take an active part in debate, now that Thomas J. Courtney, elected state's attorney of Cook county, the present minority leader, will be out of the upper chamber.

A hard fight looms in the house where Speaker David E. Shanahan [Rep., Chicago] has reigned so long with acclaim. There was even some talk yesterday of a coalition movement to continue Mr. Shanahan on the rostrum. In the other event the choice of a Democratic speaker is thought to lie between John P. Devine of Dixon and Arthur Roe of Vandalia. Both are former minority leaders. The present Democratic leader, Michael L. Igoe, ran for the nomination for governor in April and was defeated.

If either Devine or Roe were elected speaker, it is believed likely that the other would serve as majority leader. Considerable political gossip on this point is expected next Tuesday when the special session of the 57th assembly reconvenes to consider further charity relief measures.

Win 30 Senate Seats.

The Democrats, it appeared last night, will have at least thirty, and perhaps thirty-two seats in the senate, and 79 or 80 in the house. This would give them from two to four majority in the upper chamber and two or three in the house. At present the Republicans are in power in both, the count being 32 to 19 in the senate and 80 to 73 in the house.

The apparent winners in the house and senate contests in the Chicago districts, on the basis of returns received up to a late hour last night, are as follows:

GARNER TO KEEP CONGRESS SEAT UNTIL MARCH 4

Will Go Hunting Before Return to Capital.

Uvalde, Tex., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Parboiled squirrel and quail were on the mind of John N. Garner, Vice President elect, tonight as he contemplated hunting trips through the canyons of the Nueces and the Rio Grande before reporting to Washington for the short term of congress and the inauguration next March.

"I want to go out for a season in the open," he said. "Nothing pleases me more than to do my own cooking in the open." He explained that no matter how old the squirrel or quail, if it was parboiled and then broiled the meat would be "done to a turn."

Texas to Remain Home.

"If I live, I shall be 65 years old when I complete this vice presidential term," he said. "I want to come back here and live my life in my own way after I get through in Washington."

Garner came to town early this morning after spending a period in his office with "Etta," his wife and political adviser. He read hundreds of telegrams and directed how they should be answered.

Then he went to the bank of his son, Tully Garner, receiving the congratulations of fellow townsmen on the way. He greeted "the newspaper boys," but representatives of "sound pictures" were given a cold shoulder.

Dislikes Sound Pictures.

"I do not want you to record my voice on that thing," he said. "I can talk to these newspaper boys and rest my case with them."

Garner, elected to congress again yesterday, said he did not contemplate resigning until after he had qualified as Vice President.

He cherished particularly a message of congratulations he had received from Rene B. Creager, Texas national Republican committeeman.

"All Texans, irrespective of party ties, are proud of you and of the honor you have brought our state," Creager wired Garner.

"Let Roosevelt give it out; I shall not do any talking," Garner said.

THOMAS, SOCIALIST, MAKES BIG GAIN OVER HIS VOTE IN 1928

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—(AP)—With less than a third of the country heard from, Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for President, today had passed his vote of 1928 by more than 30,000 ballots.

Reports from 33,761 of the 119,723 districts gave the former Presbyterian minister 309,141 votes. In 1928 he received 267,000 votes.

New York City gave Thomas 120,486 votes. Wisconsin, Connecticut, Massachusetts and California were showing up the strong Socialist states outside of New York.

Wisconsin, home of the late Senator Robert La Follette Sr., who received nearly five million votes with the Socialist support in his Progressive party campaign in 1924, has given Thomas 34,017 votes so far.

In Massachusetts the Socialist was climbing steadily, having reached 19,338 votes when 957 of the state's 1,707 districts had been counted. Connecticut showed more than 20,000 votes from all districts, and California had produced almost the same number with slightly more than half of its 10,547 districts counted.

He Calms the Neighbors, Then Finishes His Suicide

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Neighbors rushed into the apartment of Lewis W. Lindy, 50, screen writer and magazine editor, after hearing what they thought was a shot. Liddy was found quietly smoking. He said he had knocked over a heavy table. There was a second sharp report. Neighbors rushed in again—Liddy was dead, a new automatic pistol beside the body.

AUTOIST KILLED AS SNOW BLOCKS VIEW OF TRAIN

Winfield Township Official Victim; Wife May Die.

Michael Kammes, 70 years old, supervisor of Winfield township, Du Page county, was killed yesterday, and his wife, Lena, 60 years old, was critically injured when their automobile was struck by a Chicago, Aurora and Elgin train two miles north of Wheaton. Police said Kammes apparently was blinded by the snow.

The accident occurred at the Creis crossing near Geneva road. Dr. A. B. Jones of Wheaton was summoned. He pronounced Kammes dead and sent Mrs. Kammes to the Community hospital in Geneva. It was said last night that she might not survive.

Miss Louise Burrows, 51 years old, 550 College avenue, Lake Forest, was arrested by the Wilmette police last night and charged with reckless driving after her car struck another at Central avenue and Main street, Wilmette.

Mrs. Helen Johns, 28 years old, 1228 Gregory avenue, Wilmette, one of the occupants of the second automobile, was slightly injured. Miss Burrows was released on bonds of $300 and will have a hearing before Justice of the Peace John Peters on Nov. 16.

William Palmer, 73 years old, 2431 Warren avenue, died yesterday in the county hospital of injuries suffered Oct. 21 in an automobile collision at Michigan avenue and Randolph street. The other driver, William Taylor, 2440 Albion avenue, will face a charge of reckless driving in the speeders' court on Nov. 15.

Palmer's death and one other yesterday brought the Cook county automobile toll for 1932 to 976. The other victim:

David Service, 69 years old, an inmate of the Oak Forest infirmary. Died there of injuries suffered Sunday night when he was struck by a hit and run motorist at Cicero avenue and 161st street.

Schmedeman's Manager Puts Over Second Winner

Madison, Wis., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—C. Pat Engelbreth, Madison, campaign manager for Governor Elect Albert G. Schmedeman, is expected to be appointed to one of the secretarial positions in the state executive office. Engelbreth, who formerly was a newspaper man, appears to be able to pick winning candidates with a certainty. Six years ago he resigned a correspondent's position to direct the campaign of Fred Zimmerman, who was elected governor after he virtually had been given no chance of victory.

"Until comparatively recent times physicians attending women of the upper class in China never saw their patients except for a hand extended from behind a concealing curtain for the taking of the pulse," Dr. Berthold Laufer, curator of anthropology, explained. "For the rest of their diagnosis the doctors had to depend on a proxy in the form of a small carved figure of a woman upon which the patient indicated the relative location of her complaint."

1,900 WORKMEN ON POSTOFFICE RACE WITH TIME

Nineteen hundred workmen are making the shell of the new 22 million dollar federal postoffice echo with the noise of their activities as they race against time in an effort to get the structure ready for occupancy Jan. 2. In an inspection tour yesterday it became apparent that order is emerging out of the chaos which the layman usually finds in an incomplete building.

A postoffice official pointed out ramps, loading platforms, conveyors, slide tables, "crows' nests," elevator shafts, ventilators, and heating units —some ready for use and others well along toward completion. In the vast spaces of the structure rooms have taken shape, many with the walls plastered and the floors laid.

Pay $5,500,000 for Site.

The site of the building, at Canal street between Van Buren and Harrison streets, was purchased by the government from the Union station company in May, 1931, for $5,500,000. This price included the purchase of the railway mail building which up to that time had been leased to the government by the station company. This building wil lbe incorporated into the new postoffice.

In August of last year the main structure contract was awarded to John Griffiths & Son for $13,459,970. The Westinghouse Electric company was engaged to install the elevator system for $739,500, and the Lamson Co., Inc., of Syracuse, N. Y., was given the job of putting in the mail handling equipment for $1,760,077. These three contracts total $15,959,547 and, together with the purchase price of the air rights, make the building approximately a 22 million dollar project, after incidental costs have been figured.

Rear Ceilings Higher.

There are thirteen floors in the front part of the structure which faces Van Buren street, where the offices are placed, and nine floors in the rear, where the mail will be handled. Outwardly the building appears to be the same height, front and rear, the difference in the number of floors being accounted for by the fact that ceilings are higher in the mail handling section.

In explaining how the new postoffice will be operated, one of the officials said trucks bearing mail from substations and railroad depots will be driven in at the Harrison street end and will ascend a ramp to the second floor. There an attendant will direct them to back up to the unloading platform opposite certain numbers, depending upon the type of mail carried. After the trucks have been unloaded they will descend another ramp and leave by way of Congress street.

Elevators Aid Sorting.

If the mail which these trucks bring is first class it will be placed in elevators and taken up to the eighth floor for sorting. Otherwise it will be put upon conveyors and taken up to the fifth, sixth, or seventh floor, depending upon its destination.

On the seventh floor there will be a primary sorting and the mail will be dumped onto conveyors or into chutes and will either go directly down to the dispatching platforms on the ground level or will be routed through the sixth, fifth, and fourth floors for further classification.

In the lobby, fronting on Van Buren street, there are windows where mail will be received from the public. The executives offices are placed at this end of the building.

27 Miles of Belting.

It was said yesterday that the heating plant is expected to be in operation by the first of December, after which approximately 27 miles of belting will be installed in the conveyors. The conveyors, leading as high as the seventh floor, are now complete save for the belting.

There will be 19 passenger and 23 freight elevators. It was estimated that 50,000 tons of steel and 16,000 tons of stone are being used in the construction of the building, which is 800 feet long and 324 feet wide. In the deal for the air rights an area of 273,945 square feet was involved.

This will be the largest postoffice in the world and the most expensive building ever erected by the United States government outside of the District of Columbia.

After the building is occupied in January considerable work will remain to be done, postal officials said. Pending the completion of this work there will be variations in the general plan for the handling of the mail, but it is expected that the system will be operating in its permanent form by October of next year.

NINE INJURED WHEN BOMB EXPLODES IN NEW YORK CHIMNEY

New York, Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Nine persons were injured tonight when a bomb exploded in a chimney in the double wall between a four story tenement house and a three story private house in Grand street. Both buildings were badly damaged by the blast, which routed several families from the tenement.

Eight young men playing cards were the principal victims of the explosion. The bomb went off on a level with the room in which they were playing. It blew out the wall and shattered the floor beneath them, with the result that they were precipitated to the ground floor under a mass of debris.

PHYSICIANS TELL OF PROGRESS IN MEDICAL WORLD

Speak at Gathering of Laymen.

Four physicians discussed health topics and medical research before a public gathering in the auditorium of the Medical and Dental Arts building last night. The meeting was one of a series sponsored by the Chicago Medical society designed to interest laymen.

Dr. A. J. Carlson, professor of physiology at the University of Chicago, told of experiments which he performed upon himself, upon his friends, and upon animals in an effort to learn what goes on in the stomach when the pangs of hunger are felt.

Describes Medical Progress.

Dr. A. C. Ivy, professor of physiology and pharmacology at Northwestern university, reviewed steps in the progress of medical science—the development of anasthesia, the discovery of the germ causation of contagious diseases, the discovery that immunity to certain diseases may be produced by vaccination, the development of antiseptics, the knowledge of symptoms acquired from familiarity with physiology and anatomy, the adaptation of insulin to the treatment of diabetes and of liver extract to the treatment of pernicious anemia, the discovery of the significance of vitamins in the treatment of rickets, and the knowledge that cancer can be cured when taken in its early stages.

Health Editor Speaks.

Dr. W. A. Evans, health editor of THE TRIBUNE, told of progress made in educating the public in medical matters. He pointed out that lectures to laymen, sponsored by universities and medical societies, have done much to arouse a vital public interest in matters of health. The educational process is slow, he said, but when one compares the public attitude of today with that of 30 years ago it is apparent that some progress is being made. People now have higher health standards, he said, and there is less faith placed in quackery and medical ballyhoo.

Dr. Logan Clendening, professor of clinical medicine at the University of Kansas, described the position of the family doctor in the general scheme for combating disease. He said that this practitioner provides the personal contact between the pure scientist, the medical research worker and the public.

AUTO MEN WAGER ON A REVIVED WAVE OF BUYING

Put Thousands to Work on Lower Priced Car.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Walter P. Chrysler selected this day after the election for another important announcement in his corporation's aggressive automobile merchandising campaign. The 1933 Dodge is in production in a plant retooled at a cost of approximately $4,000,000 so that the cars can be marketed at a price reduction of about $140.

The political speeches of office seekers depicting business as awaiting the outcome of the election became forgotten history as executives of one of the largest manufacturing industries sat down to lunch this noon and outlined plans for expanded efforts that have no bearing on the outcome of the polls yesterday.

"The American public," said B. E. Hutchinson, vice president of Dodge and president of Plymouth, "doesn't ride on donkeys or on elephants, the public rides automobiles and will continue to ride automobiles."

Favorable If Any Effect.

If the election had any influence on this automobile industry it was favorable. K. T. Keller, president of Dodge Brothers, said his plant was ready to start production of beer trucks on short notice. The cars for hauling kegs and cases of legal brew have been designed and the engineering department is set with the specifications for factory equipment.

W. Ledyard Mitchell, head of the Chrysler export division, said that trade relations with foreign countries will be improved. In his many months abroad it was his observation that Europe felt there would be an improvement in intercourse with American business with a change in the administration at Washington.

Those men were not talking politics. The party emblems had been removed from their coat lapels and they were talking of business as they ate salads and steaks ordered for visiting newspaper men.

"Dodge and other Chrysler units," said Mr. Keller, "now have 20,000 men back at work. By the middle of December there'll be another 10,000 recalled. If you're going to publish anything about this please mention that we have 35,000 accredited workmen with Chrysler experience from whom we are drawing all of our labor and that we don't hire any one at the factory gates. The men are notified at their homes when they are wanted at their old jobs."

Keeps Steel Mills Open.

"And be careful about any reference to the millions of dollars involved in orders for supplies," Mr. Hutchinson added to the advice for reporters. "It's true that steel mills are being kept open by their orders from automobile plants; that the rubber, cotten, copper, tin and zinc industries are leaning heavily on their automobile orders. It's a story of employment being stimulated nationally, but the amount of money involved is so big that it would sound like a gross exaggeration or an overburdened business venture.

"It is a stupendous business adventure. In equipping the factories for the new Plymouth $9,000,000 was spent; in retooling the Dodge plants another $4,000,000. The expense was necessary to produce a better product at a lower cost. But, nevertheless, it's an outlay of $13,000,000 not counting commitments for materials which we are wagering on a prediction that a better car at a lower price will increase public buying."

"And you might say something about this new Dodge," suggested A. van Der Zee, general sales manager. "But not too much before our formal public announcement is released.

Price Not Foretold.

"The exact price cannot be told. The factory men say they are still whittling at the production cost. It has a six cylinder engine developing 81 horsepower and the body is streamlined from its sloping radiator to the flare of rear fenders and skirt over the gas tank. The superballoon tires are standard equipment. Other features are typical of the Chrsyler line.

FALL OFF STREET CAR FATAL.

Walter Johnson, 45 years old, a resident of the emergency relief shelter at 116 South Green street, who fainted and fell from the rear platform of a street car at State and Adams street, yesterday, died at the county hospital.

BANDITS RETURN TO INDIANA BANK; FLEE WITH LOOT

Monticello, Ind., Nov. 9.—[Special.] The State Bank of Reynolds east of here was held up and robbed of several thousand dollars today by three bandits armed with shotguns and a machine gun. The bandits compelled William Scearcy, cashier, to open the vault.

The bandits were pursued by four young men in an automobile and changed cars after firing on the youths near the home of Howard Congran, a farmer. Several dollars which had fallen from the money sacks in the transfer of the loot were left on the highway.

The bank was robbed Sept. 24 of $6,000.

German Monarchists Open Drive for Return of Kaiser

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 9.—"To pave the way for the return of the monarchy," nine leading monarchist associations in Germany today established the "Working Association of the Monarchist Movement." In a proclamation, the associations claimed that "the success achieved by the ideal of authoritative state rule emphasizes that a permanent and stable system can be established in Germany only through the return of the hereditary monarchy."

COLDS GO THROUGH 3 STAGES!

And They are Far Easier Stopped in the First than in the Second or Third!

A cold ordinarily passes through three stages—the Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. Relief is twice as easy in the first stage.

For prompt relief take a couple of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine immediately upon catching cold. This will usually expel the cold overnight and thus prevent the spread of the infection within your system.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is effective because it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels. Kills the cold germs and fever in the system. Relieves the headache and grippy feeling. Tones the entire system and fortifies against further attack.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is absolutely safe to take. Contains no narcotics and produces no bad after effects. It is regarded the world over as the standard cold tablet. Comes in handy, pocket size box, cellophane-wrapped. For sale in every drug store in America. Make it your first-aid in all cases of colds and grippe.

Grove's LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE

Have another cup—5 cups a day is not too much when it's DATED coffee

You'll want to drink Chase & Sanborn's Dated Coffee morning, noon and night. It's fresh . . . it's delicious . . . it's good for you.

SCIENTIFIC AUTHORITY

Present scientific knowledge establishes the facts that the average man or woman has a coffee "tolerance" of fully 5 cups a day and that this amount of coffee for the average person is healthfully stimulating. "Tolerance" means the ability of one's body to receive and utilize and enjoy without the slightest bad effect. But—that coffee must be fresh! The regular drinking of stale coffee has bad effects on the digestion.

PROBABLY you drink a cup or two of coffee at breakfast—maybe another cup at lunch or dinner.

Wouldn't you love to have that "cup or two" at every meal!

5 cups constitutes the "coffee tolerance" of the average man or woman—is safe and beneficial.

It's when coffee is stale that it's harmful.

In stale coffee, the oils that have turned rancid in it are often the real cause of the headaches, indigestion, sleeplessness, so frequently attributed to coffee.

That's why Chase & Sanborn instituted Dated coffee—every pound stamped with an expiration date. Rushed to your grocer by swift motor trucks.

None allowed to stay on the grocer's shelf after its date has expired.

Glorious flavor and aroma! And freedom to drink all you want!—as many as 5 cups a day!

The DATE guarantees full fresh flavor

A very few people have a decided intolerance for coffee. But, happily, the "coffee tolerance" of most of us is fully 5 cups a day. And many can healthfully use more than 5 cups!

CITY CELEBRATES 14TH ARMISTICE DAY TOMORROW

Parade to Feature Legion Observance.

Chicago will celebrate tomorrow the 14th anniversary of the armistice that brought the world war to an end. At 11 o'clock in the morning, in a ceremony made state-wide by the proclamation of Gov. Emmerson, Chicagoans will face the east in honor of the living and dead veterans of the war.

JAMES G. ROGERS.

Official observance of the day in Chicago, under the auspices of the Cook County council of the American Legion, will take the form of a loop parade followed by a brief ceremony in front of the La Salle entrance of the city hall. Numerous neighborhood celebrations by Legion posts, military organizations and schools will be held.

Route of Parade.

The loop parade will form between 9:10 and 9:30 at Michigan avenue and Jackson boulevard. The marchers will move west to La Salle street and north to Randolph street. The parade will circle the city hall and county building and halt in front of the reviewing stand at the La Salle street entrance of the city hall. Bands from the Woodlawn and Board of Trade posts of the Legion and drum and bugle corps from Commonwealth Edison, Glenview, Medill-Tribune, Square and Police posts will participate in the parade.

Brig. Gen. Abel Davis will speak from the reviewing stand. He will be introduced by Mayor Cermak. The program will be closed with a salute to the dead in which the colors will be escorted to the platform by combat men of the American Legion.

The Lake View post of the Legion, the National Guard ordnance squad of the 33d division, the Charles H. Weber junior drum and bugle corps and the Charles Ritter corps will join in Armistice day exercises at Belmont and Lincoln avenues, where a salute will be fired in honor of the war dead.

Rainbow Vets to Meet.

The Rainbow Division Veterans' association will meet at the Hotel Sherman at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow night, approximately the time when the regiment retired from the front line fourteen years ago. Maj. Gen. Matt Tinley of Iowa and Gov. W. M. Brucker of Michigan will be guests of Noble B Judah, president of the association.

Rear Admiral Wat T. Cluverius, commandant of the Great Lakes Naval Training station, will speak at a luncheon tomorrow in the Chicago Yacht club following the annual Kiwanis Armistice day ceremony at the Doughboy monument at the foot of Belmont avenue. Twenty presidents of local Kiwanis clubs will each lay a wreath at the foot of the monument. Boy Scouts, Sea Scouts, and the Lake View High school band and R. O. T. C. unit will also take part.

The 80 piece band of Tilden High school and the R. O. T. C. unit of the school will be reviewed this morning in observance of Armistice day. The French club, "Les Camarades de Combat," made up of veterans of the French army and American volunteers who served under the French flag, will celebrate Armistice day with a party Saturday night at the Palmer house.

Plan Massmeeting.

An Armistice day massmeeting, under the auspices of the Chicago Disarmament Day committee, will be held tomorrow morning at the Chicago temple, with Assistant Secretary of State James Grafton Rogers as the principal speaker. A special Armistice day service will be held Sunday in St. James church, Huron and Cass streets, in which British societies in Chicago will participate.

The Forget-Me-Not tag day will also be held tomorrow as sanctioned by the city council.

A pre-Armistice day observance will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon on the floor of the Chicago Board of Trade. The exchange will be closed tomorrow. The Board of Trade Legion band, national Legion champion, will play a program of martial music under the direction of Armin F. Hand. Peter B. Carrey, president of the board, and Walter Mooney, post commander, will speak. The program will be broadcast from 2 to 2:40 o'clock W-G-N, THE TRIBUNE station.

Maj. Gen. Parker to Speak.

Maj. Gen. Frank Parker, commander of the 6th corps area, will speak at the Armistice day luncheon of the Chicago Bar association at 12:15 p. m. tomorrow in the association's rooms at 160 North La Salle street. Lieut. Col. W. R. Matheny, vice president of the Reserve Officers' association, will preside.

COOKERY SCHOOL SETTLES ISSUE OF CAKE ICING

Capacity Crowd at North Side Class.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

That great culinary question, how to make a cake frosting that is not sticky and not crumbly, was settled yesterday at THE TRIBUNE'S School of Cookery.

A capacity crowd of north side women in the Aragon ballroom, 1100 Lawrence avenue, where the third and final week of the School of Cookery is being held, listened and watched as Mrs. Ida M. Chitwood, home economics expert, made white cake icing.

Drops Ritual of Watching.

As the pan containing sugar and water boiled on the stove, Mrs. Chitwood apparently forgot about the ritual of watching it, and casually beat up egg whites, sugar and a little baking powder. In the nick of time, however, she turned to the stove and, holding aloft a big white spoon which she had dipped into the sirup, studied it with satisfaction.

"See my thread?" she asked. "The thread should be from 4 to 6 inches long." Then she began the almost mystic rites of pouring, "slowly in a fine stream," as she said, the sirup into her egg white mixture.

"I have an assistant to pour while I beat it," she said. "You must have some one to help you. Remember, beat it until it holds its shape. Then you withdraw the egg beater. I can't tell you just how long to beat it, but don't wait until it cools—that's too long."

Takes Hurry Out of Icing.

After it was beaten, and stood up as all proper icing should, Mrs. Chitwood paused with egg beater in air to talk.

"Can you imagine that?" one woman was heard to ask in a whisper. "I thought you had to work fast and get it on your cake right away."

Several novelties were prepared by Mrs. Chitwood during the afternoon program. Baked cranberries, using two parts of sugar to one of cranberries, "to be baked until they quit popping"; coffee shake, frozen pineapple delight and sirup nut pie were among them.

Then there was poinsettia sandwich loaf, its cream cheese covering decocated with a poinsetta made of green sweet pepper and pimento. Italian spaghetti, made with cheese, tomatoes, chili powder, celery, sweet pepper and onion, formed a savory dish.

Entertainers Appreciated.

Ben Bernie as guest master of ceremonies through the courtesy of the College inn, Hotel Sherman, received a storm of applause, as did Phil Porterfield, Columbia Broadcasting company star, who sang three or four encores.

Sophie Paske, a Chicago girl who was chosen as the best woman singer among all the contestants in the 1932 Chicagoland Music Festival sponsored by THE TRIBUNE, sang several numbers, and Mary Thomas Duffield, soprano opera star, appeared in solos in the intermission. Children pupils of the Gladys Hight School of Dancing performed in several numbers, and Miss Hight was introduced.

Community singing was led by Edgar Nelson, accompanied by Florence Goddard at the piano.

Mary Meade Speaker.

Phil Maxwell, master of ceremonies at the School of Cookery, also introduced Miss Mary Meade, cooking editor of THE TRIBUNE, who told about her department and the Friday food section of THE TRIBUNE.

At today's session, which begins at 1 o'clock in the Aragon ballroom, a class of 20 pupils in the New Trier Township High school of Winnetka will attend, under the supervision of Miss Marion La Metre, teacher of home economics. On the entertainment program will appear "The Mighty Tarbell," magician. Three child stars of "When Chicago Was Young," now playing at the Goodman theater, Jay Bullen, Dolores Anderson and Joyce Sullivan, also will appear in an act.

DISCUSS PROPOSAL TO PAY TEACHERS IN 1931 WARRANTS

Members of the board of education yesterday asked Harry Brackett, school auditor, to prepare a report on the possibility of paying 1932 back salaries in 1931 tax anticipation warrants to teachers faced with emergencies. The plan was advanced by Trustee Joseph Savage during a discussion of the salary crisis.

The school board has $2,517,050 in unissued 1931 educational tax warrants, of which $1,221,945 is held to secure scrip paper issued to teachers. The board owes $795,000 in salaries and bills for 1931. Many teachers and employes have taken warrants in lieu of cash for their 1931 services.

TRAP TWO MEN WITH $6,000 IN STOLEN BONDS

Two men were arrested yesterday afternoon when they tried to collect $6,000 for bonds which had been stolen in the robbery of the First State bank of Holland, Mich., on Sept. 29. They are Benjamin Youpel, 30 years old, 6811 South Claremont avenue, and Julius Schreiber, 31 years old, 2644 Winnemac avenue.

When the men arrived in the office of Farell Brothers, brokers in the Board of Trade building, Police Sergts. John Murphy and Benjamin Ryan were waiting for them. The brokerage firm had called on the police when they learned the bonds were stolen.

Youpel, using the alias Max Bergstrom, had taken the $6,000 worth of bonds to a broker in Pittsburgh several days ago. He gave instructions that the check for them should be sent in care of the Farell firm.

After being arrested he declared that he had taken the bonds in a whisky deal and denied any connection with the stickup, in which the loot was $73,000, with $42,000 of the amount in negotiable securities. Schreiber had in his pocket a complete list of the stolen bonds.

Wife, 17, Wins Alimony for Support of Her Child

Mrs. Lois Reynolds, 17 years old, 914 Montrose avenue, yesterday was awarded temporary alimony of $15 a week for the support of her infant son, Robert, 9 months old, by Circuit Judge Philip J. Finnegan. She has filed suit for divorce, charging that her husband, Charles W. Reynolds, a radio operator, is an habitual gambler. She also charged cruelty. At the request of her counsel, Bruneau E. Herrich, Reynolds was placed under a $1,000 ne exeat bond.

VOTERS DEFEAT FOES OF U. S. IN PORTO RICO VOTE

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Returns from 68 of 77 municipalities tonight indicated that the Nationalist party, which advocated immediate and complete independence from the United States, had polled less than ten per cent of its expected strength in today's elections.

Indications were that the senate of the next insular legislature will be composed of 3 Liberals and 16 coalition members and that the house of representatives will have 7 Liberals and 32 coalition members.

The total vote cast in 68 towns was: Liberals, 104,009; coalition, 125,000; Nationalists, 2,983. A little more than one-half of the registered voters went to the polls.

Von Papen Cabinet Votes to Stay at Helm in Germany

BERLIN, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Undaunted by the results of last Sunday's election, the Von Papen cabinet announced tonight that it would remain in power. The announcement was conveyed in a government communique which said the cabinet had voted unanimously not to resign.

VON GRONAU ENDS GLOBE CIRCLING TRIP IN GERMANY

[Copyright, 1932, By the New York Times.]

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Nov. 9.—Capt. Wolfgang von Gronau returned this afternoon from a round the world flight, alighting on Lake Constance. He was received by Claude Dornier, designer of his plane.

Capt. von Gronau started on July 22, crossing the Atlantic via Greenland for the third time. He proceeded via Chicago, Winnipeg, Cordoba, and Dutch Harbor to Japan, arriving in Tokio on Sept. 4. In Nagoya, one of the wings of his Dornier was damaged but quickly repaired.

Having proceeded to Shanghai, Manila, and Batavia he was forced by motor trouble to land amidst a storm 150 miles off Burma. The steamer Caragota came to his aid and dragged his plane 120 miles to Rangoon, where it was repaired. Capt. von Gronau's route then led to Colombo, Bombay, Bagdad, Athens, and Rome. He crossed the Alps today and landed in a fog on Lake Constance. Capt. von Gronau was accompanied by Gerd von Roth, assistant pilot; Fritz Albrecht, wireless operator, and Franz Hack, mechanic.

Too much Dining

Too much Smoking—last night

Yet . . . No "Acid Headache" . . .

No Upset Stomach This Morning!

If you don't follow that law—Phillips' Milk of Magnesia: scientists say; is the QUICKEST, SIMPLEST AND EASIEST way to correct its effects. All you do is this:

"TAKE—2 tablespoons in a glass of water with the juice of a WHOLE ORANGE when you get up."

Or take six Phillips' Milk of Magnesia tablets the same way, which give an equivalent amount of Milk of Magnesia, for each Phillips' Milk of Magnesia tablet equals one teaspoonful of the liquid Milk of Magnesia.

What It Does

This small dosage of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia acts to alkalize the system. And an alkalized system is largely impervious to the bad after-effects of excessive smoking—excessive eating, drinking.

It sweetens and purifies your stomach. Banishes the acid headache, sour stomach, deadly depression that mark the price of immoderations.

Results are quick and almost invariable. Your head clears, your stomach settles—you feel like a new person.

Every person who smokes should know this. And take Phillips' Milk of Magnesia EVERY NIGHT before bed. Every person who overindulges in food or drink should know it. And keep a bottle of "Phillips'" in his medicine chest.

Try it—just once. You will be amazed at what it does.

Be sure to get Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia when you buy. All "Milk of Magnesia" is not alike in effect, so look for the name Phillips—get the kind doctors endorse.

SICK!

Poor Ida! An old-fashioned girl who resigns herself to suffering regularly. She does not realize—or does not believe—that a tablet of Midol would swiftly end her pain. Midol does abolish such suffering. It keeps a woman perfectly comfortable throughout this period. Sickness becomes just an incident, for Midol blocks all possibility of such pain. Midol is nothing like the ordinary headache tablet, but a remedy that goes straight to the seat of this organic pain. It does not affect the natural and necessary process at all, but the pain is done for within a few minutes of the time Midol is taken! Not a narcotic. All drug stores; ten tasteless tablets in a slim little box; just ask for Midol.

Here is the most persistently active market in the world . . . even for "difficult" merchandise. Take automobiles, for instance:

AN automobile represents to most people the greatest or second greatest investment they ever make.

Yet the New York area is buying more new cars both in actual number and in proportion to other markets as a whole. In prosperous '27 the New York area bought 7% of all new U. S. passenger cars (189,902). In 1931 it bought more than 10% (196,355). And in the first 8 months of '32, it bought 12%.

Parallel with this five-year increase runs the significant fact that automobile men have been using the New York Herald Tribune heavily and consistently during this time.

They have come to realize what all manufacturers with "difficult" merchandise should realize — that New York is not only the largest but one of the fastest-growing markets in the world.

Much of this growth is SUBURBAN-ward! And it's the suburbs into which the Herald Tribune sends a greater proportion of its circulation than any other New York newspaper.

10 FACTS about the New York Herald Tribune

1- So far this year (first ten months) first among all New York newspapers in gasoline and oil advertising; second in new passenger car display, tires and tubes, trucks and tractors.

2- has more circulation in the suburban territory of New York on weekdays than any other standard size morning newspaper.

3- is read by more members of the New York Stock Exchange than any other morning newspaper.

4- ranks second in the United States in amount of national advertising carried . . . second in the United States in financial advertising carried.

5- numbers on its staff such famous men as Walter Lippmann, Mark Sullivan, Franklin P. Adams, H. T. Webster, J. N. Darling (Ding), W. O. McGeehan.

6- was awarded the Francis Wayland Ayer Cup for typographical excellence in 1931, and honorable mention in 1932.

7- was the first newspaper in America to organize a Food and Housekeeping Institute. In the first ten months of this year over 77,000 inquiries were received by the Institute from women readers.

8- contains fashion news and book news seven days a week.

9- is served by both the Associated Press and the United Press . . . maintains its own news bureaus in such cities as Washington, London, Paris, Geneva, Rome, Moscow, Berlin, Shanghai, and correspondents or representatives in every important city in the world.

10- circulation is 329,743 weekdays, 451,961 Sundays. Average for six months ended September 30, 1932.

ROOSEVELT GETS EUROPE'S PRAISE AND DEBT HINTS

Britain Prepares a Note on War Loan.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Nov. 9.—While wine growers of Champagne, Burgundy and Bordeaux were toasting the health of America's President elect in their costliest vintages, semi-official mouthpieces of the government were rubbing hands in the Paris press over "continuance of the Wilsonian tradition." A feeling of enthusiasm can be discerned throughout France.

This enthusiasm, as far as can be discerned in the press, is based on the belief that Franklin D. Roosevelt will restore America as a market for wine growers of France and as a mark for the diplomats of Europe in future conferences.

Vicious Towards Hoover.

While most editorial writers are vicious towards President Hoover, Le Temps says Hoover, for all his faults, manifested good will for international coöperation and opines "that this orientation will not only be maintained by the new administration, but will even take on a more clearly defined and precise form." That note in a greater or lesser degree is repeated throughout the body of the press.

The papers note that Roosevelt is opposed to debt cancellation, but think this can be gotten around. Very Frenchily, it is on the score of character rather than political principles that the French approve Roosevelt. His is described as "chivalrous, gallant, broadminded, cultured, and above all is a friend to France by sympathy, conviction and tradition."

Inspired By Government.

There is reason to believe that the government is urging on the press to give the President elect a good hand and paint him in sympathetic colors to the average reader. This is a partial explanation of the almost unheard of fact that every big paper has a bona fide correspondent in America filing copiously every night at a franc [3.9 cents] a word. The government is shouldering a large part of the expenses of these special correspondents. This is a common practice in Europe when it is desired to build up propaganda.

For the winegrowing districts of the country Roosevelt's election is a breath of life and already there is a stir of activity unknown for years. It is reported that American agents already are looking over supplies in the Paris wine market and are signing contracts for the purchase of substantial quantities of the lighter vintages on the basis of 10 per cent cash and the remainder on removal, with the buyer assuming all the responsibilities for delivery.

British Prepare Note on Debt.

[Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Nov. 9.—There is already in preparation for cabinet approval a note to be sent by the British government to the American government in the near future concerning the war debt installment due from this country to the United States on Dec. 15.

It is understood in London that a note on the subject of the French debt is also going to be sent from Paris.

The forthcoming British note will declare that it will be difficult for Britain to pay the $95,500,000 due Dec. 15 on both principal and interest. Something less than a third of this total represents principal. To settle the whole amount now will cost the British exchequer about £29,000,000 at the present rate of exchange. At the old parity it would have called for only about £19,000,000.

Says It Would Hinder Recovery.

In addition to stating its own difficulty, the British government, either in the initial note or in subsequent conversations through diplomatic channels, will argue that transfer of this huge sum next month will further dislocate world trade and the financial situation and perhaps be more detrimental to the United States than postponement would be.

The British fully realize, of course, that the debt matter is now out of the hands of the President and treasury department, and that nothing can be done except by congress, which reconvenes only about a fortnight before the debt is due, but the hope is that the matter can be presented to congress in such a way that it will at least grant a respite until the whole dept question can be taken up by the new administration.

Italian Wine Makers Rejoice.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Nov. 9.—Italian wine makers rejoiced today at the outcome of the American election. Prof. Adolfo Carpentieri, secretary of the National Federation of Winemakers, announced that organization of an export company to deal with American consumers will be completed.

Germany Favors Roosevelt.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 9—Gov. Roosevelt's election was termed by a government spokesman today as the choosing of "a first class man for the nation's highest honor." Germany looks upon Mr. Roosevelt as a "sympathetic man," he said.

A government spokesman pointed out, however, that President Hoover had made many German friends through his moratorium declaration. Regret was expressed, too, that Frederic M. Sackett, American ambassador, will probably be replaced, for it was Sackett who informed Hoover of Germany's distress before the moratorium was decided upon.

Poland Remembers Versailles.

[Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.]

WARSAW, Nov. 9.—The foreign office declared today that Poland is glad the party is returning to power which counted President Wilson and Col. House among its members. The Poles will never forget President Wilson's authorship of the thirteenth point, which laid the foundation for Poland's rebirth and reunion.

Japan Favorably Impressed.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Nov. 10. [Thursday.]—This morning's editorials in Tokio's three largest papers comment favorably on the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt. The middle class Asahi believes that tariff revision will benefit Japan considerably. It adds, however, that there seems little possibility of radical change in America's far eastern policy. Nichi Nichi, with a million general circulation, lauds the Democrats for the courage of their prohibition and tariff stands, but sees little likelihood of alteration of diplomatic policy.

Russia Sees Closer Ties.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Nov. 9.—Moscow today hailed the election of Gov. Roosevelt as the beginning of a trend toward closer relations between soviet Russia and the United States.

Although official comment was absent, optimism was apparent in government circles, who appeared to believe that the first Democratic President since the war would be of benefit to Russia.

GANDHI DISCIPLE HERE; SEES INDIA FREE IN 10 YEARS

Bombay Ex-Mayor Hopes for Trade with U. S.

Vithalbhai J. Patel, former mayor of Bombay and speaker of the All-India legislative assembly, arrived in Chicago yesterday for a ten day visit, during which he will deliver a series of informal talks about his country's political, economic, and social conditions.

This frail, gray bearded man of 60 years spent many months in prison during the civil disobedience campaign. He is a staunch supporter and a close associate of Mahatma Gandhi. Six months ago he was released from jail when it became apparent that further confinement would endanger his life, and he went to Vienna for an operation. He is now traveling as a temporary exile, he said, for the English authorities asked him to leave his country after being released from prison.

Wears White with Turban.

Clad all in white and wearing a turban, he appeared yesterday at a luncheon at the Standard club as the guest of Herbert J. Friedman, 3300 Lake Shore drive. He is staying at Mr. Friedman's home during his visit. After the luncheon he engaged in a round table discussion with the other guests, telling of his experiences and his views.

Laying all specific grievances aside, he said that India's real quarrel with England arises from the fact that Great Britain has occupied the country and maintains its authority by force of arms. He said nothing but freedom will satisfy him and his associates. This freedom will be attained in ten years, he predicted.

He stated that the English do not permit the people of India to carry on any manufacturing, forcing the inhabitants to buy from Great Britain and other countries, while no industrial products are exported.

Lack Money to Buy in U. S.

If the industries of India were allowed to develop freely trade between that country and the United States would be multiplied ten times, Mr. Patel asserted. He said that the people are forced to maintain themselves entirely by agriculture and manual labor, making about four or five cents a day on the average. Thus they have no money with which to engage in foreign trade, he pointed out.

He said that one of the greatest problems of the Indian leaders is to educate the people, 92 per cent of whom are illiterate. He expressed pleasure at the outcome of the presidential election in this country.

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS IN ROOM.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Maude Lockwood, 2341 North 4th street, was found unconscious in her room late today by other roomers, and was taken to County Emergency hospital in a police ambulance. Her condition was caused, police said they believed, by an overdose of sleeping powders. Hospital attendants said she will recover.

BETTER TIMES ON THE WAY IN FRANCE, HERRIOT DECLARES

PARIS, Nov. 9.—Signs of approaching economic recovery are already appearing, Premier Herriot declared today in addressing the national economic council. He asked the council to assist in preparing a program to combat the crisis.

"Unemployment is diminishing as shown by the latest statistics, and the number of failures and bankruptcies is decreasing," Herriot said. "It is a moment to hope that by redoubling our efforts we may attain the long awaited improvement."

Premier Herriot praised the work of the national economic council which was created eight years ago. It has provided an information guide to government policies.

LEAGUE JOYFUL; SEES ROOSEVELT AS CLOSE FRIEND

Expects President Elect to "Co-operate."

BY JAY ALLEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENEVA, Nov. 9.—The return to power in America of the political and spiritual heirs to Woodrow Wilson, founder of the league of nations, has aroused enthusiasm among the internationalists here.

Although the Hoover administration, particularly in its Manchurian policy since last November and its disarmament efforts, has been a constant source of delight to "leaguers," more is expected from President Elect Roosevelt and the Democratic congress.

Look for Tariff Reductions.

Probably first in importance in the eyes of these persons are reductions in tariffs and war debts, which a great majority of experts who met here recently to prepare for the coming international economic conference at London hold to be essential to trade recovery.

The experts have adjourned until January. In spite of the pledge of secrecy they all took it is apparent that the reason they have adjourned for so long is that difficulties at the moment appear insurmountable. Even with England committed to imperial preference and with France tangled up in a quota system, America, it would seem, is expected to start the parade by lowering trade restrictions.

Foresee Close Relations.

In their relations the league and Roosevelt are expected to edge even closer than Hoover, particularly if Newton D. Baker succeeds Henry L. Stimson as secretary of state. Now that the United States is so close to the league, its actual entry is far less discussed here than previously. Even the most optimistic, however, do not expect America to get out in front and be the cheer leader for the 54 members of the body, to which it does not belong, in the forthcoming session of the assembly, which is to take up the Manchurian question.

A conference of signatories of the Kellogg peace pact to discuss the Japanese adventure, however, is deemed more probable than before. Russia, of course, would be invited, its importance in connection with any settlement being stressed in the league committee's report, it is recalled.

See More Disarm Activity.

An increase of American activity in the disarmament field is also expected.

Great interest is also shown in the possibility that Norman H. Davis, whose southern drawl cuts so much ice in many capitals, will be appointed secretary of state or to a key embassy in Europe.

Joy, however, is not unconfined. Just how Stimson's strenuous far eastern policy is to be strenuously enforced in the next four months, which appears from this distance almost an interregnum, is worrying people here. They are convinced such enforcement is the only thing that will swing the British and French into action behind the league's covenant.

To End a Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

Saves $2. No Cooking! So Easy!

Millions of housewives have found that, by mixing their own cough medicine, they get a purer, more effective remedy. They use a recipe which costs about one-fourth as much as ready-made medicine, but which really has no equal for breaking up obstinate coughs.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. The syrup is easily made with 2 cups sugar and one cup water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble at all, and makes the most effective remedy that money could buy. Keeps perfectly, and children love its taste.

Its quick action in loosening the phlegm, clearing the air passages, and soothing away the inflammation, has caused it to be used in more homes than any other cough remedy.

BOLTS HIS LUNCH

What the man with a "cast-iron stomach" really has is six-hour digestion. If you suffer from a slow stomach, taking soda won't help matters. Do this:

Get some diapepsin at the drug store. Each tablet saves the stomach half an hour's work. If your digestion is an hour slow, two tablets after eating will correct it. No distress. Not even any gas or sourness. Take this precaution after every heavy or hurried meal until your stomach seems able to do its work without help.

Pape's Diapepsin has ended all food fear for many men and women who once had to pamper their stomachs.

8 SLAIN, 44 SHOT AS SWISS TROOPS FIRE ON RIOTERS

Geneva Is Placed Under Martial Law.

BY JAY ALLEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENEVA, Nov. 9.—Eight persons were killed and 44 wounded, at least three mortally, tonight when Swiss troops turned machine guns on thousands of extremist demonstrators. The mob was massed in the Plainpalais, an open square a few blocks from the building where the disarmament conference holds its plenary sessions. Fifteen of the wounded were soldiers.

Geneva, the international peace city, is practically under martial law. Armed patrols are wandering through the streets pointing rifles and revolvers at all comers. A general strike will be called tomorrow.

Try to Disarm Soldiers.

Socialists and their sympathizers had massed in front of a meeting hall where Conservative party leaders were attacking their own chiefs. The meeting, which was the aftermath of a hotly contested municipal election, had been widely advertised. It drew a bigger crowd outside than in.

Troops had been called from Lausanne for protection. The crowd outside refused to take them seriously and set to work disarming them. The sport of the evening was to break rifles on the pavement. The troops lost their poise at this treatment and unlimbered their machine guns and began firing as the mob ran for shelter.

The Swiss army let its bullets fly where they may. The bullets killed a whist player at a café a quarter of a mile away, a boy on a bicycle in the background, a wife looking for her husband, and a garage mechanic under an automobile, as well as wounding a girl of 13 who stood on a bridge several blocks away.

Claims Civilians Started It.

The commander of the machine gun squad which fired on the crowd, which was estimated at 10,000, claimed the civilians began the fight. He says his men used only one gun, with two bands of 30 bullets each. Witnesses taken from among the demonstrators claim the attack was entirely unprovoked.

The shooting took place almost in front of the Moulin Rouge [Red Mill], a favorite haunt of disarmament conference delegates. Class feeling of Genevese workers has been stirred up by agitators, who point to the farcical aspects of the conference.

During the riot heavy troop detachments were thrown around the league of nations buildings. Authorities recalled an attempt a few weeks ago to raid the new peace palace, which is under construction.

Riot Breaks Up Iceland Meeting on Relief Pay Cut

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Several persons, said by police to be communists, were injured today in a riot following an alleged communist attack on a municipal meeting where a reduction in relief work wages was being discussed. Several policemen also were injured.

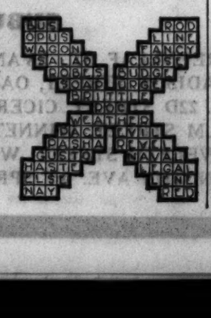
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED



LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: The Good Earth

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: The Ticket-of-Leave Man

NEPHEW QUIZZED AFTER HIS UNCLE IS FOUND SLAIN

Rudolph Knafl, 24 years old, 3059 South St. Louis avenue, was held yesterday concerning the murder of his uncle, Matthew Chermak, 55 years old, 1110 West 63d street, who was found shot to death earlier in the day two blocks from the Knafl home. Young Knafl was vague in his statements, police said.

Police expressed the belief that Chermak was shot to death as he resisted robbers. The body was found at 31st street and Spaulding avenue, a bullet hole through the heart. No money was found in the pockets, although the widow asserted that Chermak usually carried $200 or more.

Chermak had spent Tuesday night playing cards at the Knafl home and left about 11 o'clock, police learned from Michael Knafl and his son, Rudolph. Police also learned that Chermak was to have met George Gee, manager of the real estate department of the Orland Park State bank, in an attorney's office at 67 West Washington street yesterday afternoon to make a payment of $6,000 on a mortgage.

Boy and Girl Victims of Plane Crash Buried

Funeral services were held yesterday at St. Genevieve's church for Carl A. Bayer Jr., 16 years old, and his sister, Anna Marie, 17, of 5400 Parker avenue, who were killed on Sunday when the airplane Carl was piloting crashed at Central avenue and 71st street. The Reserve Officers Training corps of Lane Technical high school, where Bayer was a student, assisted in the services. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery.

THOS. L. POWELL FUNERAL IS TO BE HELD TODAY

Thomas Lewis Powell, retired manufacturer and former president of the old Cable-Nelson Piano company, will be buried in Bronswood cemetery this afternoon following services at 2:30 p. m. at his home at 120 South Washington street, Hinsdale. He was fatally injured in an automobile accident near Hinsdale Tuesday night.

Mr. Powell was 53 years old and a native of Montgomery, Ala. He served for years as representative at Montgomery of Hickman, Williams & Co., manufacturers, and came to Chicago in 1911 as vice president of the Cable-Nelson company. In 1921 he succeeded the late F. S. Cable as president and continued in that position until 1924, when the business was sold. Mr. Powell was a member of the Union league club and the Hinsdale Golf club.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Anne Cable Powell, daughter of the late Mr. Cable, and two brothers and a sister.

HOLD FUNERAL RITES TODAY FOR REV. H. P. BIRKNER

Funeral services for the Rev. Henry Philip Birkner, retired Lutheran minister, will be held at 9 a. m. today in the chapel at 63d street and Harvard avenue. The Rev. Mr. Birkner, who was 75 years old, died Monday at the home of his daughter, Miss Elsa Birkner, 1140 East 64th street.

He was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and was educated at Concordia college, Fort Wayne, Ind., and Concordia seminary, St. Louis. He held pastorates in Gordonville, Mo., and St. Louis and went to Boston, Mass., in 1890, where he remained as pastor of the Zion Evangelical Lutheran church until his retirement in 1929. He had been active as a minister for fifty years, and had served as president of the Atlantic district of the Missouri synod.

Surviving the Rev. Mr. Birkner are his daughter and a son. Burial will be in Evergreen cemetery, Brooklyn, tomorrow.

MRS. FRANK ALLEN DROWNS AFTER FALL AT LAKE

Mrs. Frank Allen, 55 years old, wife of the president of the Brinks Express company, was drowned Tuesday in Medicine lake, near Three Lakes, Wis., friends here learned yesterday. Mrs. Allen fell while walking on the breakwater near the family's summer home on an island, struck her head, and dropped into the water. Her body was recovered almost immediately, but efforts to revive her failed. Mrs. Allen had planned to return to her winter home in the Edgewater Beach hotel next week. Mr. Allen, who is in New York on a business trip, was notified. Mrs. Allen, who was the second wife of Mr. Allen, is survived by five stepchildren.

BEAT AT LAST!

AGONY OF PILES!

Suffer no longer the torment of Piles! Walk, sit and sleep in comfort. Go to the stool without dread. For the relief of Piles has now been solved. The effective treatment is supplied in Pazo Ointment.

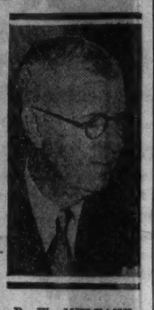
Pazo not only stops the pain and itching and makes defecation easy, but it tends to correct the condition of Piles as a whole. This is because Pazo is threefold in effect. It is (1) soothing, (2) healing, (3) absorbing. Thus, it not only allays the inflammation and repairs torn tissue, but actually reduces the swollen blood vessels, which are Piles. The method of application makes Pazo doubly effective. (See picture below.) Thousands say that Pazo is the first real relief they ever got from Piles. Thousands say it saved them the need of a painful operation. Try Pazo yourself and realize from one trial that your days of pile suffering are over. All drug stores sell Pazo in Collapsible Tube with special Pile Pipe, complete for 75c.

Perforated Pile Pipe Attached to Collapsible Tube Makes Application Correct and Easy

The PAZO Collapsible Tube and Perforated Pile Pipe make it very easy to apply the Ointment high up in the rectum where it can reach and thoroughly cover all the affected parts. Complete interior treatment in all cases of Piles is plainly important.

D. W. MULVANE, G. O. P. LEADER IN KANSAS, DIES

Topeka, Kas., Nov. 9.—(AP)—David W. Mulvane, who for twenty-four years as Republican national committeeman from Kansas was the mild mannered leader of Republicanism in the Jayhawk state, died unexpectedly at his home here today at the age of 69. Physicians attributed his death to a cerebral hemorrhage. In accordance with his custom for many years, he went to a newspaper office last night to keep in close touch with the election returns.



D. W. MULVANE. [Assoc. Press Photo.]

His membership on the Republican national committee dated from 1900. In 1912, the year of the Bull Moose movement, when he remained "regular" and supported President Taft, he was retired as national committeeman, but he returned to power in 1920. He was reelected this year for his seventh four-year term.

Mr. Mulvane was born in Princeton, Ill., on Jan. 4, 1863, and moved to Topeka with his parents in 1876. His father, the late Joab Mulvane, was a capitalist and railroad builder.

After his graduation from Yale in 1885 he spent four years with his father in the railroad construction business and later entered the practice of law. In recent years he was elected chairman of the board of one of Topeka's largest banks. Mrs. Mulvane died in 1929. They had no children.

Pictures Men Whose Efforts Beat Disease

Dr. de Kruif Offers New Story of Science.

"Men Against Death," by Paul de Kruif. [Harcourt Brace.] Published today.

WITHOUT the valuable assistance of Paul de Kruif, Sinclair Lewis' novel, "Arrowsmith," might not have been the authentic as well as the fascinating book it was, for Dr. de Kruif worked with Mr. Lewis on the material. Paul de Kruif, with "Microbe Hunters," won fame and popularity as an original and interesting interpreter of the scientific spirit and its manifestations. "Microbe Hunters" was followed by "Hunger Fighters" and "Seven Iron Men." The present book deals with twelve modern pioneers in science who have resisted and to a great extent defeated the tragic and unnecessary onslaught of disease and death. With the exception of three men, the author has known personally every man in this book. Therefore, besides the data of scientific reports and discoveries, Paul de Kruif has the advantage of a personal, sympathetic and highly stimulating contact with these great scientists and their methods.

DR. DE KRUIF.

The first sketch in "Men Against Death" is of Ignaz Semmelweis, a rugged, snubbed, passionate and strange Hungarian who first told the world how childbed fever could be prevented. De Kruif states, "Today in our country . . . with the exception of Chile and maybe one or two others, the death rate from childbed fever is higher than than of any civilized land, and so today our mothers still go on dying, and so here is the story of Semmelweis." Like most of these men fighting against death, Semmelweis was obscure and stubborn, the recipient of the laughter and scorn of his learned colleagues. Nevertheless, Semmelweis, after a lifetime of effort, made his point, which was simply that scrupulous and unending cleanliness would call a halt to the scourge.

Then there is Fred Banting, the hardheaded, simple, honest Canadian farmer who, despite opposition and neglect, found the priceless insulin used so successfully in the treatment of diabetes. Another stupendously brave fighter against death, George R. Minot, in his medical training a little higher up on the scale of the scientific brotherhood, found out that liver was of incalculable value in the treatment of pernicious anemia, which before his time had been synonymous with doom. Thus another of the supposedly fatal diseases of the human race can be and is being cured.

From the United States public health service in Washington Paul de Kruif picks out three microbe hunters who have defied death. R. R. Spencer, who risked his life to find out about the spotted fever in the Rocky mountains; Miss Alice Evans, who discovered that Malta fever is the same fever that we have in our own dairy herds, and George McCoy, who courageously, with the willing assistance of his colleagues, investigated and found some solution to the strange and enigmatic fever that put the United States in a panic a few years ago, psittacosis.

Three men spent their lives in service to the cure of the "pale horror." Fritz Schaudinn, the German, isolated the heretofore invisible microbe; Jules Bordet anticipated the Wassermann blood test, and Julius Wagner-Jauregg, one of the most fascinating figures in the entire book, found the cure for general paresis. His discovery, Dr. de Kruif says, of malarial serum to be injected into the insane was later supplanted by Willis R. Whitney's radiotherm, or mechanical electric fever.

The last section of "Men Against Death" is a glowing pean to Old Doctor Sun. Niels Finsen, the Dane, saw what the sunlight could do for sick and ailing people. In his invention of the carbon arc light he made possible a controlled sunlight. He discovered that tuberculosis of the skin could be cured by this process. August Rollier went further by applying sunlight to people afflicted with tuberculosis of the bones and joints. Ove Strandberg, finally, perfected machine sunlight so that it is now available to large numbers of people. Paul de Kruif intimates that the study of the sun and its curative powers is at present only in its infancy.

"Men Against Death" contains so much that is instructive and so much that is pure fascination it seems impossible for any one to be indifferent to it. The most specialized scientist, the average well educated man, and the ignorant layman all alike can turn one page after another in breathless anticipation. "Men Against Death" reads, it is true, like a collection of accurate scientific data, and it also reads like the most thrilling adventure story or the most heartrending novel you have ever heard of. The description of the struggles and defeats, the sneers and indifference that many times visited these men fighting death, creates again the age old drama of men in conflict with one another. The heroism and the marvelous self abnegation of these scientists, so often scorned and ignored, make the reader pause in his reading and think more deeply on the gift of science to mankind.

Except for Paul de Kruif's occasional boring passages revealing his contempt for the formal scientists, the curiously irritating stylistic blunders and the somewhat childish flippancy and coyness of attitude that are sometimes only silly, "Men Against Death" is written vividly and dramatically, with so much excitement on the part of the author and in the material itself that it is difficult to lay the book down unfinished. Choose Rouge to Harmonize with Costume

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

If you are wearing black or brown or one of the darker greens you may find your skin doesn't look the same as in the brighter toned frocks of summer.

With some women black is the perfect compliment to their white skin, blue-gray or hazel-green eyes, and black hair. It's a shame for a woman of this type to color her cheeks noticeably. If her skin is pearly-fair and transparent, that's what she wants to play up in black. But some of us are sallow skinned or yellowish or grayish of complexion, and while we may love black we ought to help ourselves to a makeup selection in rouge and powder that will tone down the yellow, the gray or the green or the high red in our skin. The idea is to get for wear with black as nearly as we can manage that skin clarity black compliments.

Brown, another popular fall and winter shade, is sometimes awfully ageing to the skin, killing what clarity of color might be brought out with another shade in costume. Of itself brown gives little if any help. If one is a nut-brown maid or a richly suntanned one, yes. But blue eyed and of the lighter brown haired order, a brown outfit needs a whole new makeup scheme to give the needed rejuvenation.

Brown and black add no color to the complexion. Green does reflect color in the face, but here's where you have to be careful not to have it reflect the sallowness or yellowness already there. There are two kinds of women on whom brown is rich and "fruity" looking, if you know what I mean. One is the full blooded, ripe, olive toned brunette with rich brown eyes; the other, a clear skinned red head who does not try to match her hair shade. Red heads used to do this with browns. But they found out the darker shade, the richer, deeper browns lend additional beauty to hair coloring, as any dark background intensifies a brilliant color note thrown with it.

Green is apt to take color out of your face. It's good for the flushed, purplish type of skin. Where the skin is pale, more rouge and lipstick will be needed. With henna red clothing, neutral toned powder is best.

Rouge purchases should be guided by the color in the frock. Remember a red dress reflects red in the face, so purplish red rouge would not go with a henna red dress.

If your taste runs to musical comedies and "silly symphonies," you might take in the offering at the United Artists' theater this week. There's a full length films, "Flowers and Trees"—the swell new Disney color product—and Zasu Pitts in a short subject that alone is worth the price of admission.

It's one of those Viennese romances, with the gay, handsome officer, ordered to wed a countess, losing his heart to the bee-utiful but plebeian flower girl. Mr. Buchanan is able and poised, but some one should fatten him up a bit. The film has a number of charming tunes, with "Good Night, Vienna," as sung by Capt. Max, predominating. Miss Neagle is sufficient to her part. Her soprano voice is generally sweet and clear, but occasionally a bit scratchy, which may, of course, be the fault of the recording.

The news reel was just too much for me, though. I've seen most of it three times this week, but yesterday they inserted a new shot.

Scene—a flock of turkeys.

Remark by the witty news reel reporter: "It may be Thanksgiving to you folks, but it's just a pain in the neck to these birds." Subtle?

Episcopal Bishop Outlines Program for Church Unions

Declaring that sectarian Christianity has become an anachronism, the Rt. Rev. Frank E. Wilson, Episcopal bishop of Eau Claire, Wis., formerly of Chicago, last night outlined tentative plans for uniting certain Christian bodies in the country. He delivered the seventeenth annual Hale address at the Western Theological seminary in Evanston.

"Recent steps looking toward intercommunion between the Church of England and the National Church of Sweden," he said, "might well result in time in a similar relationship between the Episcopal church in the United States and the 250,000 members of the Augustana Synod of Swedish Lutherans in this country."

A similar working agreement is being developed, he said, between the Eastern Orthodox churches in the United States, with 500,000 members, and the Episcopal church, which has approximately 2,000,000 members in the United States. Still other congregations of foreign born persons have broached the subject of unity, he said.

P. S.: MINNIE MOUSE got her first vote yesterday, but apparently MICKEY'S been left out in the cold!

Used for Hostess Gowns and Pajamas.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Golden tinted frocks are no longer new. This rich old gold color has cheerfully splashed around the best shop windows doing gallant service toward illuminating the town. But the way this sunny shade has slipped into the lounging apparel collections is something to make even a giddy gadabout pause and seriously consider the matter of spending some time around the fireside.

Lounging pajamas of liquid gold velvet are quite the most luxurious things you have ever seen. They are made with wide swashbuckling trousers that hang in folds around your ankles when you recline decoratively and swash most effectively when prowling around in search of food and a noncrooning voice on the radio.

Two and three color sash combinations that you wind in and out and under and over one another are spectacular contrasts for this gold. One sultry trio features a tangerine, vivid red, and an electric blue. Pajamas with the new whoop-la sleeves, those huge wide and ample affairs that apparently have settled over all the arms this year, are vastly decorative but nothing to wear for such active duty as reaching for what you want if it is in liquid form. Drop shoulders are used for hostess gowns and pajamas alike and make you look like any of our celebrated actresses emoting heavily but effectively.

Positively regal affairs are furred with kolinsky, that smart fashionable pelt that successfully fools every one into thinking it is mink. This fur is a perfect contrast for these new gold and yellow shades that are being welcomed into the boudoir. If you like your furs for outside use only you can find all kinds of severely simple lounging costumes without any fur or any other contrast, thick opulent velvets that depend solely upon the shimmering gleam and highlights of the fabric for dramatic beauty.

Gold colors have been used for crêpe silk lounging pajamas, stunning affairs with wide trousers tailored to fit snugly about the hips, pajamas fashioned in two pieces, a separate long jacket coat with pockets, masculine revers, and a tie sash all bound with tangerine or colored edges.

These two piece pajamas can be cleverly separated and used for good contrast with tobacco brown velvet coat or trousers from some other ensemble. Or try some trousers of old blue or jade green velvet as a definite accent to either the coat or trousers of this gold color . . . and if you like a good Spanish zip to your interior decorations try a gold and red merger and watch the home folks rise and cheer.

If this gold standard doesn't exactly fit in your scheme of things you can still find all kinds of the good ruddy reds and sapphire blues and jade green lounging costumes . . . and for the gal who likes mysterious black creations that trail and sweep in the grand manner there are some new black velvets that will make you swoon with joy . . . seductive things with trains, long, glamorous sleeves, and some knockout new models that are lined with white satin . . . all with price tags that are a joy to read.

MINUTE MYSTERY CAN YOU SOLVE IT?

BY H. A. RIDLEY

Copyright 1932 By News Syndicate Co. Inc.

Dr. Fordney is professor of criminology at a famous university. His advice is often sought by the police of many cities when confronted with particularly baffling cases. This problem has been taken from his casebook covering hundreds of criminal investigations.

Try your wits on it! It takes but ONE MINUTE to read! Every fact and every clew necessary to its solution are in the story itself—and there is only one answer. How good a detective are you?

TOO CAUTIOUS.

Flitting back and forth in its cage beside the open French windows a golden canary cheerily answered the songs of the wild birds in the garden outside. The room was filled with fresh fragrance of flowers drifting in on a brisk breeze. Prof. Fordney bent over the still, dead figure slouched in a chair before the fireplace.

"Now, Giles," said Inspector Kelley to the servant who had called the police, "tell us what happened."

"Well, sir, Mr. Jordan liked to do his writing in the early morning hours while everything was quiet. I brought his breakfast here to the study at seven, as usual, but found the door locked. Receiving no answer to my knock I hurried round to the side, opened the French windows and rushed in. There sat Mr. Jordan just as you see him. The room was heavy with gas."

"Gas?" interrupted Kelley noticing the light fixtures were electrical.

"It's a gas fireplace, sir," Giles hastened to explain. "I closed the valve before calling the doctor. He hasn't arrived yet. Then I called you."

Fordney observed the small rug jammed against the locked door, the blank sheet of paper in the typewriter and found several crumpled sheets partially written on in the waste basket.

"Why didn't you unlock that door?" demanded Kelley.

"I was careful to leave everything exactly as I found it."

"Too careful, Giles," calmly asserted Fordney.

WHY WAS GILES DETAINED?

(See solution on page 33.)

Benjamin Marshalls to Present Daughter at Tea in Noted Studio

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE debutantes are all agog over the news that the Benjamin H. Marshalls have decided to present Dorothy to society at a tea at the studio in Wilmette for as nice as parties in town are—they had thought of giving a dance at the Drake hotel—it is much more exciting to go to a tea at the far famed studio where the elder Marshall daughter, Betty, made her debut six or seven years ago. Betty is now Mrs. Richard H. Fleming.

Dorothy's tea is to be on Saturday, Nov. 26, and although the date was just set and the other details are not complete yet, there probably will be dancing, which is more good news for the debutantes—for young people like to mix teaing and dancing.

This coming Sunday Miss Marshall and two other debs of the season, Miss Betty Brawley and Miss Edna Doering, are to be given a buffet supper by the junior Nelson Thomassons at their residence, 1345 Astor street.

Kathryn Evans to Make Debut.

Mrs. Albert Thomas Evans will present her daughter, Miss Kathryn Evans, to society this afternoon at a tea and reception from 4 to 7 o'clock at their residence at 179 Lake Shore drive.

The debutante's assistants will include the Misses Jane Boyce, Edna Doering, Helen Marie Castle, Barbara Eldridge, Eleanor Litsinger, Betty Whatley, Julia Kramer, Ethel Frances Dixon, and Miss Evans' cousin, Miss Ruth McCullough of Wausau, Wis.

After the tea Miss Evans and her assistants and escorts will go to the Urban room at the Congress to dance. Miss Evans and her mother are planning to sail on Jan. 12 on a three and a half months' cruise to Australia and the South Sea islands.

About 25 members of the debutante set attended a luncheon that Mrs. Harve C. Badgerow of Winnetka gave for her daughter, Miss Susan Badgerow, yesterday at the Blackstone hotel, and then went on to see "Of Thee I Sing."

The party was not a formal debut for Miss Badgerow, but was as much of a debut as the young lady will have, as she is not interested in coming out in the conventional way. A week from tomorrow her older sister, Mrs. Scott J. Dow Jr., will give a small luncheon and bridge for her at the Dow apartment at 25 East Walton place.

Junior French Society Meets

Miss Beatrice Borland was hostess yesterday at the first meeting of the newly formed but rapidly growing Le Cercle Jeunesse of the Alliance Française at the Borland residence at 2450 Lake View avenue. The meeting, as the forerunner of a series which the organization plans to hold once or twice a month throughout the season, set a high standard for the programs at the forthcoming gatherings.

For entertainment there was a short witty talk in French by the French consul general, M. René Weiller, and a showing of the moving pictures which Beatrice and her sister, Harriet, made on a trip around the world. The movie records the high spots of their travels in Persia, Sumatra, and China and was accompanied yesterday by the same talk which Beatrice gave recently at a showing of the movies before the Chicago Geographic society. It was a much more difficult feat for her yesterday, however, because at the request of Mrs. Charles

A Job a Day

Every little improvement we give our home right now helps us—and the other fellow, too.

Just because your house is already built, or middle aged—or older—does not mean that you cannot give it excellent insulation in the walls, thereby adding to its warmth and making it possible to fuel your furnace at much lowered cost. Investigation of the modern dry fillers which may be blown into the hollow walls of your home will reveal the ease, efficacy, and comparative low cost of this method. No damage is done to the house—but a great deal of heat saving and comfort is afforded.

The Murder of Caroline Bundy

By ALICE CAMPBELL.

SYNOPSIS.

Neil Starkey, American biographer, is engaged by Caroline Bundy to compile the life and letters of her late father, a famous English biologist. Caroline tells Neil that her father, a man of science, was also a mystic. Miss Bundy is in poor health and acting peculiarly. She has hired a photographer, named Tilbury, as bailiff, and he and his wife, an ill bred pair, hold a strange influence over her. The three hold nightly seances in the library. Natasha Andreyev, Caroline's half Russian niece, acts as her aunt's secretary. She detests the Tilburys. Giles Gisborne, vicar of a nearby parish, and his sister, Rachel, are friends of Neil's. Neil is attracted to Natasha, but is baffled by her odd behavior. She is giving money to a man she meets secretly. Caroline promises to visit Emily Brassleton, an old friend, in Paris. Natasha drives her to London. Natasha returns a few days later and tells Neil that her aunt gave her a pearl necklace, which she sold. She receives a wire which Caroline sent from London asking her to search for an alligator bag left in the car. The bag is not found. Caroline doesn't reach Paris. The police are notified. Her body is found in a ditch near her estate. She'd been brutally murdered. The Tilburys are left Caroline's fortune, on condition they search for the Holy Grail in the ruin of an ancient abbey on the estate, which Caroline believed to be her father's wish. Natasha is arrested. It is learned that the man she'd been meeting secretly was her wastrel brother, Michael, who is wanted for theft and has left the country. News is received of his death. Natasha is brought to trial. There is no proof of guilt. She is freed, though still under suspicion. Neil continues the murder search. A notice appears in newspapers asking the return of an alligator bag, reward offered, no questions asked. Neil suspects Albert Stokes, attendent at the garage where Miss Bundy's car was kept, of stealing the bag. Neil knew the bag contained papers which Tilbury might be anxious to recover. Natasha disappears.

INSTALLMENT LII.

A FUTILE SEARCH.

At the entrance to the garage Saunders met Neil with a square-jawed policeman, who touched his helmet and explained.

"You know the stone bridge, sir, where the Stoke Paulton lane branches off? I saw the car there this morning when I went past on my push-bike. I supposed the driver had got out for something, but when I came along twenty minutes ago and it was still in the same spot, I drove it back here to see if Mr. Saunders knew anything about it. It's yours, I take it?"

It was. Neil examined the petrol tank to find it almost full. Natasha could not have driven far.

"Which direction was it facing?"

"This way, sir—towards the town."

Then she had started homeward and turned back. Had she abandoned the car to walk to the station? He drove to make inquiries of the guard and ticket seller, both of whom knew the girl by sight. Their answers were negative. However she had got away, it was not by rail from this point.

"Constable," he announced a moment later, "a young lady, Miss Andreyev, had this car from four o'clock yesterday afternoon. She's now missing. I want an immediate search made, the whole neighborhood scoured."

"That will do now. You've had long enough."

"Why, Mr. Starkey, she called in here about four o'clock. I talked with her myself," interrupted Saunders.

"She says to me, 'Where's Bert?'—just like that. I tell her he's gone to his lodgings, feeling bad. She asked me where Bert lived and I gave her the address—17 Briarcliff Villas. She nodded her head and went off."

"Constable, please report this at once. I want every garage, every telephone booth, every——" he hesitated, "every chemist's shop canvassed as quickly as possible. Find out if she's been seen and when."

As the officer departed on his mission Neil turned back to Saunders. "Have you by any chance seen Mr. Tilbury today?" he demanded.

"Mr. Tilbury?" The proprietor showed surprise. "No, sir, not since Thursday, when he left his car here on his way to the station. He fetched it again in the evening."

"If you do see him don't mention anything about this, will you?"—and slipping a ten shilling note into the astonished man's hand he set off post haste for Briarcliff Villas.

Presently, on the outskirts of the town, he drew up before a row of dingy two storied houses. The door of No. 17 gaped open to reveal shabby linoleum and a flight of worn stairs. A woman in a dirty apron answered his knock.

"Does Albert Stokes live here?"

"Yes, sir. He's laid up. Was you wanting to see him?"

"Are you his mother?"

"O, no, sir. He's a lodger—friend of my boy's."

"Perhaps you can tell me if a young lady called to see him yesterday afternoon?"

She blinked inquiringly. "A young lady, sir? Why, yes, there was one come, in a small car. She asked for Bert, but he'd gorn out."

"Then he was not ill then?"

"No, sir, I don't think so—just going somewhere. It was when he came in again about nine that he was so bad. Been in bed ever since."

Out of the tangle one fact stood clear. Bert had given illness as an excuse, possibly to keep some appointment. If he had met Tilbury he must have got money from him in exchange for the stolen bag; but all that was irrelevant now. It seemed fairly certain he had not met Natasha.

Parting with another ten shillings, Neil cautioned the woman to say nothing of his visit, and struck out on the road leading to the stone bridge. He must satisfy himself on one score before going further.

Here was the bridge, and here, plainly shown in the thin layer of mud, were the tracks of his own tires. He leapt out and scanned the sluggish stream which wound between dipping willows. Scarcely anywhere had the brown water any great depth. In most places the flat stones were visible, while there were so many sedges and outcropping roots that a body could not drift far without being caught and held.

Racing down the incline he followed the footpath in both directions, peering into every pool. Downstream he covered several hundred yards, then gave it up. No, nothing here. Why then had she left the car in this spot? Almost he was ready to believe that poor girl in a fit of aberration had strayed off across the hills, not caring what became of her; yet, even so, some one must have seen her. Human beings cannot vanish into thin air. She must have hired another car from one of the several garages in the town. Of course—the obvious solution!

Half an hour later he knew that was not what had happened.

In desperation Neil rang up Sir James Curwood's place and spoke to Crabbe. The latter, who had heard nothing, could offer no suggestion, and, unfortunately, as a dinner party was in preparation, he could not get out to aid in the search.

"You say she knew about that advertisement, sir?" the butler's voice sounded strained. "In that case mightn't there be some connection between——?"

"All I know is she tried to get in touch with the boy at the garage and failed. We'd both decided it was he who stole Miss Bundy's bag, so it's possible she hoped to find out something from him. Also the boy himself went off yesterday on what may have been an appointment—but that's only a wild guess."

"Maybe it's not so wild, sir," whispered Crabbe. "I'll tell you what—I'll send word down to Mrs. Bebb and tell her to take the bus along to the King's Arms directly she leaves off work. You can find out from her exactly what a certain person's been doing these last two days—if she knows, of course. In the meantime why don't you get hold of that boy and put the fear of God into him? For all we know he may have something to tell."

"You're right, Crabbe. It's the one line I haven't tackled."

Little as he expected from this particular quarter, he recognized in Bert's panic at the mere sight of an official uniform a possible means of forcing his hand. At the police station he enlisted the services of the same constable explained what he wanted, and finally obtained the other's consent.

"You need do nothing but show yourself on the pavement outside. I'll do the talking. I'm not asking you to arrest this Stokes, you understand."

"If that's all that's required, sir, I'm willing to oblige—though I don't just see what's in your mind."

The landlady of No. 17 acceded to Neil's request without demur. She mounted the stairs, closely followed by the visitor, and rapped on a door at the rear of the upper floor.

"Bert, there's a gentleman to see you."

There was the sound of a flying leap and the door was barred by the impact of a body. A hoarse voice muttered in tones of fear.

"No, I won't see him! Keep out, I tell you!"

"Why, Bert!" exclaimed the woman, and in a whisper explained, "There's no key, sir—he can't lock himself in." In a persuasive manner she continued aloud, "It's only some one as wants a word with you, stupid."

A pause. At last a sulky voice returned, "Right-o. Give me two minutes to pull on my trousers."

Neil waited. The two minutes lengthened to three, then five. Finally he cried impatiently:

"That will do now. You've had long enough."

So saying, he flung open the door and stared round. The small tumbled room was empty. Its occupant had escaped through the open window and down the drainpipe.

Splendid Concert for a Good Cause Pleases Audience

A good concert for a good cause was given at Kimball hall last night when Elaine De Sellem, mezzo soprano, and Mae Doelling Schmidt, pianist, appeared jointly for the benefit of Ida Margaret Kaehler, formerly a well known music teacher of the city. Miss De Sellem, more than usually gifted as an interpreter of songs, gave a group by Korngold, Thomas, and Eric Coates in the conventional concert manner, and then two more, Russian and Spanish, each in the costume of its land.

Mrs. Schmidt is a remarkable technician, and her part of the program made a brilliant display of the fact. A group by Schumann and Chopin, another of the moderns, Scriabin, Szymanowski, Casella, Debussy, and Rachmaninoff, a final one by Liszt in a manner more than competent. Both artistes were lavishly and deservedly applauded. E. M.

Marshalls to Give Debut Tea at Noted Studio

Dorothy Will Make Bow at Wilmette.

S. Dewey, president of the alliance, she gave her talk in French, and, although Miss Borland is an accomplished linguist, there were incidents in the picture which simply could not be described without breaking into a little American slang.

Tea was served, before the picture, from a table made festive with a miniature tree of carnations and foliage and yellow tapers. Among the members present were Miss Marjorie Goodman, who alternated pouring at the tea table with Miss Beatrice Kirk; Miss Louise Dewey, Miss Mary Val Alstein, Miss Phyllis Walsh, Miss Elaine Philipsborn, Miss Geraldine Swift, Miss Ann Tracy, Miss Jean Armstrong, Miss Mary Wood, and Miss Paula Wilms, who is chairman of the juniors. Mrs. Dewey, friendly sponsor of the junior group, was, of course, present, as were also Mrs. Ralph T. Winston, secretary of the senior organization, and the charming Mme. Weiller, wife of the French consul.

Many Parties for Countess

An attractive visitor to the city who is here just to see old friends and not to lecture as she did last year is the Countess Margit Bethlen, wife of the former Hungarian prime minister. Last year when she came to talk at one of the Town hall lectures she was entertained extensively and this time she is being entertained just as much, but in a more informal and unofficial way.

Last night the Theodore Brentanos gave a dinner for her, and tonight the Henry Bartholomays and their daughter, Mrs. Bartholomay Osborne, are entertaining at dinner, later taking their guests to the symphony concert. The countess, who is staying at the Stevens hotel, plans to be here until tomorrow.

With the Olivet institute benefit a past event, Mrs. Howard Linn is preparing to leave for a round of visits in the east, but she will not go until after the stock of her little interior decorating shop, Au Paradis, is auctioned at Grant's the first four days of next week.

The shop was closed last May and the stock has been in storage since then. Mr. and Mrs. Linn will leave next Thursday night for Pittsburgh for some hunting and shooting, and from there Mrs. Linn will go on to New York, Baltimore, and Virginia for more hunting, but Mr. Linn will return home for whereas he likes to shoot, he doesn't hunt.

Olivet, by the way, received the entire benefits of the opening performance of "When Chicago Was Young"—over and above the cost of taking over the theater for the night, of course—and it is to receive 10 per cent of the proceeds of all the performances during the three weeks' run.

Mrs. D. Mark Cummings is moving in from Lake Forest to her apartment at 1550 State parkway next Monday. Her daughter, Miss Edith Cummings, left yesterday for Middleburg, Va., to visit the "Jock" Whitneys, who are having a race meeting on their estate Saturday. Miss Cummings is not taking a house at Middleburg this year as she did last last, but will be there visiting friends until about the 28th of this month.

The William H. Mitchells will be among other Chicagoans at the Whitneys' meeting and they are leaving today for Middleburg.

Mrs. J. Dorr Bradley has come to town from Lake Forest to spend the winter at the Drake hotel. Her son-in-law and daughter, the Benjamin Carpenters, belong to the year 'round colony in the north shore village.

Group to Hear Chinese Today

Dr. Sao-Ke Alfred Sze, former chief representative of China in the league of nations, will be the guest of the Chicago Council of Foreign Relations at a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock today at the Palmer house. Members of the New Orient society and of the Friends of China have received special invitations to attend the luncheon and to hear Dr. Sze speak on "China and Japan—the Basic Issues."

This afternoon at 4:30 o'clock the Friends of China will give a tea for the visitor at the Casino. Col. George T. Langhorne, president of the association, is in California, so Mrs. John Paul Welling, first vice president, will receive with Dr. Sze.

At the speakers' table at the luncheon there will be Graham Aldis, who will preside; Dr. and Mrs. James H. Breasted, John Jay Abbott, Mrs. Silas H. Strawn, Koliang Yih, the Chinese consul general; Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Welling, Mrs. Howell Erminger, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hume, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Otis, Mrs. Augustus A. Carpenter, and Robert Hall McCormick.

Wives of the officers of the Sixth corps area are to be entertained at tea this afternoon at Mrs. Charles H. Chadwick's residence at 209 Lake Shore drive. Mrs. Arthur A. Small will receive with the hostess.

Mme. Claire Dux will be the guest of the Cliff Dwellers at their weekly tea after the symphony concert tomorrow afternoon. Pouring will be Mrs. Waller Borden, Mrs. Americus F. Callahan, Mrs. Herbert E. Hyde, Mrs. Francis Neilson, and Mrs. Frederic W. Upham. Mme. Dux, who is Mrs. Charles H. Swift in private life, is to be the soloist with the orchestra tonight and tomorrow afternoon.

Bryn Mawr Council

Bryn Mawr alumnæ of this territory will be busy the rest of this week acting as hostesses for the annual council of the Bryn Mawr Alumnæ association which is to be held here, opening today. There is to be a luncheon at the Casino today with Mrs. William B. Hale in charge, numerous dinners arranged by Mrs. James L. Houghteling at private residences in Winnetka tonight for the visitors, who will come from all over the country; a dinner tomorrow night at the Indian Hill club with Mrs. William G. Hibbard in charge, and on Saturday a buffet luncheon that Mrs. Stephen T. Gregory has planned. Mrs. Edwin P. Dewes is president of the Chicago Bryn Mawr club and Mrs. John Rice Reilly of the Winnetka branch.

Presidents may come and Presidents may go, but nothing will dim the gratitude and pride of the Chicago Girl Scouts council in a gift it had recently, a large framed picture of Mrs. Herbert Hoover, who is honorary president of the Girl Scouts and has been an active worker in that organization for years.

Mrs. Ellis A. Yost brought the picture to Chicago and presented it to Mrs. Charles R. Lindsay Jr., acting commissioner of the Chicago council and a member of the national board of directors.

The picture is hanging in the Chicago office at 225 North Michigan avenue. The third of the series of five Monday night concerts being given this season for the benefit of the Girl Scouts will be on Nov. 28 at Orchestra hall by Chaliapin.

The American Opera Society of Chicago, of which Miss Emily Larned is president, has cards out for the first of its operatic concerts this season on Sunday at 3:30 o'clock at the Three Arts club. Excerpts from "Ouanga" by the colored composer, Clarence Cameron White, will be sung by Cleo Wade, John Greene, Michel Fanik and Fred Farrel.

Opening Exhibit at Arts Club

Cards are out for the opening exhibition of the season at the Arts club on Tuesday, Nov. 15. Tea will be served from 4 to 6 o'clock. The exhibition includes three shows, recent drawings by Maillol, paintings and sculpture by American contemporaries, and reconstructions of seventeenth century Persian fresco paintings in Isfahan by Sarkis Katchadourian, the latter lent by the American Institute for Persian Art and Archæology.

Mrs. Arthur W. Cutten will be hostess at a meeting of the board of the Home for Convalescent Women and Children on Monday morning at 11 o'clock at her residence at 209 Lake Shore drive. Mrs. William D. McIlvaine is president of the board.

The latest news from the Silver Screen ball is that even the invitations will be modern; they will be delivered by mail wrapped in cellophane! There will be many Greta Garbos, Marlene Dietrichs, Charlie Chaplins, and Tom Mixes at the ball, for masks of movie folk are to be provided for the guests. Even Mickey Mouse and Minnie Mouse will be there in numbers, and also directors, fans, and others belonging to the silver screen world.

The masks and accessories to be worn with evening dress are to be provided at the door and are included in the ticket charge. The ball is being given by the Association of Arts and Industries on Dec. 17 at the Drake hotel and the proceeds will be devoted to the work of the association in developing the Industrial Art school, which the association has established at the Art institute. Members of the committees planning the affair are to meet this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Drake.

GASOLINE ALLEY—AND WHAT HAVE YOU?

WHERE DID YOU GET THIS RAZOR? OUT OF THE JUNK PILE I'LL BET. WHERE THE OLD STOVE CAME FROM.
HONEST, I DIDN'T STEVE. IT'S ONE UNCLE WALT HAD AN' HE HASN'T BEEN USING IT LATELY.
I'LL BET HE CUT THE WEEDS WITH IT SINCE HE SHARPENED IT. HOW DO I LOOK, BOYS?
GEE, SWELL!
YOU DON'T LOOK SO BAD WITH YOUR WHISKERS OFF DO YOU?
WE GOT TO BE GOIN', STEVE.
WELL DON'T FORGET THE LIST— I'LL HAVE TO HAVE A LANTERN AND A BLANKET AND MAYBE YOU CAN PICK ME OUT AN OVERCOAT. I'M LOW ON MATCHES AND SALT AND FOOD AND IF YOU'LL BRING ME A COMB I'LL AGREE TO COMB MY HAIR.

French Dressmakers Adapt Costume of Oriental Dancer for Formal Wear

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—A trend in formal Paris fashions that is apparent to the trained eye is that of adapting the costume of the oriental dancer to the afternoon frock. You know the kind of costume that the hootch dancers wear in the movies? A sort of brassiere effect for a bodice, a stretch of nudity from this to the waistline, and then a soft, flowing skirt.

The way in which the French dressmakers do this kind of dress removes all the shock. The part of the anatomy that is left bare in the orient is covered by a tightly stretched bit of silk, so there is no nudity, simply a piquant suggestion of it. Madeleine Vionnet did one or two such dresses for evening wear late in the summer, and this fall the idea has been taken up for afternoon frocks of the formal class.

The sketched frock illustrates the movement better than any words can. This is one of Augustabernard's smartest formal afternoon frocks. It is made of pale gray crêpe marocain, and hasn't a smidge of contrasting trimming on it, so that its daring line is subdued to propriety.

The brassiere bodice, with its big sleeves, ends just below the bust in a simple seam, and below this the crêpe marocain is stretched tight like a drumhead just to the waistline, to suggest nudity which isn't there. A soft, oriental sash of the crêpe is placed at the waistline, with the ends in front, and the skirt falls in soft, circular folds below the hips.

Thanksgiving dinners out in Iowa, I can see them yet. Great billowy mounds of creamy potatoes, piles of steaming rolls, platters of golden Hubbard squash, cold, crisp salads of apples, nuts, and celery, crimson cranberry moulds, marvelous mince and pumpkin pies—and, crowning the feast, that epitome of color, flavor, and aroma—his majesty, the turkey.

But oddly enough it isn't these delights at all that stand out most persistently in my memory. Instead it's the hiding, unknown lusciousness with which the turkey was packed to popping and to which only mother knew the secret before father's slithering knife revealed it to us, the ravenous offspring. For always it seemed there was a new dressing. Sometimes it was a different flavoring. Or again one's senses swore proof positive that it sported quite different ingredients. Whatever the answer, it taught one lesson—that a roast fowl is what its stuffing makes it. True, you can eat drumsticks and not even nibble on the inner goodness, but you can't avoid the flavor and fragrance it gives to that drumstick.

So consider your stuffings, for the great day is a short two weeks away, and with an increasingly large number of dressings clamoring to be urged down the generous gullet of our bird, the time draws near to weigh and choose.

While as a rule any good dressing will be good in any good bird, well brought up ducks, geese, chickens, and turkeys do have their own favorite stuffings. The gamey flavor of water birds, for instance, blends best with apple, or apple and prune dressings, potato stuffings, savory onion dressings, or a full flavored celery stuffing. Turkey is happiest when holding warmly within it an oyster, egg and mushroom, chestnut, or other nut dressing.

Chicken, on the other hand, may arrive at table encompassing feathery dressings, featuring giblets, corn, parsley, or even cocoanut as an ingredient. Remember in each case to stuff lightly, but still to reach every opening.

And here's another tip which will hold good for all kinds of roast fowl in which the breast bone is not too protruding. In roasting place the bird on his breast instead of his back. Support on each side with skewers or small pans set inside the roaster, and proceed as usual. This arrangement allows the juices to drain down into the too, too dry and solid breast and lends added deliciousness to the whole. A delectable basting juice is made of one cup of boiling water, one-half cup orange juice, and two teaspoons lemon juice. This piquant fruit flavor permeates the meat of the roast bird.

Now for three quick tricks with Thanksgiving stuffings. The first fills a chicken. The second complements a turkey, and the third flatters a plump roast goose.

APPLE-GIBLET STUFFING FOR CHICKEN.
1 set giblets [heart, liver, and gizzard]
3 cups stale bread crumbs
1 cup minced tart apple
¼ cup chopped onion
¾ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon powdered sage

Soak the bread crumbs in cold milk half an hour, then squeeze out quite dry. Add the apple, onion, and seasoning and mix well. Blend with this the giblets, which have been cooked till tender and then chopped fine.

OYSTER STUFFING FOR TURKEY.
1 pound loaf of stale white bread
1 pint solid oysters, cut in halves
1 pint oyster liquor
2 teaspoons salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
Grated rind of ½ lemon
2 tablespoons melted butter

Cut the bread in thick slices and then in cubes. Add the oyster liquor, then the remaining ingredients, and blend. Add water if necessary to make packable. Stuff the turkey from both openings and sew up the entrances.

PRUNE STUFFING FOR DUCK.
3 cups stale bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 cup chopped stewed prunes
½ cup chopped apples
½ cup chopped nut meats
¼ cup melted butter
2 teaspoons brown sugar
Juice of ¼ lemon
Prune juice

Fund Feeding Hungry Pupils in 52 Schools

Fifty-two schools have been placed on the list receiving free lunches from the Hungry School Children's fund, Miss Frances L. Swain, head of the household arts department of the board of education, announced yesterday. Miss Swain, in cooperation with a citizens' advisory committee, distributes the funds contributed by TRIBUNE readers.

"With the coming of colder weather, it will become more and more necessary to serve hot lunches," Miss Swain said. "The principals have been studying the situation carefully, and daily more schools are added to the waiting list. Many schools which got along last year without our help need it this year."

At the rate contributions are coming in the fund will be unable to continue the feeding in the 52 schools, Miss Swain declared. The $5,000 gift of the Golden Gloves fund from THE TRIBUNE gave the Hungry School Children's fund enough of a start to warrant the feeding at the 52 schools, she said. She emphasized that gifts be sent to the fund as soon as possible, declaring that the schools on the waiting list are desperately in need of food for their most needy pupils.

To date little more than $11,500 has been contributed. Last year $48,000 was raised, this amount feeding 10,000 children daily in 209 public schools. The need is even greater this year.

The boost to $275 in daily collections on Tuesday, so heartening to the fund, took a sudden drop yesterday. Only $95.10 was received, an amount far below the daily average since the fund was started. Acknowledgment is made of these gifts as follows:

$10.00—Frances Peristein, in memory of Betsy Peristein; Mrs. James E. O'Reily, River Forest; K. M. D.; Eloise and Dickey Grawoig; Mrs. T. U. Graves.
$7.00—The Bookhouse for Children.
$5.00—Mrs. August Gatzert; Mrs. Merlin A. Muth, La Grange; J. B. Noelle, Ivy C. Goodman, Army Officer.
$3.00—T. F. McNaly.
$2.00—E. J. R., Mrs. Archibald Wagner, W. E. Mackey.
$1.00—B. Malkov, K. E. W., Harold Jr. and Tommy Holmquest, Oak Park; C. A. M., 10 cents—F. W. Virden.

Total	$ 58.10
Previously acknowledged	11,499.30
Grand total	$11,564.30

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Witnessed by Pupils.

I had stored my spring coat for the winter and I did not expect to use it again. However, as it was warmer than usual one Sunday recently I decided to wear the coat to church. As I got out of the car some one approached me and asked what was hanging on the back of my coat. I investigated, and there, pinned on the back of my coat, was a sack of moth balls. My grandmother had pinned them on the coat as she, too, thought that I would no longer use it. I am a Sunday school teacher, and all the members of my class were standing outside waiting for me.

Embarrassed! I should say so.

Baby Hygiene Improves as Years Go On

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

There are always people who talk about the good old times—as if everything were better and everybody better off then than now. As a matter of fact, I do think that the slower pace and the simpler life of long ago often seems more attractive than the speed and complexity of this time. But perhaps it's all in retrospect or the glamour of the past.

In any case, we do know that there's one way in which we have advanced—and that is in hygienic living and the cure of disease. Did you ever read some of the descriptions of the streets, the clothing, and the hair of people in, say, the days of good Queen Bess, from whom our lovely state of Virginia is named? These accounts are not romance.

Why, even so near to this era as in George Washington's day a baby was decorated with a necklace of wolf fangs and his gums were scraped with an osprey bone to improve his teeth.

"Today," as Dr. Crumbine of the American Child Health association says, "we realize that the care the mother receives during the months before the baby is born, and the food she eats, together with the food, sleep and sunshine the baby gets through the early part of his life, have the greatest influence upon the child's teeth."

Does it surprise you to know that only about one out of every four children born in Washington's time lived to grow up? Is it to be wondered at when you think how little the good colonials knew of sanitation and cleanliness? They sprinkled vinegar around as a disinfectant. To quote Dr. Crumbine again:

"The four day old infant had to be taken to the drafty meeting house, even in the winter months, to be baptized, when the ice had to be broken in the christening bowl. The older child wore shoes with thin soles so that he would get used to having his feet wet.

"So we do move along. Last year's May day objective was that 'each child may be born of a healthy mother who will live to love her child and take care of her family.'"

Young Woman Fears Platonic Relationship

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"In your opinion is it possible for a modern girl to carry on a platonic affair with a married man over a number of years? Is this biologically or psychologically possible?—JANE."

If you asked about carrying on a friendship with a married man over a number of years, "Jane," we'd agree it entirely possible. But when you introduce the "platonic affair" suggestion you raise a doubt immediately about the possibility of its remaining a completely innocent friendship. The idea, anyway, is a dangerous infusion into a relationship that might otherwise be quite regular.

It suggests a bit more familiarity than is ordinarily granted friendships with a married member of opposite sex. More frequent meetings. More intimate talks. Perhaps secret rendezvous. Consequently, a relationship with all the ammunition loaded for trouble. And we do not think that the "modernness" of the girl relieves the situation of its potential danger. It's playing with fire.

We're not sticking to the Websterian interpretation of platonic, it is true. But we doubt very much if a "pure, spiritual affection between persons of opposite sex," one married and one not prompts a query of its righteousness.

Frankly, we cannot see the value of such a relationship to an unmarried girl. The world is not perfect enough yet to accept a platonic affair at its purely spiritual value. For this reason we'd heartily recommend that young women evade the platonic affair for a relationship with the opposite sex that will earn her more happiness, give her more security, give her a better position in the eyes of the community.

CORN HUSKERS COMPETE TODAY FOR U. S. TITLE

Fields Near Galva, Ill., Arena for Contest.

BY PAUL POTTER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Galva, Ill., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Eighteen farm boys, the pick of the entire corn belt, warmed up near here this afternoon in preparation for the annual classic of the cornfields here tomorrow. Preparations have been made for a crowd of 50,000 spectators at the national cornhusking contest, familiarly known as the "Cornbelt Derby," out of which will emerge the hero of agrarian America.

On the Robert Peterson farm, three miles east of here, has been a crew of a hundred farmers all this week erecting a tented city and preparing a field of sixty-five acres of corn that yields ninety-five bushels to the acre. There, in eighty minutes of hard and fast work, the champions of nine states will compete.

Cornstalks Adorn Streets.

The entire county is in festive array, despite heavy rains and a near blizzard this morning. Streets of Galva and Kewanee are decorated with giant cornstalks, banners, and painted enlargements of corn ears. Field marshals have lined the streets with eighteen new green and yellow wagons, one side of each built up as a backstop for the barrage of corn which the huskers will pound against them tomorrow. They are to be drawn by new yellow caterpillar tractors, quite in contrast to the dapple Percherons that drew the parade to the field of battle in Grundy Center, Ia., just a year ago.

Hope for Frost's Help.

As the day drew to a close the mercury dropped sufficiently to encourage the contestants, who are hoping that a frost tonight will help them sever the golden ears from the tall stalks in an effort to establish a new record. Husking 33 to 34 bushels of corn in 80 minutes, the corn to be free of husks and no corn to be left in the rows, is the sort of record at which they are shooting.

The contest will be preceded by a grand march, in which contestants, judges, and the field officers will pass in review en route from Galva to the Peterson farm. Promptly at 11:45 Thursday the starting gun will crack. A volley of boom booms will resound through the fields and be carried across the nation in a hookup of radio stations. For 80 minutes there will be no ceasing from the sweating ordeal of garnering the corn. Judges are expecting to be able to announce the winners by 3 o'clock.

Records of Contestants.

Wife of Soviet Dictator Dies

Mme. Nadya Stalin, wife of Josef Stalin, dictator of Russia, who died in Moscow.

Was the Second Mate of Russian Leader.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Nov. 9.—Mme. Nadya Stalin, wife of Josef Stalin, soviet Russian dictator, died last night, according to an announcement today from Moscow by the soviet official Tass news agency. Mme. Stalin was 30 years of age.

Rumore were circulated following the announcement that Mme. Stalin had died as a result of an automobile accident, but they could not be verified and the news organization revealed no details of the death.

Little Known to Public.

T announcement surprised Russians, who had suspected nothing unusual concerning the affairs of the leading soviet family, although Mme. Stalin had not appeared Monday at celebrations of the 15th birthday of the soviet republic.

The ublic appearances of Mme. Stalin, however, were rare, and on those few occasions made herself inconspicuous. Very little penetrated to the outside world about her. It was not until her name was posted for "cutting" classes that the world at large learned she had been enrolled for more than a year in an industrial academy to become expert in making artificial silk. She was graduated from th academy last July and so qualified for a high technical or administrative post in the soviet textile industry.

Stalin's Second Wife.

Nadya Allilnieva was born in 1902, the daughter of a Georgian locksmith, Sergei Allilnieva. She became Stalin's second wife in 1919, when Stalin was 40 years old. Two children survive, a boy 11 years old, and a girl, 6. There is also a stepson 23 years old, a child of Stalin's first marriage.

It was learned recently that Mme. Stalin's father, who embraced bolshevism early in the century, once held a responsible post in the metallurgical industry under Stalin. The latter had often ited Allilnieva's home before the Red revolution and thus became acquainted with Nadya.

Night Club Hostess Draws Driving Fine

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Miss Margaret Redding, 24, hostess in a night club, will spend the next 30 days in the county jail unless friends come to her rescue with a $100 for a fine assessed against her today by Judge George E. Page when she was found guilty of driving an automobile while intoxicated. The judge ordered her to jail when she said she did not have the money to pay the fine. The young woman, who lives at 953 North 10th street, was arrested a week ago when her automobile collided with another automobile at North 16th street and West Kilbourn avenue. She denied she was intoxicated at the time.

FOOTBALL AID TO NOTRE DAME, PRESIDENT SAYS

No Change in Policy Contemplated.

BY HARVEY WOODRUFF.

[Copyright: 1932: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 9.—"Notre Dame's preeminence in football, I should say quite positively, has been a help rather than a hinderance to the university from an academic point of view, if you will allow me to explain the academic point of view from which I regard it."

That was the preliminary answer of the Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, C. S. C. president of the University of Notre Dame, to my direct question. The question was asked in the president's office on the second floor of the administration building, where I was received by appointment.

THE REV. CHARLES O'DONNELL.

Before presenting in full Father O'Donnell's answer, one should know that all Notre Dame athletic activities are under the direct control of the president and his council.

President in Control.

Thus Father O'Donnell personally engages the athletic director, the head football coach and all assistant coaches. Football receipts go into the general university fund and disbursements are made therefrom.

Father O'Donnell, a native of Kokomo, Ind., was educated at Notre Dame and took his doctor's degree at Catholic university in Washington. He has been on the teaching staff here since 1910, except when in war service, and for the last four years he has been president. He is responsible for the conduct of a university of 2,750 students, subject only to the provincial of the order of the Holy Cross, which operates the university.

Notre Dame's president has seen nearly all gridiron contests since becoming associated with the university as a teacher. Despite his modest denial, he is a keen judge of plays and tactics as was shown in our conversation. He possesses a sense of humor, as evidenced when he remarked Notre Dame's most glaring weakness, if any, is against a "cripple threat," a playful reference to defeat by Pittsburgh, whose team was called crippled before that game. With this explanation of why Father O'Donnell's views have so much bearing in the matter, let us return to his amplification of my original question.

Sports Are Necessary.

"Thus far, in its 90 years of academic life," the president said, "Notre Dame has been chiefly concerned to pass on to an undergraduate body a certain cultural tradition. This is in line with Cardinal Newman's well known distinction between a college and a university: the purpose of a college being the distribution of knowledge, while that of a university is the extension of knowledge.

"In a school, therefore, that is principally undergraduate in its enrollment, sports have their proper place, and it is an important place. Even that stanch old Puritan, Milton, drawing up his program for an ideal college, stressed the part that athletics should play. Curiously enough, the forms of athletics he emphasized were wrestling, which is a game of bodily contact, and fencing. It all comes back to the well established classical ideal which recognizes the human fact that we are creatures of body as well as of mind or soul.

"Others may seek to explain at this particular time why football has become the favorite of all college sports. In accepting it as such, Notre Dame is not different from the rank and file of American colleges. I am assuming, of course, that there is honesty and sincerity in the pursuit of the academic program, and I firmly believe that is quite generally true. I think it may be even especially true of schools that have attained prominence in football. Whatever was true 25 years ago, this generation of American students is too smart and too mature to harbor the delusion that football means success in life.

Heroes Are Correctives.

"Viewed in this light, I am sure that football at Notre Dame has helped to carry forward the aims of the school to prepare men to live completely. Naturally, there are those who do not approach this question from the same starting point."

Then I asked Father O'Donnell whether being known to the public at large as a football college had, by any chance, caused loss of academic prestige. Frankly, he answered: "As the prestige of universities is so commonly reckoned, Notre Dame has suffered from the unprecedented publicity which its football has received. I do not accept those canons of criticism as applicable in the case.

"In doing the work we set ourselves to do, it is no subversion of our intention that an athletic coach or a football team or even a few individual players may for the moment be better known than really distinguished professors teaching those boys in the classroom. I don't think it worries the professors, either. I am sure it does not give the students in question a

Olympic Star Ill

DOROTHY POYNTON.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Dorothy Poynton, Olympic games high diving champion, was reported seriously ill in her home today and under the care of specialists who were treating her for a mastoid abscess. Miss Poynton's father, Richard E. Poynton, said the infection developed in the Olympic games.

Oust McEwan as Head Coach at Holy Cross

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Capt. John J. McEwan, head coach of football at Holy Cross since 1930, was suspended as coach today by the Rev. T. J. Phelan, moderator of athletics. Father Phelan gave "interference with the proper working of our athletic department by an unauthorized, though widely published, attempt to discharge one of our staff" as the cause of McEwan's suspension.

The "published attempt to discharge one of our staff" were accounts relating to Capt. McEwan's argument with Bart Sullivan, trainer, during the Brown game at Providence. Rumors of dissension spread after the game, which Holy Cross lost in the final minutes of play, 10 to 7, and Capt. McEwan was quoted as saying Sullivan had openly mutinied and could no longer act as trainer for the football squad.

Capt. McEwan offered to reimburse Sullivan from his own salary for any time lost by the latter as football trainer. Sullivan is also track coach.

When asked for comment, Capt. McEwan said: "I have nothing to say whatever."

It was learned from reliable sources that Arthur E. Corcoran, who has been end coach for the last six years, will take charge of the squad.

Capt. McEwan was head coach at West Point in 1923, 1924, and 1925, and later coached at the University of Oregon, where he was succeeded by Dr. Clarence Spears in 1930.

38 Pitt Players Leave for Nebraska; to Drill Here

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 9.—(AP)—The largest group of Pittsburgh Panthers ever to invade an opponent's lair left tonight for Nebraska. Coach Jock Sutherland took 38 men with him, indicating he expects many substitutes will be needed to halt the Cornhuskers. Pitt will practice in Chicago and Omaha en route.

ST. JOHNS BRINGS CLEAR RECORD TO CULVER BATTLE

Prep Cadets Will Parade Before Contest.

After two successive defeats by the Culver Military Academy football eleven, the St. Johns Cadets hope to break back into the victory column against their old rivals in the annual meeting of the two teams at Dyche stadium Saturday. All proceeds from the game will be turned over to charity.

The game promises to provide one of the most colorful football spectacles to be seen in Chicago. The corps of both schools will attend.

Before the game both corps will assemble at Raymond park in Evanston under the leadership of Col. Robert Rossow, cor mandant of Culver, and Maj. Charles T. Smythe, commandant of St. Johns. The combined corps will parade through Evanston to the stadium, where a review will be held, starting at 1:45 o'clock.

St. Johns Record Clear.

St. Johns threat to upset its traditional rival is not idle. The Cadets from Delafield, Wis., have not lost a game this season. They have won victories over Oshkosh Teachers, Lawrence university freshmen, Wisconsin School of Mines, Ripon college freshmen, and De Paul freshmen.

The St. Johns line compares in weight with the average major university line. From tackle to tackle the academy forwards will average 200 pounds. Among these huskies are Capt. Park Wray, a tackle, who weighs 220 pounds. He is a Chicagoan. Frank Riley, a brother of Bill Riley, present Northwestern university tackle, weighs 190 pounds. He will start at guard.

John Conrad, 193 pound full back, is one of the offensive threats of the St. Johns eleven. He will also do most of the kicking for his team.

Culver does not have as sensational an early season record as St. Johns but for the last two years has been more or less the under dog in this popular prep game, and in each contest has won 19 to 0 victories.

Culver Has Lost Two Games.

The Culver team is coached by Lloyd Bergen, who succeeded to the position following the death of Bob Peck last summer. Bergen is a former star of Lake Forest and Princeton. His assistants are Maj. John S. Wood and Maj. Benjamin F. Hoge, both former stars at West Point.

Culver's record includes victories over Central High of Evansville, Ind.; Brazil, Ind., High, and Valparaiso university freshmen. The team lost to Mooseheart academy and Notre Dame reserves.

CANADIAN ARMY TEAM IS VICTOR IN HORSE SHOW

New York, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The Canadian army team tonight outclassed the pick of the jumpers from the armies of four nations to win the first international military contest of the 47th annual national horse show, which opened today in Madison Square garden.

Closely bunched behind were three teams from the Irish Free State. Sllevenamon and Gallow Glass, with Capts. Daniel Corry and Fred Ahearne in the pilot seat, placed second with only one fault. Third went to Beann Edair and Blarney Castle, ridden by Capt. Corry and Lieut. James F. Neylon while Capts. Corry and Ahearne also rode the fourth place combination —Shannon Power and Kilmallock.

Next were two teams representing the French army, four from the United States army and one pair from Fort Meyer, Va.

Kenney Beats Weston in Cue Tournament, 50 to 42

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Len Kenney of Chicago, today defeated Charles Weston, a fellow townsman, 50 to 42, in 55 innings, to go into third place in the Northern Sectional Three-Cushion Billiard tournament. The defeat for Weston, his second straight, eliminates him from championship considerations.

Wet Vote Makes a Fighter's Future a Happy One Again

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 9.—The result of the national election might reopen in time an old line of business which, in other years, was much favored by retired prizefighters. The prohibitionists probably did not realize it at the time, but they inflicted a special hardship on the veterans of the fight clubs when they closed to them a form of business endeavor which had always been regarded as the natural sequel to a successful career in the ring.

JIMMY BRONSON.

Of course, the speakeasy trade remained, but such places are, of necessity, rather furtive, and it would be unwise to hang an electric sign in front of a speakeasy. A prizefighter going into the refreshment business always had to have an electric sign with his name on it.

What a Ceremony, Folks!

On the night of the grand opening he assembled his customers before the refreshment counter and, after some preparatory toasting of the new proprietor and the shooting of a flashlight picture showing him in a white vest, beside a floral horseshoe, he stepped up to the electric switch and turned on the sign amid cheers. Altogether, it made a very pretty little scene, pervaded by optimism and good will, and there are those who have always regretted that it was eliminated from the ceremonial forms of American life.

Mr. James Bronson, the old saloon keeper who backslid into the Y. M. C. A. during the war, once told me that the most sentimental moment of his life occurred that evening when he turned on the electric sign in front of his beautiful new saloon, his first saloon, in Joplin, Mo.

Just a Beautiful Dream.

"It just seemed like the realization of a beautiful dream to me," Mr. Bronson said. "I pinched myself as the sign flashed on, and said to myself, 'Jimmy, you are a saloonkeeper.' The sign had my name on it in big, yellow bulbs which winked on and off—'Jimmy Bronson, Saloon. Jimmy Bronson, Saloon.' All night long the sign said over and over, 'Jimmy Bronson, Saloon.'

"Later on, I had to change the sign a little bit because it was a very fancy sign with an electric border. In this border design fancy groups of bulbs kept chasing each other around and around, like angleworms chasing each other, but some of my customers thought they looked more like snakes chasing each other around and around. This was really nothing but their imagination, but the worms made a bad impression on some of my best patrons, and I did not wish to keep anything around the place that would make them nervous. So we eliminated the angleworms, which was all they really were, and not snakes, and substituted red and green rosettes."

Financiers Glad to Help.

The prizefighters who made fortunes in the period after the war suffered grave financial misfortunes because they were not allowed to invest their savings in the one line of business which had always seemed the natural one for retired pugilists. They fell in with socially refined financiers who took a fatherly interest in them out of the goodness of their hearts and their love of clean, unaffected heroes who were only good natured boys with no business sense. By the advice of such altruistic patrons they were induced to invest their money in absolutely glit edged stocks, and some of the boys were so grateful for this kind interest that they just turned their affairs over to great big financiers to invest for them.

A few of the boys have been trying to come back since the boom ended because it seems that their patrons forgot to tell them when to duck. A trust fund is only as good as its component parts, and if the component certificates are selling by the bundle for old paper the trust fund is not much good either. If they had been able to invest in saloons they might not have been under any necessity to attempt to come back, because there was never any depression in the saloon business.

It's All Very Simple.

And it takes no understanding of common and preferred or debentures to conduct a successful saloon. A saloonkeeper just sells refreshments for more than they cost and the difference is profit. He doesn't need any business sense.

I suppose that with the rise of the football hero since the war there would have been room for a few famous varsity athletes in the same business in preferred locations off the campus. The undergraduates would form a natural clientèle, and, judging by the number of flasks which have been counted by the statisticians in various stadiums on Saturday evenings in the fall for more than a decade, it seems obvious that there is a good undergraduate market for goods. I know there is a tendency to credit most of these flasks to total strangers and disreputable old grads but that is not entirely just to the undergraduates. They contribute their share of flasks, too.

Of course, Gene Tunney would not have opened a saloon, with a sign "Gene's Place" over the door, even if the law had permitted him to. It would not have been a very good venture, for one reason, because Tunney was not a popular champion.

But a sign reading "Jack Dempsey's Place" would have packed them in, and the difference between the cost and the selling price of the refreshments would have amounted to robust figures.

Roosevelt's Son Plays with a Losing Eleven

Groton, Mass., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—While his father received congratulations on his victory over President Herbert Hoover in the national election yesterday, Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., son of the President elect, played right tackle for Groton school against St. Marks, its chief rival. St. Marks won the game, 7 to 0.

In the opening period young Roosevelt was offside on a play and cost his team a five yard penalty. He wore a nose guard to protect an injury suffered during practice. He left the game in the third quarter when he was relieved by Gardiner.

Two Former Penn Players Ruled Ineligible for Rugby

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 9.—Walter Masters and Rolf Carlsten, former University of Pennsylvania football players, today were ruled ineligible to compete in the Inter-Provincial Rugby union. Masters and Carlsten, who played with the Ottawa Rough Riders in amateur rugby, were found to have played professional baseball in the United States.

NAVAL RESERVE BOXERS DEFEAT ARMY TEAM, 5-1

Illinois Naval Reserve boxing champions avenged a previous defeat by an Illinois National Guard team by winning five of six matches at the Broadway armory last night. Two other bouts between army fighters completed the card, which drew 1,000 and approximately $1,300.

The show was sponsored by the Chicago division of the Crusaders, national anti-prohibition organization, and conducted under the auspices of the 202d coast artillery. Col. Thomas Gowenlock, a director of the Crusaders and leader of the promotion, was unable to attend because of illness.

Three favorites on the Naval Reserve team won. They were Francis O'Connor, Bob Tomlinson and Fred Miller. O'Connor stopped Don Graves in two rounds. Tomlinson beat Pete Jensen and Miller whipped Hank Gore.

The most popular bout was between Charles Wilhelm of the Army and Jose Oledo, Navy. Wilhelm won after three hard rounds. Other results:

Pete Congdon, Navy, stopped Tom Kendall, Army, (2).

Ray Lee, Army, beat Vito Cione, Army, (3).

MICHIGAN FEARS STAGG WILL BE FULL OF TRICKS

Stress Defense for Game at Ann Arbor.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—There is a strong feeling here that Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg will have the Chicago Maroons tuned to perfection for Michigan Saturday and that Chicago may play the rôle in which six other teams have failed, that of giant killer. As a consequence, the Wolverines are working grimly on defense.

Yost fieldhouse was the scene of today's workout. Teddy Petoskey, almost able to forget the injury that was aggravated in the Indiana contest, returned to full back. Most of the afternoon was spent in dummy defensive scrimmage, an effort to stop the assortment of plays that Stagg will have ready Saturday.

Harry Kipke hopes to be able to play his full strength Saturday, though John Kowalik, Willard Hildebrand and John Regeczi were on the inactive list today.

MAROONS CONFIDENT

The strange confidence which has been bubbling up in the camp of the Maroons, wholly spontaneous and admittedly contrary to all logic, continued unabated at the Midway yesterday, despite the rain and the snow and despite the fact that the grim reality of the Michigan game is now only two days off.

None of Coach Stagg's boys will go so far as to say that they can beat the undefeated and untied Wolverines at Ann Arbor Saturday. All of them believe that Saturday they will show the best ball they are capable of playing, and that Michigan might be surprised. This unexpected have-at-you optimism is sufficiently foreign to the temper of the team to call for attention.

Alumni Catch Fever.

Plenty of verbal optimism is expected at the La Salle hotel tonight when the Chicago Alumni club will foregather with the varsity, two freshman teams, the band, and the spirit of victory for the annual Maroon football dinner. Speakers will be John Schommer, James Weber Linn, France Anderson, Kenneth Rouse, and Merrill C. Meigs, with Roy Maddigan as toastmaster.

Coach Stagg yesterday gave his men an hour's workout in the rain and snow, flinging forward passes before he relented and ordered the boys into the fieldhouse for another hour of signal drill and scrimmage. Every member of the squad was present with the exception of George Mahoney and Walter Manelkis, who are injured, including Peter Zimmer and Hugh Mendenhall. Released from the hospital at 1 p. m., Mendenhall was in a uniform at 4, pallid but ambitious.

Recalls 1905 Game.

If the Maroons should accomplish the miraculous Saturday by beating the Wolverines their victory will not only make the season a success for Stagg but will parallel the famous game of 1905, when Chicago defeated Michigan's great point a minute team, 2 to 0, after it had run up the longest winning streak in football history.

Such an event, involving the halting of Harry Newman and the penetration of one of the best defenses in the country, is sufficiently improbable to lend a nice quality to the Maroon optimism. Any one of a number of score sequences makes the Wolverines heavy favorites, notably this one: Michigan defeats Northwestern, Northwestern ties Purdue, Purdue defeats Chicago 37 to 0. On the other hand Michigan's victory over Indiana last Saturday was no greater than that of the Maroons three weeks ago.

Michigan, 13; Chicago, 6.

Over a period of 41 years Michigan has defeated Chicago 13 times, while Chicago has defeated Michigan six times. The first Chicago-Michigan game was played at Toledo in 1892, when Chicago was substituted for Lehigh on the Michigan schedule on two days' notice. Many of the spectators believed they were watching Lehigh. Michigan won that one, 18 to 10.

The Chicago team will leave for Ann Arbor over the Wabash road Friday noon, but will not arrive in time for a workout.

TALKING IT OVER

BY ARCH WARD.

What is the greatest team, professional or college, that football has developed?

Is it the Green Bay Packers of 1931 or 1932? Would you cast your vote for last year's Southern California's team or Benny Friedman's 1930 Giants?

I put the question to the coach of one of the strongest teams in the National Professional league last night. I refer to Jack Chevigny of the Chicago Cardinals.

JACK CHEVIGNY.

And what do you think was the answer?

Notre Dame of 1930.

Mr. Chevigny, who makes a livelihood out of the professional game, said that the greatest all around eleven he has seen was the last that Knute Rockne coached. It is his opinion that the Notre Dame team of 1930 had more versatility, better balance, more aggressiveness and more all around strength than the Green Bay Packers of 1932.

There is no team in college football this season, according to Chevigny, that could defeat any of the four leading professional clubs, but he points out that there is no truly great collegiate squad this year. Only a super college eleven could whip a strong pro team, he stated.

This is Chevigny's first year in professional football. His Cardinals have played all of the stronger clubs in the league and have been defeated only by the Packers. He received his gridiron schooling under Rockne as a player and later as assistant coach.

"Rockne would have been too smart for any of the coaches in professional football," Chevigny remarked. "He would have devised plays to pull the pro backs out of position often enough to win on forward passes.

"The 1930 Notre Dame team had the weight and experience to stand up in front of any professional club. Most of the boys were in their third year. You will recall that they wound up an undefeated season by whipping a Southern California team that was rated the strongest ever developed on the coast, 27 to 0."

"Why was the Notre Dame team of 1930 stronger than this year's Packers? Were they superior individually?" we inquired.

"Notre Dame was better both individually and collectively," he replied. "Above all, they had coordination that I never have seen elsewhere.

"Let's take the two teams, man for man," he suggested.

"In the back field we have at quarter back Herber of Green Bay and Carideo of Notre Dame. Carideo had more natural ability than any back field man I have seen. He probably couldn't pass quite as well as Herber, but he was a great kicker, a heady general and an exceptionally good blocker. Herber is weak by comparison as a blocker.

"At left half it is Bruder of Green Bay against Schwartz of Notre Dame. Bruder is weak in forward pass defense. I mean comparatively, of course. Schwartz was a much better ball carrier and he could punt and pass with the best.

"At right half we would have Blood of Green Bay against Brill of Notre Dame. By comparison Blood is weak in blocking. Brill stands out as one of the finest interferers in college football. He was superior to Blood on defense, both against passes and running plays.

"The full back jobs pit Hinkle of Green Bay against Savoldi and O'Connor of Notre Dame. Savoldi was regular full back up to the Northwestern game near the end of the season. After his withdrawal from school he was replaced by O'Connor. Hinkle is a better plunger than either of the Notre Dame men, although Savoldi was almost unstoppable when used in the right plays. Hinkle handles the ball more skillfully than any back I have seen in professional football."

There you are. Chevigny awards three of the four back field positions to Notre Dame. He called attention to the weight of the Notre Dame backs—average 184.

Now for the two lines, as the Cardinal coach rated them.

Battle Americans Here Sunday.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Blackhawks, Chicago's entrant in the nine club National Hockey league, will open the season tonight in Detroit against the Detroit Red Wings, nee Falcons. The Hawks' starting lineup will be composed of old Chicago favorites, but the Red Wings are the result of merging of remnants of personnel of the Falcons and last year's Chicago Shamrocks, of the erstwhile American league.

EMIL IVERSON.

Four other teams will be in action tonight. the New York Rangers hooking up with the Montreal Maroons and the Boston Bruins clashing with the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Drill at Coliseum.

The Hawks left for Detroit last night after having gone through two practice sessions in the Coliseum, "cradle of hockey" in Chicago, to which the Hawks will return this season for their home games after two and a half years' play in the Chicago Stadium.

Upon his departure Coach Emil Iverson announced he planned to start his two veteran defense men, Taffy Abel and Teddy Graham. Johnny Gottselig, another vet, will be at center, with Paul Thompson, who was on last year's team, and Lolo Couture, still another vet, at the wings. In front of the nets will be that prime Chicago favorite, Charley Gardiner.

Alternating with the defense starters will be Capt. Helge Bostrom, good as new after being out most of last year with injuries, and Art Coulter, who is new to most hockey fans hereabouts, though it will not be his first appearance in a Blackhawk uniform.

MacFadyen Changes Uniforms.

Vic Ripley, Mush Marsh, Louis Holmes, Tommy Cook, Doc Romnes, Roger Jenkins and Donnie MacFadyen will form the other lines in the Hawk battle front tonight. Chicagoans have seen all these athletes perform. MacFadyen is appearing for the first time as a Blackhawk, but during the life of the Shamrock team, was one of the standouts of that outfit. Before that Donnie was a star on the championship teams at Marquette university.

It is probable that the same combinations will be used by the Hawks here against the New York Americans Sunday. During the long training season at Duluth, Coach Iverson had an exceptional opportunity to experiment with different lineups, and is expected to stand by the assignments in the opening game.

As the Hawks pushed off for Detroit word came from Montreal that the Maroons were offering $10,000 and a goalkeeper for Gardiner. Coach Iverson would not discuss the offer other than to say that Gardiner would play goal for the Hawks in the Detroit opener, likewise the Chicago opener Sunday night. And many other nights, it was intimated.

LAKE FOREST TO SEEK TWELFTH WIN OVER BELOIT

Lake Forest will attempt to score its twelfth victory over Beloit college when they renew their rivalry at Farwell field in Lake Forest Saturday afternoon. Lake Forest has won 11 games, Beloit nine, and six contests ended in ties.

Coach MacIntosh of Lake Forest plans to start Spring at quarter back, Eaton at right half back, Dyer at left half back, and Parsons at full back. Two linemen probably will be unable to play because of injuries. Tony Goodman, end, has a strained back, and Johnny Ashton, guard, is bothered with a bruised heel.

Extend Season for Chicago Prep League Quintets

The board of athletic control of the Chicago Public High School league yesterday voted to lengthen the basketball schedules for the 1932-'33 season. Starting on Dec. 12, lightweight and heavyweight teams will play a double round robin instead of a single round, which system was adopted at the opening of the 1931-'32 season, because of the school board's new economy plan.

Two games will be played a week by each school, the heavyweights on one day and the lightweight team on another. The season will end in March.

The athletic board also voted to reduce officials' fees. If two men officiate at one game the fee will be $4 each, and if only one officiates $5. The officials formerly received $7.50 for each contest.

SEASON OPENS ON PHEASANTS IN ILLINOIS TODAY

Game Code Prohibits Pot Shots from Autos.

BY BOB BECKER.

Two cock pheasants per day, six in possession, no shooting of hen pheasants, no shooting from automobiles, and the season ends on Nov. 15. These are the important facts for Illinois hunters to keep in mind regarding the pheasant season which opens this morning.

The game code provision regarding the shooting of pheasants or rabbits from an automobile is one which the pot-hunters consistently violate. Illinois specifically outlaws this means of obtaining game. The method can't be called hunting in the true sense of the word. It is just a case of getting meat.

Game Code Provisions.

The Illinois game code reads as follows: "It shall be unlawful to hunt, kill, take, or destroy, or attempt to hunt, kill, take, or destroy game birds, rabbits, squirrels . . . from any automobile or vehicle of any kind propelled by mechanical power, by the use of light thereof, or any light used from such a vehicle." The fine for a violation of this part of the game code is not less than $15 nor more than $100.

Although we have found that farmers consider a certain kind of city hunter nothing less than a menace and quite unwelcome during the hunting season, it was interesting, the other day, to discuss with some land owners the question of leasing hunting rights to obtain a slight revenue from pheasant and rabbit hunters.

After hearing landowners tell how poachers shot suckling pigs, Plymouth rock chickens, calves, cats, hen pheasants and nearly everything else that a hunter can find in a cornfield or a meadow, the one ray of hope in the situation was that some land owners are willing to permit hunting at a slight charge per gun per day or for a fixed sum for the six days of the season.

Rabbits Scarce After First Day.

One farmer northwest of Chicago said that he would permit six hunters on his land for $2 per man. This charge would stand for the first day of the season only. On the other five days he felt that $1 was enough because, as he said, there aren't as many birds or rabbits to be hunted after the opening day. This landowner stated that farmers were entitled to compensation for feeding the birds and providing the acreage on which they are produced.

If more landowners can solve their trespassing problems by leasing hunting rights at this reasonable rate, considerable acreage may be opened to responsible sportsmen. Two dollars certainly isn't much for the chance to bag two cock pheasants which are valued at considerably more than $1 each, to say nothing of the fun which a hunter has when he goes after this game.

Judging from our chats with farmers this week the way to better hunting opportunities is for the sportsman to get acquainted with a farmer, arrange for privileges and, when necessary, pay a small sum for the hunting rights. The farmer certainly is willing to meet a hunter half way on any kind of a proposition.

TWO INDIANS TO WRESTLE IN COLISEUM SHOW

Two Indians will be on the heavyweight wrestling card at the Coliseum next Tuesday night, which features a finish bout between Rudy Dusek and Jim McMillen.

Promoter Doc Krone completed the program with a match between Sun Jennings, Oklahoma Indian, and Jack Smith of Chicago. The other Redskin on the program is big Jim Clinkstock, also from Oklahoma, who meets Stanislaus Lurik, Polish veteran.

The semi-windup is between George Zaharias, the beet farmer from Colorado, and Everett Marshall, also from Colorado.

St. Philip Prep Boxers Meet C.Y.O. Team Tonight

St. Philip High school's boxing team will meet Our Lady of Angels' squad of the Catholic Youth organization tonight at the St. Philip gymnasium, 2151 West Jackson boulevard. There will be fifteen bouts. Ed Garvey, St. Philip, who recently qualified for the C. Y. O. tournament, will meet Jordan Brock, Our Lady of Angels, in the feature bout.

bard, who plays at right tackle on defense hasn't the power or aggressiveness of Culver, who in 1930 was considered one of the strongest tackles in Notre Dame's history. He was injured at the start of 1931, his senior year, and never regained his old form.

Left guard—Michaleske of Green Bay versus Pierce of Notre Dame. Pierce heavier, faster and more spirited.

Right tackle—Stahlman of Green Bay versus Kurth of Notre Dame. Kurth is now regarded one of the greatest tackles in football. He was just about as good in his sophomore year. I would pick him over Stahlman.

Right end—Dilweg of Green Bay versus Conley of Notre Dame. Conley was a better receiver of forward passes and Dilweg stronger against running plays. Conley has the edge because end play is chiefly offensive.

That concludes the comparisons. Whether you agree with them or not, you must admit that there is at least one man in the professional game who isn't afraid to talk frankly about college football.

DICK TRACY—The Yes Man

PAT, THE MORE I THINK ABOUT THE SHOOTING OF TRACY, THE MORE I THINK THIS KID, JUNIOR, IS A PRETTY SLICK NUMBER.
WHAT DO YOU MEAN, CHIEF?
WHY, THIS WHOLE THING COULD BE A PLOT. HOW DO WE KNOW BUT WHAT THE KID'S COMING INTO TRACY'S LIFE WAS THE BEGINNING OF A HUGE SCHEME TO GET RID OF TRACY. THE BRAT'S A TOUGH LITTLE EGG—RAISED BY THE CRIMINAL ELEMENT AND SCHOOLED IN THEIR TRICKS.
NO ONE HAS EVER BEEN ABLE TO GET TRACY ON THE SPOT BEFORE—AND MAYBE THE RING FIGURED THE ONLY PERSON THAT COULD EVER DO IT WOULD BE THIS KID.
GEE—YOU ALMOST CONVINCE ME, CHIEF. I KNEW TRACY SHOULDN'T HAVE TAKEN HIM IN!

Football Aid to Notre Dame Student Body

false sense of values. As life is lived in America, aren't we all forced to keep a set of correctives to apply to the popular taste, whether the public figures be movie stars, world champions, or mayors of cities?"

There'll Be No Change.

"Then Notre Dame's football policy is definitely fashioned along present lines?" I suggested.

"So far as we now can foresee, there is no reason for change," replied Father O'Donnell.

Asked whether any change in coaching personnel was contemplated, Father O'Donnell smiled and answered, "Why?" That was in answer to rumors circulated in some quarters since the Pittsburgh game.

"Does Notre Dame have to win all games on its schedule to have a successful season?" I asked.

"Our share of victories is all we should expect," replied Father O'Donnell. "Our schedule should contain games in which our opponents have a sporting chance to defeat us. That is what we seek and therefore we must expect defeats."

Follow Big 10 Rules.

Entrance requirements and eligibility were the next subjects. Admission to Notre Dame may be secured by certificate of graduation from an accredited high school. Preference is extended to those in the upper one-third of their class. None not in the upper two-thirds are admitted. Although the university is not filled to capacity this fall, due to national depression, more than 100 intending matriculants were denied admission because of unsatisfactory credits.

Here is other information elicited: Eligibility for athletics is that of the conference colleges. Scholastic failures of athletes are not given publicity, a policy instituted by the late Knute Rockne, who argued that simply because a boy was an athlete and failed in his studies he should not be pilloried any more than one not an athlete.

There are approximately 400 positions here whereby students may earn part of their expenses. These jobs are waiting on table in the commons, clerical work, library service, janitor duties, etc. The average compensation is $300 per year. Tuition, room, and board are about $750 per year.

No Loans to Athletes.

Of the 400 part time jobs available an estimated eighty such jobs are held by candidates for all athletic teams, including football. The university has a small fund for loans to students. No loans from this fund have been made to football players or other athletes.

Notre Dame considers that it has natural advantages over many rivals because of conditions here. It is, in effect, a boarding school for boys. There are few distractions of social life. Regular hours for meals and sleep are enforced. Night absences from the campus are rare. All these factors have contributed to practice that which has come to be known as Notre Dame spirit.

De Paul Frames New Defense for St. Thomas Game

Ways and means of stopping St. Thomas' attack occupied the attention of De Paul university's football players yesterday as coaches mapped out new defensive formations.

St. Thomas has been beaten in two games, but showed unusual strength in two succeeding victories. De Paul is greatly concerned in saving its undefeated record.

De Paul's defensive play so far has been especially good. It has permitted only 19 points in six games. Opposing attacks have been crushed rather handily by De Paul's line, but coaches fear St. Thomas may catch the Demons unaware with its flashing speed.

My Greatest Thrill in Football

BY GLEN HARMESON.
[As Told to Irving Vaughan.]

ALTHOUGH I got the biggest "kick" of my football career out of the Purdue-Michigan game of 1929, when, after trailing 16 to 6 at the start of the fourth quarter, we came from behind to win, 30 to 16, the biggest personal thrill came in the Purdue-Iowa game of 1929 when we defeated the Hawkeyes, 7 to 0, to win our first undisputed Big Ten championship.

Iowa had a great team. Glasgow was one of the hardest hitting ball carriers I ever played against, and Pape was a continual threat around end. After the first quarter, when the game developed into a great battle of the lines, with Red Sleight and George Van Bibber doing yeoman duty in stopping Glasgow, while the Hawkeye forwards were stopping most of our running threats, it was evident that it would be a scoreless battle unless we could pull the unexpected.

Visions of First Title Add to Tension.

So far that season, we were undefeated, and we were offered our first chance at a Big Ten championship.

The game was a seesaw affair until the middle of the second quarter, when we managed to get the ball on our own 45 yard line.

That sturdy Iowa line was halting our running attack, and our only chance was to cross them up with passes. Jack White called for a pass to Woerner along the sidelines. I was given perfect blocking, Woerner made a neat leap in the air to catch my pass and stepped out of bounds for a 25 yard gain which put the ball on the Iowa 30 yard line.

Good Old Woerner Grabs Game Winning Pass.

The ball was brought in 15 yards and, on the first play, we tried a half-spinner that ended up through the left side of the line for a gain of about three yards. Then came the play that eventually meant the championship. On second down, a forward pass play was called that started out exactly as did the half-spinner that had preceded it. But as the line blocked, I drifted back and spotted, behind the goal line, a gold shirt which had slipped around in back of Glasgow. A quick throw and Woerner had caught his second successive pass, this time over the goal line for the touchdown that decided the game.

Glen Harmeson, half back on Purdue's teams from 1927 to 1929, is a native of Indianapolis, Ind., and the second of two Harmeson brothers who were outstanding Purdue stars. Harmeson is one of few to win nine letters in Big Ten athletic history and was an outstanding star in both basketball and baseball in addition to football. Harmeson's forward passing and ball carrying were big factors in Purdue's 1929 championship drive. He is now an assistant coach to Noble Kizer at Purdue, devoting most of his time to the back field.

Schurz Opens New Drive for Crown

Schurz, 1929 champion, begins another attempt to regain the Chicago Public High School league title Saturday when it meets Morgan Park in a semi-final game at Logan Square park, Kedzie and Elston avenues.

Schurz made a bid for the championship last year, but it faced Harrison Tech and was beaten for the title in the mud at Mills stadium. Schurz, again the representative of the north section, returns with a team rated much better than the one which lost to Harrison.

Schurz Depends on Speed.

Out on the far south side, where Morgan Park blazed its way into the semi-finals with four consecutive victories, championship talk is rampant. Morgan Park, which succeeded Parker as the south section titleholder, will not be a stranger in the title series, but it will be its first appearance since 1927.

Morgan Park's hops that year were shattered when it was paired with Tilden Tech in the semi-finals. Tilden had the greatest team in its history. Among its stars were Dick Lutz, Larkin, Bellstrom and Kostbade, now a regular member of the Northwestern university varsity.

Records Are Similar.

There is little difference in their league records. Morgan Park's goal has been crossed only three times, while it was piling up 53 points. Schurz scored 32 points and its opponents 13. The records follow:

SCHURZ.		MORGAN PARK.
13—Senn	0	13—Phillips	0
7—Roosevelt	0	13—Calumet	0
7—Lake View	7	25—Fenger	13
25—Lane	0	7—Parker	0

It was Pendelton's plunge from the five yard line in the opening quarter that gave Morgan Park its victory over Parker last Saturday. With Pendelton in the backfield Saturday will be Tompkins, Bowlin, and Swartz.

Harrison Plays Englewood.

There are many who believe the setting in the final game, which will be played on Nov. 19, will be the same as last season, thus predicting a Schurz victory over Morgan Park and Harrison over Englewood in the other semi-final game at Normal Park, 61st street and Racine avenue.

HESS NEVER HAS BEEN DOWN, BUT ROSS HAS HOPES

Barney Primes Knockout Punch for Battle.

Barney Ross will try for a knockout when he meets Goldie Hess in a 10 round bout at the Chicago Stadium tomorrow night. If he succeeds, Ross will have accomplished his biggest undertaking. Hess never has been knocked down in five years of professional boxing.

Ross is not a powerful puncher, but he is accurate, and if he finds the mark a knockout is possible. Barney showed this when he knocked out Frankie Petrolle with two punches in the Coliseum last Sept. 15. This victory was the Chicagoan's 18th knockout in 40 professional matches. Others Ross has knocked out are Dick Sisk, Sammy Binder, Petey Mack, and Jackie Dugan.

Canzoneri Couldn't Do It.

Tony Canzoneri, Tommy Grogan, and Cecil Payne were unable to drop Hess. In the event Barney fights as he did against Bat Battalino, Petrolle, and Ray Miller, fans think he has an excellent chance to score a knockout.

Ross and Hess finished boxing yesterday at Trafton's gymnasium and the Arcade, respectively, and they will conclude training today with light workouts.

Sammy [Kid] Slaughter, Terre Haute, Ind., middleweight, drilled yesterday at Trafton's gym for his 10 round contest with Dave Shade on the Stadium card. Sammy sparred six rounds, three each with Tom Jones, heavyweight and young Joe Wolcott. Slaughter was accompanied by his manager, Bud Taylor, former bantamweight champion. Taylor is using crutches, due to a fractured right foot received five weeks ago.

Chicago Welcomes Back Frankie.

There is considerable interest in the third bout at 10 rounds, which brings together Frankie Battaglia, Winnipeg, Can., 160 pounder, and Young Terry of Trenton, N. J. Battaglia will be making his first start here in several months. In his last appearance in Chicago he knocked out Ben Jeby in a round. Since then he has knocked out Roy Williams and held Chick Devlin to an eight round draw.

Terry will be making his Chicago debut. His best accomplishments are victories over Jeby and Jackie Fields, welterweight champion. Both were scored last year. Terry has been boxing four years and is 21 years old Although he was stopped by Paulie Walker in the east on Sept. 26, due to a cut eye, the Trenton fighter never has been knocked out.

Tommy Grogan, Omaha junior welterweight, will pass through Chicago today en route to Milwaukee, where he faces Curtis Brown on Tuesday. . . . Jack King, Little Rock, Ark., welterweight, left Chicago last night for Pittsburgh to battle Jimmy Belmont there tomorrow. . . . Jess McMahon has replaced Pete Tyrell as matchmaker at the Arena in Philadelphia. . . . Prince Saunders will be out of the ring for three weeks because of an injury received while defeating Billy McMahon at New York recently.

COLLINGWOOD BEATS FRANKLIN IN CUE TOURNEY

Walter Franklin, Kansas City, Mo., southern sectional pocket billiard champion, suffered his second defeat in as many days last night in the tournament at the Bensinger Randolph room, when William Collingwood of Ashville, N. C., won, 100 to 97 in 19 innings. Collingwood had a high run of 23 to Franklin's 36. Franklin met his first defeat Tuesday when he was overwhelmed by Coy Julian of Springfield, Ill., 100 to 8.

In the afternoon games Pasquale Natalie, northern sectional champion, won his third straight victory by defeating Joseph McCann of Detroit, 100 to 83 in 16 innings. Natalie had a high run of 36. McCann had 33. In the second game George Nuss of Atlantic City, won a 35 inning contest from Julian, 100 to 98. Nuss established the record high run of the tournament with 60, while Julian had 28.

Champions Reach Quarterfinals in C. Y. O. Ring Meet

Two 1931 Catholic Youth Organization boxing champions advanced to the quarter finals of this year's tournament last night when they won in the Lake county championships at Waukegan.

George Haberski, who was champion of the bantams last year, earned a three round decision from Jake Badnik, Mother of God parish, Waukegan, but Oscar O'Hanion, king of the flyweights, advanced by default.

The scene shifts tonight to St. Procopius college in Lyle, where the Du Page county sectionals will be held.

Lightweight—Albert de Meo, St. James of Highwood, beat John Peters, Mother of God parish, Waukegan [3]; Stanley Kohlbreck, Mother of God parish, Waukegan, beat Frank Caldron, St. Mary's of Lake Forest [3].

Welterweight—Bud Carson, St. Anastasia, Waukegan, beat Stanley Pasiewicz, Holy Rosary, North Chicago [3].

Middleweight—Stanley Bizjek, Mother of God parish, Waukegan, beat Larry Doyle, Holy Rosary, North Chicago [3].

Featherweight—George Haberski, beat Jake Badnik, Mother of God parish, Waukegan [3].

Lightweight—Albert De Meo, St. James of Highwood, beat Stanley Kohlebreck, Mother of God Parish, Waukegan [3].

Middleweight—Tony Moore, Mother of God parish, Waukegan, beat Stanley Bizjek, Mother of God parish, Waukegan [3].

You Can Win, Hanley Tells His Wildcats

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Northwestern can beat Notre Dame. This is the lesson Dick Hanley and his aids are impressing on the minds of the Wildcats this week. Rain and mud haven't halted daily preparations which, for the first time this year, are expected to bring the players to a peak of determination which will produce a victory.

Although Iowa remains on Northwestern's schedule, Saturday's game is the real season windup. It's the day when the Wildcats will bring out all their plays and give all their strength. They'll let the last game of the season take care of itself. This is campus opinion as well as the opinion of the coaches.

Bad Breaks Wreck Wildcats.

Determination is a splendid asset, but it must be backed up with ability. Northwestern does have ability. Its defeats have been due as much to the breaks of the game as the failure to produce results when the opportunity was offered. The defeat by Minnesota, 7 to 0, might have been reversed if a couple of passes had connected. One in particular, from Rentner to Manske, came within a foot of completion for a touchdown. Against Ohio State the same pass was completed for a gain of 40 yards with Jens catching the ball. A fumble on the next play erased this opportunity.

Northwestern made the breaks come its way against Purdue and tied the score on a march in the last period when three passes were the principal ingredient used. That afternoon the Wildcats demonstrated their ability to pull together when inspired. On three plays in succession Olson gained 11 yards through Purdue's line. Incidentally, Purdue's line hasn't yielded a touchdown in conference competition. Wisconsin scored on a pass, as did Northwestern, while Minnesota and Chicago failed to score against the Boilermakers.

Notre Dame Vulnerable.

Notre Dame was scored on by Kansas. And again, after the score was 6 to 6, Kansas rushed the ball to Notre Dame's three yard line where a fumble cost a probable touchdown. All these things, and more, have been served daily to Northwestern. While Notre Dame must be considered the favorite, it is possible that the Wildcats will upset the Irish. Pittsburgh did it, the players say, so why can't we?

Pittsburgh's victory over Notre Dame, while dispelling the illusion of Irish super-greatness, also has proved to Notre Dame that any major foe cannot be taken lightly. This may prevent recurrence of the surprise served up by Pitt.

Passes Best N. U. Bet.

Northwestern's best offense undoubtedly will be its pass attack. Extraordinary skill in passing will be bolstered by some gains by running and plunging. And even if Northwestern fails to score, which is quite likely, the Wildcats will be well satisfied if Notre Dame is held scoreless.

Working for this end Hanley is seeking a line which will break through to rush the passers, the kickers, and stop the runners before they get to the line of scrimmage. Once on their way, Notre Dame's superior blocking in the open field will convert long runs into touchdowns. John Huess, a junior tackle weighing 180 pounds, may start in place of Bill Riley. Riley is Northwestern's only player who weighs more than 200 pounds, but he lacks the drive to break through the line. Too many times, Riley waits for the runner to come to him.

This doesn't mean that Riley won't see action. It's likely that Northwestern will use all its available material to offset the number of Notre Dame players.

The team will leave Saturday morning for South Bend after stopping overnight on the south side of Chicago. All members of the squad are reported in condition and by Saturday afternoon the peak of physical and mental preparation will be reached. It's Northwestern vs. Notre Dame and that means anything may happen.

PASSES FOOL NOTRE DAME.

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—The spark that big Jack Robinson, sophomore center, was supposed to supply in the Notre Dame varsity lineup was still an absent quantity in today's scrimmage.

Robinson was all he has been during the last week, making tackles all over the lot and handling his territory on pass defense like a veteran. But the longer passes, such as those Kansas worked against Notre Dame for its first touchdown and another scoring threat Saturday, were still sailing over the heads of the Irish secondary, often into the hands of a B team receiver.

Hold Women's Invitation Ping Pong Tournament

The Interfraternity club of Chicago will sponsor the first women's invitation pingpong tournament ever held in Chicago tomorrow night. Sixteen of the outstanding women players in the Chicago district will compete. The leading entries are Miss Helen Ovenden, Illinois state champion; Miss Flossie Bassler, Chicago titleholder; Mrs. Mildred Spoehr of Glencoe, Mrs. Mae Anthony, Winnetka champion; Mrs. Ruth Meyer, Lake Forest champion, and Mrs. Ruth Herr, Evanston champion.

ANOTHER POINT FOR ST. JOHNS

When and if a St. Johns man crosses Culver's goal line in their annual game at Dyche stadium on Saturday, you'll see this combination go into action to add the extra point. Donald Geyer does the kicking, with Ward Eastman holding the ball. Proceeds from Saturday's game will be given to charity.

Rains Again, and Badgers Fret Indoors

Madison, Wis., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Rain today again forced the Wisconsin football squad to hold its third practice this week in the university fieldhouse. Heavy scrimmage was impossible because of the cinder and hard clay floor.

With only one more day of practice before the game against Minnesota Saturday, it appeared that first and second team men will have practically no scrimmage to prepare them for the contest. It has rained every day this week.

The Badger back field was given intensive training this afternoon on intercepting and knocking down passes thrown by back field members of the freshman squad. Tackling was prohibited.

GOPHERS DRILL RESERVES.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Returning to the outdoor practice field after a day in the fieldhouse, Coach Bernie Bierman of Minnesota's football squad devoted most of the two hour session today to the reserves who are likely to be called upon to play a good share of the Wisconsin game at Madison Saturday.

Particular attention was given to Carl Tengler, sophomore understudy to Jack Manders. The latter, injured Monday, isn't recovering as fast as at first anticipated, and while Bierman insists that Manders will start, there is no telling how long he will be able to stay in the game. Jack hobbled around in uniform again today, but with so much of a limp that he couldn't do anything more than pass the ball around on the sidelines to keep warm. Tengler was at full back on the varsity most of the afternoon.

The injury to Manders also has forced Bierman to return Hribar to his old full back berth on the second team and switch Sperry, a tackle, to the back field.

FERRALL REJOINS BUCKEYES.

Columbus, O., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Junie Ferrall, Ohio's regular right end, who was injured in the game with Michigan last month, will be ready for service in the annual homecoming game with Pennsylvania Saturday. Ferrall is a senior and one of the best wing men to play with Ohio State for several years. He received a broken bone in his ankle.

Monahan, Conrad, Cramer, Carroll, Gailus, and Varner all rejoined the regular varsity lineup tonight to experiment with new plays to be used against the Quakers. The signal drill developed into a hard scrimmage against the reserves before the session was finished.

The appearance of Davy Jones and Jack Smith in the Buckeye back field has become a regular occurrence. They have replaced Capt. Hinchman, who has been on the shelf since the Northwestern game, and Bill Carroll as half backs.

Shamrocks Beat Panthers, 3 to 0, in Final Period

The Chicago Shamrocks' professional football team last night scored its third victory of the season by defeating the Cleveland Panthers, 3 to 0, in the last quarter. Jim Mooney, former member of the Brooklyn Dodgers, kicked a field goal from the Panthers' 25 yard line.

In the Wake of the News

OLD HARLEM.

NOTRE DAME, Ind., Nov. 9.—Publication of plans for a new Harlem race track brings to oldtimers many memories of the Harlem of three decades and more ago. It was there that McChesney, the beloved "Big Mac" of turfgoers of those days, fell and was injured in a race on the Wednesday preceding the American Derby of 1902, for which he was advance favorite.

The American Derby always was the opening stake attraction at Washington Park each year, usually run around June 20. Its distance was the true Derby route of 1½ miles. With its membership roster including the socially and financially élite, like Arlington Park of today, Washington Park was inclined to "high hat" other local tracks, including Harlem and Hawthorne, although forced to work with them for the preservation of racing because race track betting was against the law.

So far as actual racing was concerned, both Harlem and Hawthorne were well conducted, with Martin Nathanson and Harry Kuhl, respectively as capable racing secretaries. These gentlemen naturally looked for all possible attractions. Besides fixed stake events of their own they were not unwilling to capitalize on the American Derby.

Because the Derby was run on the first Saturday of the Washington Park meeting Harlem's meeting closed on Friday. Here was an opportunity which Mr. Nathanson was quick to embrace. Harlem announced a Derby Trial for Wednesday. This caused extreme annoyance at the executive offices of the south side track, but there was nothing to be done about it.

This particular trial attracted a high class field. What the late James Howard, secretary at Washington Park, said when he read the overnight entries and what he said the following morning after reading about McChesney must have been sulphurous, for Mr. Howard was a man of vigorous words on occasions.

Our own minor participation was financially damaging, quite aside from the affection we had for "Big Mac." Kid Weller, a noted plunger and bookmaker of the time, was making a future book, play or pay, on the Derby. We approached him as he stood on the block of his book at Harlem on Derby Trial day before that race. In our hand was a $10 note, which was a large sum for us then—and still is. "On McChesney Saturday," we said. He took the money with his good natured smile and replied: "The price is 6 to 1, but it's 8 to 1 to you." This invitation to wager more was passed over by us, as $10 was a plunge already.

Came the race. McChesney, in fine position and about ready to make his challenge at the far turn, was bumped or crossed his legs and fell in a cloud of dust. J. B. Respess' Belle's Commoner won, with John A. Drake's Wyeth second and Lucien Appleby, a stablemate of McChesney, third.

In the American Derby, with our $10 already burned up by McChesney's fall, Belle's Commoner was out of the money at the longer route. Wyeth won, Lucien Appleby was second, and Aladdin, which had not been in the Trial, third. We still think McChesney would have romped over that field.

On the wall of our working den at home hangs a water color head view of Big Mac done by Bob Dickey, noted for his horse and dog sketches. McChesney, perhaps because he's of the way back when period, is our favorite horse of all time.

Texas, Nebraska to Meet on Gridiron in '33

Austin, Tex., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Athletic officials of the University of Texas announced late today a contract had been signed for a football game next year between Texas and Nebraska. The game will be played Oct. 7 at Lincoln.

Snow Drives Illini Into Gym for Drill

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Snow forced the Illinois football team to practice inside for the second consecutive day today. A long signal drill alternated with frequent sessions at the tackling dummy took up the early part of the workout, which was concluded with a dummy scrimmage against Indiana formations.

A defense for the Hoosiers' passing attack will be stressed the remainder of the week. Fred Frink, practicing this week for the first time since the opening game of the season, has progressed rapidly and will alternate with Casey Straw and Dave Cook at left end against Indiana here Saturday.

HOOSIERS END HEAVY DRILL.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—A heavy scrimmage against freshman teams using Illinois formations was given the Indiana football team this afternoon as strenuous preparation for Saturday's game with the Illini at Champaign was completed.

Bernard Dickey, end, whose hand was injured in the Michigan game, was in uniform and has a chance to see some action against Illinois.

The Hoosiers were successful in halting Illinois plays. In the line good work was done by Dustin McDonald and Jack Sprauer, who made their debut in the varsity lineup against Michigan last Saturday.

SCRIMMAGE AT PURDUE.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Purdue practically completed its preparation for the invasion of Iowa this afternoon with a scrimmage in which Coach Noble Kizer impressed on the Boilermakers the steadily developing strength of the Hawkeyes as evidenced in their stand against Nebraska Saturday.

Only a light drill will be held tomorrow before the squad entrains for Davenport via Chicago. The team will make its hearquarters at Davenport on Friday and will go to Iowa City, Saturday just in time to dress for the game.

Kizer indicated there would be no changes in the lineup. Roy Horstmann, who has been bearing the burden of the Boilermakers running attack in six games seems to retain all his drive and the attack will be build around his line smashing ability.

RAIN, SNOW HALT IOWA.

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—Rain and snow contrived to keep the University of Iowa football squad from working outside today. The Hawkeye drill for Purdue was limited to signals and touch scrimmage in the Hawkeye fieldhouse. Iowa will meet the Boilermakers Saturday without having had a hard drill in the last week.

Bears Happy; Grange, Nagurski Are in Top Form

Red Grange and Bronko Nagurski, two of the National Professional Football league's most reliable ball carriers, are at the peak of condition for the Chicago Bears' battle with the second place Portsmouth Spartans at Wrigley field Sunday.

Nagurski has been a Bear mainstay since the beginning of the season, but it was not until the team's recent rout of the New York Giants that Grange showed the speed and elusiveness which made him famous as the galloping ghost of the Illini. Injuries have kept Red below form almost since the first kickoff of the year.

Nagurski, known throughout the Western conference and later the pro league as one of the greatest line crashers in history, this season has become an accurate passer.

Coach Ralph Jones is giving extra attention this week to Bill Hewitt, Jules Carlson, and Joe Kopcha, who were out of the Giant game with injuries. All are expected to be ready for the Spartans.

Portsmouth will present one of the youngest clubs in the league, although the brunt of Sunday's offensive probably will fall to Clark, Lumpkin, and Presnell, all of whom are well known to Chicago patrons.

McKalip, an end, is another who will be remembered. He will be matched with Luke Johnsos, former Northwestern star, who has won added attention as a pro.

HOME TEAMS WIN 12 OF 15 GAMES IN BOWLING LEAGUE

Home teams were victorious last night in the Classic Bowling league, capturing 12 out of the 15 games scheduled.

Harry Kaad shot high series for the league when he totaled 764, with games of 248, 270 and 246.

The Moulding-Brownells shot 3,274 to win three games from the S. & L. Motors. The Olive Can defeated the Green Rivers in three games and the Babe Ruths won two games from the A. J. Cermaks.

Spartas Seek Seventh Straight Victory Sunday

Sparta, National Professional Soccer league leader, will seek its seventh straight victory of the season when it meets the Bricklayers at Mills stadium, Lake street and Kilpatrick avenue, Sunday. Joe Triner, president of the league, will start the game.

YALE, PRINCETON FORGET GLOOM IN ANNUAL BATTLE

Everything Will Be Rosy Again for Victor.

New York, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Princeton and Yale, despite all their current vicissitudes, will add a colorful chapter to football history Saturday, when they play their 56th game down at Princeton.

For the second straight year there will be empty seats in the stands, despite the sale of tickets to the public. No championship claims or ambitions are involved. Princeton has yet to win a major game in three successive seasons. Yale has only one victory and 15 points to show for its first five games.

It's Big Opportunity for Both.

The Tiger and the Bulldog, nevertheless, have every incentive to put on a dramatic duel. Princeton has turned the corner under the new coaching régime of Fritz Crisler, but won't have a great deal to show for his first season unless Yale is beaten. Three straight setbacks at the hands of the Ellis, climaxed by the 51 to 14 rout last November, rankle among Princeton's partisans.

Yale, disappointing from the outset of the present season, has a chance to brighten Dr. Marvin Stevens' last coaching year by making a first class showing against Princeton and Harvard. The Tigers, from present indications, appear to be the bigger hurdle of the two, as a result of Harvard's crack-up.

Yale apparently has had the power available all season, without finding the combination needed to turn it on. The assignment of Dud Parker to one of the end positions and pairing of Andy Gallan with Bob Lassiter in the half back posts may generate the much needed drive.

Tigers Are Favorites.

Because of the pace at which they improved against Michigan and Lehigh, the Tigers likely will start the game slight favorites, even though it is difficult to concede them an outstanding advantage. Princeton's line has displayed a sturdy defense all season, without, however, making much offensive progress. In four major games the Tigers scored two touchdowns, as compared with Yale's two touchdowns and a safety. Jack James, the Tiger full back, figures to be just as much a running threat as Yale's Lassiter.

Yale's most vulnerable spot will be the ends, unless Parker, the converted quarter back, and O'Connell come through with consistent performances.

FORT SHERIDAN BOXERS DEFEAT NAVAL RIVALS

Boxers from Fort Sheridan won the service championship from the Great Lakes Naval Training station, three bouts out of four, in matches sponsored by the Army and Navy club of Chicago at the Lake Shore Athletic club last night. The results:

120 POUND CLASS—James Gatlin, Great Lakes, beat August Reschke, Fort Sheridan [3].

141 POUND CLASS—Charlie Rudney, Fort Sheridan, knocked out Leo Rich, Great Lakes [1].

147 POUND CLASS—Joseph Dagadus, Fort Sheridan, beat Robert Struck, Great Lakes [3].

155 POUND CLASS—Lloyd Abrams, Fort Sheridan, knocked out Harold Campbell, Great Lakes [1].

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 9.—Bonds took their cue from stock price movements on the share exchange today and drifted lower. Dealings were fairly active in the early trading, but the afternoon found the market following the dull routine which characterized its course all last week.

Speculative rails were under some pressure at times and final prices were generally lower. Foreign bonds held fairly steady.

Prime utilities moved narrowly. With such issues displaying steadiness, bankers were more inclined today to discuss the prospect for early financing. The largest of such issues now expected is $27,500,000 of Toledo Edison 5 per cent first mortgage 30 year bonds.

Lack a Trend.

United States governments lacked a trend, with buyers showing no disposition to hurry purchases until making a more close appraisal of market possibilities for the remainder of the year.

Most of the buying and selling, it was observed, arose within Wall street rather than from sources outside New York City. It is held that bonds bought today did not leave the street, but remained in the hands of speculators.

Houses dealing in foreign dollar bonds reported that buying from abroad was on a small scale, indicating that foreign investors, too, are waiting for a sign of the market's trend.

Events Ahead.

Nomination of cabinet officers will aid sentiment, it is believed. Most observers expect constructive measures to be undertaken by the next congress. As one trader remarked toward the close, the market again is where it was two weeks ago. Whereas election uncertainty then deterred purchasers, now the uncertainties attendant upon nomination of cabinet officers and the opening of a new session of congress are influences serving to retard market progress.

Grigsby-Grunow.

I would appreciate a report on Grigsby-Grunow stock in the inclosed envelope.—E. O. B.

Grigsby-Grunow company was incorporated in 1921 to manufacture automobile accessories and radio equipment. In 1928 it started the manufacture of radios on a volume basis. It was just about then that radio sales assumed large proportions and the company enjoyed unusual prosperity for two years.

When business activity began to slacken in 1930 it became evident that the radio industry had overexpanded and overproduced. Reaction was natural. Price cutting was severe. Sales showed sharp declines.

In April, 1930, Majestic Household Utilities corporation was organized by Grigsby-Grunow to manufacture electric refrigerators. The refrigerator corporation was designed to take up the seasonal slack of the radio industry. Lack of working capital necessitated a reorganization and Majestic and Grigsby-Grunow were merged.

For the first half of 1932 sales were $6,481,000 and net loss was $1,056,000.

Sales for the seven months to Dec. 31, 1931, were $8,418,000 and net loss was $2,901,000. This included $704,000 inventory write down and $576,000 nonrecurring charges.

For the year ended May 31, 1931, sales were $28,351,000 and net loss, including nonrecurring items of $2,020,000, was $2,170,000. For the preceding year sales were $61,330,000 and net income was $1,746,000, or 87 cents per share, subject to correction of inventory. For the May 31, 1929, year sales were $49,319,000 and net income was $5,115,000.

On June 30, 1932, current assets were $4,716,000 and current liabilities were $1,013,000. Cash was $1,313,000. Working capital was $3,703,000, against $5,057,000 on May 31, 1931.

Funded debt totals $2,678,000. There are outstanding 2,723,343 shares of no par common stock, on which no dividend has been paid since Jan. 2, 1930.

Profit and loss deficit on June 30, 1932, was $3,822,000.

The radio industry is just emerging from the condition of chaos that was prevalent in 1930 and 1931. Keen competition exists in the electric refrigerator field.

The company has effected numerous economies. A return to profitable operations will probably have to await improved conditions in the industry. Resumption of dividends will probably have to await profitable operations, elimination of the balance sheet deficit and a bolstering of the company's current position.

M. A. TRAYLOR CALLS ELECTION CONSTRUCTIVE

Believes Business Should Improve.

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National bank of Chicago, yesterday hailed the Democratic landslide as a step to greater public confidence in business and finance. In his opinion "improvement and not disturbance" should follow.

MELVIN A. TRAYLOR.

Mr. Traylor, himself a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President last summer, said he regarded the election of a President and a congress of the same party a constructive development in that there would be "no room for divided responsibility."

Business Should Improve.

"If, as I believe," Mr. Traylor said, "business activity in times such as these is largely a matter of confidence or fear as to the future, then it would seem to me that the overwhelming victory of the Democratic ticket would indicate dissatisfaction with the political program of the party in power and confidence in that offered by the Democrats.

"If this reasoning be true, it seems to me that the question is answered as to what effect the election of Mr. Roosevelt will have on business. Improvement and not disturbance should follow.

"The people have made a decision. It does not seem logical that they should not be more happy and confident, having made their choice by so large a margin."

Rule No Longer Divided.

As a citizen, not as a partisan, Mr. Traylor said, he believed the results of the election may be accepted in a spirit of genuine hopefulness.

"The party will come into power," he continued, "with such an overwhelming mandate that there can be no room for divided responsibility with the consequent ineffective and futile results of a divided administration such as characterized the last session of congress.

"The party need look no further than to the election of 1928 for an object lesson as to the fatal results of a failure to meet responsibility with courage and understanding."

He had never believed, he said, that any party or any individual could have a legislative program which will work the miracle of immediate restoration of satisfactory economic conditions in this country or in the world.

Expects Greater Confidence.

"I do believe, however," he added, "that much can and will be done by the legislative and administrative departments of the new administration which will inspire and maintain public confidence in the integrity and soundness of our political system, our economic structure, and our social order. Such sustained confidence is primary and fundamental to the slow processes of recovery from the wreck caused largely by human folly.

"Our social distress will respond and improve with economic recovery and economic recovery will move forward immeasurably with sound political programs.

LEADERS' COMMENTS

Several business leaders yesterday commented on the election and its probable effect on economic conditions. Some of their statements follow:

Alfred P. Sloan Jr., president of General Motors corporation:

"In my opinion there is ground for the thought that there will be a certain amount of hesitancy as a result of the change in administration until more is known of what the new policies are to be.

"This suggests the prime importance and helpfulness of the earliest practical announcement of such policies as well as the names of the individuals who will be directly concerned.

"On the other hand, the strong mandate given the new administration is certain to establish great confidence the world over that national and international questions vital and fundamental in the building of a broad foundation of economic recovery will now be dealt with aggressively and constructively—something that has, apparently, been impossible before.

"In balancing these two influences one against the other I am confident that business will push forward aggressively."

Recovery Accelerated.

William H. Woodin, president of the American Car and Foundry company: "In my judgment the forces making for business recovery will go steadily ahead at an accelerated pace under Mr. Roosevelt's guidance."

L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson company: There will be no major change in the course of business as a result of the shift in the administration. I think that the election of Mr. Roosevelt has been pretty well discounted. After all, there were no major issues between the two parties in this campaign."

"Political uncertainty has now ended and it is helpful to have this disturbing factor out of the way. There is no doubt that general confidence is an important element in the revival of business, and the belief of a large

British, U. S. Tax Burdens Much Alike

BY SCRUTATOR.

Is the American taxpayer more able to pay off war debts than the Briton? There have been numerous intimations, particularly from abroad, that Great Britain and also France will ask further scaling down of their debts to the United States either following our national election or during or immediately after the forthcoming international economic conference.

It is said that our debtors again will plead inability to pay the debts as they now exist, which was the plea made when the war debts were funded on an interest basis that really reduced them considerably. On July 1, 1931, when the Hoover moratorium took effect, Great Britain owed unpaid principal of 4 billion 398 million dollars, and France owed 3 billion 863 million dollars. On Dec. 15, next, Britain is scheduled to pay this country $95,550,000 and France about $19,261,000 in principal and interest.

Compare Tax Burdens

As whatever part of the war debts not paid by our debtors must be paid by our own people, some data on the relative positions of American and English taxpayers is of interest. Statements have been made by the English press and several statesmen seeking to show that Britons are carrying a tax burden many times greater than are American.

One such statement was made recently in the English house of commons by a Maj. Elliot or behalf of the chancellor of the exchequer. The estimated per capita tax in the United Kingdom for the 1932-1933 fiscal year was placed around $52, which was contrasted with an estimated per capita tax of about $17 in the United States for the previous year. Of course, Maj. Elliot estimated only the American federal tax, but the statement was repeated by others who gave it as the total American tax.

Complete statistics on relative taxation for both countries are not available later than 1928. The national industrial conference board sets total tax revenues in the United States for 1928 at 9 billion 342 million dollars, or about $78 per capita. An official publication of the British government placed total tax revenues in the United Kingdom for the same year at just above 884 million pounds sterling, or about $94 per capita at the 1928 rate of exchange.

Estimates of the incomes of British and American taxpayers affords another sidelight on the relative burdens of taxation. An estimate by an English economist is that Great Britain's income in 1931 was about 3,842 million pounds, or about £85 per capita whereas total American income was estimated at 52 billion 500 million dollars, which was about $425 per capita and equivalent to about £87 at parity.

Taxes Much Alike.

Both of these sets of figures show that per capita taxation in Great Britain was not greatly higher than in the United States, either actually or in relation to income. The impression of Englishmen that our tax burden is much less than their own results from the fact that the national government collects about 78 per cent of taxes in the United Kingdom, whereas the United States federal government collects only about 35 per cent of total taxes.

From these figures it seems that Britons are about as able to pay their war debts to this country as American taxpayers are able to pay their own present debts. But the relative position of the American taxpayer would be the worse if Great Britain's debt to this country is scaled down and the American taxpayer required to shoulder the additional load.

In fact, however, the British and French loans have already been drastically reduced at the expense of American taxpayers. Under the original funding agreements the British debt was fixed at 4 billion 600 million dollars, with interest at 3.31 per cent, while the French debt was set at 4 billion 25 million dollars, with interest at 1.64 per cent. Under these rates, compared with the 4¼ per cent paid on the bulk of the Liberty loans, Great Britain's debt was really reduced nearly 26 per cent and France's debt was cut nearly 53 per cent.

INDIA, ENGLAND SEND GOLD HERE; U. S. STOCKS GAIN

New York, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Monetary gold stocks of the United States were increased today by $3,151,900. The New York Federal Reserve bank's daily statement showed imports of $3,200,000 from India, $232,600 from England and $20,800 from Mexico. There were no exports.

A loss of $301,500 through a net increase in gold earmarked for foreign account was reported. While this was the first change of that nature in the earmarked account for many weeks, authorities explained that no importance attached to it.

SELLING FLURRY SENDS PRICES OF STOCKS DOWN

Trade Then Settles Into Old Rut.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 9.—The stock market had a mild reaction today. After brief steadiness at the opening the list suddenly got upset and prices broke from $1 to more than $3 a share.

The flurry of selling subsided as suddenly as it had developed, however, and for the remainder of the session the market was content to go through the motions of its old routine. Trading lapsed into the same dull pace that has marked its course for the last two or three weeks and prices swung lazily back and forth without making any further progress in either direction.

Closing figures showed the leaders off 2 or 3 points in the main from Monday's finals, with a few isolated issues displaying losses of as much as 4 or 5 points.

Volume Increases.

Volume was around 1,300,000 shares, which averaged up with the mill run of trading sessions clocked off since the market ran into its prelection doldrum following the break on the Maine primary back in September.

Wall street had been anticipating the defeat of President Hoover and the control of congress by the Democrats for a good while and the result, whatever its effect on sentiment, was no surprise. For that reason the bear element found it rather difficult to cash in on the prevailing disappointment to any damaging extent.

In general, opinion in the street seemed to be that the forces making for recovery would be little affected by the change in administrations.

No disposition was manifest anywhere to anticipate any legislation calculated to have a harmful effect on the market with the economic situation in its present convalescent state. Railroad executives are known to feel that no change in the present policies of the government toward transportation will take place for the time being at least.

Decrease in Telephones.

News bearing on market operations was as mixed as in the days immediately preceding the settlement of the great national ballot battle. The decrease in telephones in October was somewhat larger than that of the preceding month and that brought enough selling into American Telephone to drive the stock down 3⅝ points. The rate of steel operations was reported slightly lower and the steel issues took the count, United States Steel common dipping 2 points.

Advance estimates prepared the speculative community for another drop in weekly carloadings figures and the more active rail shares, such as New York Central, Atchison, Union Pacific, Illinois Central, Chesapeake and Ohio, and Baltimore and Ohio sold off 1 to 3 points. Farm implement issues sagged with cotton.

Leaders Sell Lower.

Industrial favorites were generally on the bargain counter. American Can declined 2 points, Allied Chemical and Dye 2⅞, Westinghouse Manufacturing 1⅝, Eastman Kodak 1½, Coca Cola 3½, and International Business Machine 5½ points.

The so-called "repeal" stocks, including Distillers Products, Owens-Illinois Glass, Crown Seal and Cork, and Standard Brands were again active, but the strength among them was not so unanimous as it was just before election. Closing prices on the group were no better than mixed in fact.

DOLLAR RALLIES AGAINST FOUR GOLD CURRENCIES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 9.—The foreign exchange market today put a fitting quietus on the pre-election talk on the danger to the dollar that might lie in a change of administration.

In terms of sterling and the four gold standard currencies of Europe the United States monetary unit rallied smartly in the first trading after the results of the national poll were known. Sterling fell ⅞ of a cent in terms of the dollar to $3.29⅞. The franc was off 5-16 point to 3.92¼ cents, th Dutch guilder slumped 5½ points to 40.15½ cents. The Belgian belga lost 2½ points to 13.89 cents, and the Swiss franc dropped ¾ point to 19.26¾ cents.

Sherman Act Cripples Trade Says Harriman

The United States has a national destiny which it is sure to attain and there is no reason for any fear complex, was the comment on the outcome of the national election made yesterday by Henry I. Harriman, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Harriman's remarks were contained in a talk before the Chicago Association of Commerce at the Hotel La Salle on "Unshackling Business."

"No party has a monopoly on leadership or ability—if any one believes that, it is just too bad," Mr. Harriman continued, adding that everything attained in the past was through cooperation.

Tells His Business Cure.

Mr. Harriman's address centered on a plea that business be freed to work out its destiny through agreements among the individuals rather than have it forced to enter mergers in order to survive. He likened the actual results of mergers to what the public expects from trusts.

"The formula is simple. It is this: Amend the Sherman act to give to enterprises in competition in interstate commerce a right to obtain through agreement those advantages in dealing with their production, their markets and their prices which they might lawfully obtain by the device of merger."

Mr. Harriman recalled that in the final phases of the depression of the 70's the popular outcry was against the trusts. History has proved, he said, that events have taken care of the trusts—they have not been the menace to general business that was expected of them.

Example in Coal Industry.

He cited the case of the coal industry, saying:

"It would be a hardy soul—indeed, almost a foolhardy—who would undertake today to organize a coal trust. Why? Because coal is being hard pressed by a powerful competitor—oil. And new oil fields are being so rapidly brought into production that this great competitor of coal is itself being confronted with a serious overproduction problem. Then, too, electricity is pressing both coal and oil at every turn."

The speaker said that there are thousands of business men operating in interstate commerce as sellers who are looking for some means that will enable them to meet on an equal footing the combined buyers with whom they are confronted. He discussed specific exemptions from legalistic restraints on trade, including farmers, railroads, express, and telephone companies, banks chartered by the federal government and insurance companies.

"These exemptions," he said, "reveal that the legislative and legal mind has been conscious during recent times that express permission for competitors to act together is not only not detrimental to the public interest but it is, in fact, promotive of it."

BONDS VOTED TUESDAY EXPECTED TO SELL AT RECORD LOW INTEREST

New York, Nov. 9.—[Special.]—The $30,000,000 state of New York unemployment relief bonds, largest of the issues to be approved yesterday by the voters of various states, is awaited eagerly by investment bankers in view of the recent paucity of new high grade issues. The prediction was made freely that Controller Tremaine would be able to borrow the money at the lowest rate in the state's financial history, while if other states also were expected to be sold on a low interest basis.

The fact that the life of the loan is limited to seven years is expected to help decrease the interest rate.

The record low rate paid by the state was on Sept. 15, 1931, when an issue of $40,000,000 of bonds due from 1932 to 1951 was sold on a 3.2283 per cent basis. This was the last long term financing done by the state.

Of approximately $200,000,000 of new state and municipal issues on the ballots yesterday for approval, it is estimated, on the basis of election returns available, that more than 60 per cent of the total was authorized.

No business will be transacted tomorrow, Armistice day, on the Chicago Board of Trade, the Chicago Stock Exchange or the Chicago curb market. Banks here will also be closed. In New York, where the day is not a legal holiday, business will be carried on as usual. Commodity and security markets will be open. Trading in the markets here will be resumed Saturday.

Court to Hear Grain Board Appeal Today

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Hearings will begin today before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals on the appeal of the Chicago Board of Trade against the federal grain futures commission order suspending the grain exchange as a contract market for a period of 60 days.

The order, which was handed down last July by a special commission of three cabinet members, who administer the grain futures act, has been held in abeyance pending the appeal of the grain exchange.

The commission found that the exchange had violated the grain futures act by its refusal to admit the Farmers' National Grain corporation to membership to the Board of Trade clearing corporation. Under the law a properly constituted coöperative in good financial standing is entitled to membership in the contract markets. The Board of Trade denied the application of the Farmers' National on the grounds that it was not a true coöperative.

Regardless of the outcome in the appeals court, it is expected that the case will eventually be carried to the United States Supreme court.

Both the grain exchange and the federal commission have declared that the case will be carried to the higher court if an adverse decision is rendered. Even if the federal commission withdraws its order it is expected that the case will be pressed by the board of trade in order to test the powers of the commission.

Since the order was issued last July the commission has voluntarily withdrawn certain restrictions regulating futures trading on the Board of Trade.

Six Insurance Concerns Sued on Stock Sales

Six insurance companies were named as defendants in a suit to recover more than $1,000,000 filed yesterday in the United States District court in behalf of a group of eastern investors headed by Gilbert Mather, head of the Philadelphia firm bearing his name.

The companies named as defendants are the Fire Insurance Company of Chicago, the Insurance Investment Corporation of St. Louis, Federal Reserve Life Insurance company of Kansas City, Mo.; Agricultural Life Insurance company of America, Detroit; the Iowa National Fire Insurance Company of Des Moines, Ia., and the Farmers' National Life Insurance Company of Chicago. Massey Wilson, B. Frank Bushman, O. F. Looker, and Alex Green, officials of the companies, were named as co-defendants.

Charge Stock Manipulation.

The suit, filed by Attorney Harry F. Hamlin, said that the complainants own 520 shares of stock in the Fire Insurance Company of Chicago, which they purchased at $62.50 a share. Wilson, the bill charged, organized the Insurance Investment company and by illegal stock manipulation got control of 46,000 shares of the stock of the Fire Insurance company of Chicago. By representing the assets of the company at four times the actual value, the suit said, Wilson sold the stock at $62.50 a share as compared with a par value of $25.

The suit charged that under the insurance laws the surplus should have gone to the stockholders of the Fire Insurance Company of Chicago. Wilson put the funds to other uses, according to the bill, at a loss of $1,300,000 to the stockholders.

Assert Company Looted.

When Wilson took control of the Fire Insurance Company of Chicago the company had assets with cash value of $3,000,000, of which sum $2,400,000 was in cash deposits in banks, according to the uit. The assets were used, the suit said, to get control of the other defendant companies. Wilson "looted and plundered" the Fire Insurance Company of Chicago until the company ceased to function as a fire insurance company as chartered, the bill charged.

The suit asked an accounting, that the court recover the money lost to the company, and that the defendants be restrained from further shaping the policies of the Fire Insurance Company of Chicago.

AVIATION FIRMS' DIRECTORS ROW; SWOPE RESIGNS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 9.—Dissension among directors of the Aviation Corporation of Delaware and the North American Aviation, Inc., concerning the proposed acquisition of certain assets of the latter company by the Aviation corporation, developed today into an oper conflict. Herbert Bayard Swope, director of North American, announced his resignation as a protest against the alleged secrecy surrounding the deal.

Earlier in the day E. L. Cord, president of the Cord corporation and the Auburn Automobile company and the largest stockholder in the Aviation corporation, had sent a telegram from Beverly Hills, Cal., to the directors of his own company and of North American protesting against the proposed deal. Mr. Cord assailed the officers and directors of Aviation corporation for carrying on the negotiations "without his knowledge or consent," and announced that he would oppose the proposed merger in the courts and before Washington authorities."

SHARPEST GAIN OF YEAR MADE BY HOG MARKET

Prices Advance 20 to 25 Cents.

Hogs registered the sharpest advance of the year on a buoyant trade yesterday, closing mostly 25c above the average market of Tuesday. Not since Dec. 24, the day before last Christmas, which preceded a three day holiday period, has the trade witnessed as sharp an advance.

The extreme top jumped 25c to $3.90, the highest since Oct. 17 and 60c above the low day of last week, while the general average advanced 20c to $3.75, the highest since Oct. 7. Famine supplies, colder weather, activity in the wholesale pork trade at the highest prices in six weeks, and slightly better eastern demand offset the influence of the lower grain markets.

Buying Ahead of Supply.

Buying orders ran far ahead of the available supplies, and small packers, city butchers and shippers, scouring the yards for numbers at the close, were forced to take on kinds that ordinarily they would not bid on.

An advance of 3c per pound in the wholesale price of fresh pork loins added zest to the trade. Top loins at 12½c show a 4½c rise since last week's close and are on a par with a year ago this week. The feeling in the trade is that hogs have already seen the "fall break" and some look for the after election increase in marketing to be smaller this year. During the first three days of this week the 11 leading markets handled only 153,000. This total shows a decrease of 55 per cent compared with a year ago.

Cattle Trend Mixed.

Light steers were forced to the head of the price list in yesterday's cattle market. Medium and weighty beeves continued to drag toward lower levels, while yearlings and light steers maintained a good strong basis, with spots slightly higher in stock weighing less than 1,200 lbs. Choice 1,135 lb steers established the top at $8.75, being the lightest cattle to sell at the top in many weeks.

Numerically cattle receipts this week are smaller, but the decrease has been mostly in light western feeding cattle, while the proportion of weighty beeves shows an increase. Consequently the beef supply was not as small as receipts indicated. Butcher stock made up a very small part of the run and sold strong to 15c higher, heifers showing most strength of the upturn. Bulls advanced mostly 10c. Calves were firm. Replacement stock held firm.

Lambs Advance Again.

Activity characterized trading in the sheep house yesterday. Meager receipts sold quickly at the strong to 25c higher prices, with top sales equaling the highest point since middle of September. Better action in the wholesale trade and broader eastern buying made it difficult for buyers to hold off an even sharper upturn

Fancy native lambs sold to city butchers at $6.25, within 25c of the top on the corresponding day in 1931. Only one day in the last eight weeks is credited with as high a top. Packers bought at $6.00 and under, taking fed westerns at $5.75@5.90 and yearling sheep at $4.75.

How will the new Federal taxes affect your ESTATE?

Congress has made important changes in the Federal estate taxes. Not only has the rate of tax been increased, but small estates hitherto exempt are now taxable.

It is possible that the new law will materially affect your plans for providing for your family. We shall be glad to discuss this important matter with you and your attorney at any time.

PRICES OF WHEAT DECLINE WHEN SELLING ARISES

Roosevelt's Election Has Little Effect in Pits.

WHEAT PRICES IN GOLD

Prices of wheat futures in the world's leading markets figured on a gold basis, computed from rates of exchange prevailing at the time they closed, follow:

	Wednesday.	Monday.
Chicago, December	43¼c	44⅝c
Winnipeg, December	40⅞c	41⅞c
Liverpool, December	50⅞c	51⅝c
Bu. Aires, February	.40c	40½c
Rotterdam, November	47⅛c	47c

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

The election of Franklin D. Roosevelt had no effect on the grain markets yesterday, but weakness which developed in Winnipeg on Tuesday, when Chicago was closed, and the recession in the stock and cotton markets started a selling movement that carried wheat off 1⅛@1¼c from Monday's finish, with a low of 43¼c for December. The latter came within 1¼c of the all time record low in the local market at the extreme.

Little tendency to rally was shown, and the close on wheat futures here was 1⅜@1⅝c lower, with the December 43¼@43⅝c; May, 48⅛@48⅝c, and July, 49½c. Buying against bids and profit taking checked the decline.

Winnipeg Wheat Heavy.

While there was not the pronounced weakness in Canadian dollars so much in evidence on Monday, the Winnipeg wheat market acted heavy and closed 1¼@1⅜c lower, with December at 46⅝c in Canadian funds and at 40⅝c on a gold basis, against 41⅞c on Monday. Buying by exporters on scale orders to remove hedges against sales to Europe, which were estimated at 1,000,000 bu or more, and by strong interests was responsible for checking the decline in that market. Liverpool was ⅛@⅛c per bu lower, with December at 50⅝c.

According to pit gossip there was some selling of wheat futures here by traders who feared that the change in the administration at Washington might result in the farm board selling out its holding of futures. The latter some time ago was estimated as high as 45,000,000 bu.

Will Not Sell.

George S. Milnor, president of the Stabilization corporation, when told regarding this fear, denied that the government agency had been selling wheat futures and said the announcement made several months ago, in which the corporation pledged itself not to sell until after Jan. 1, remained in force. There has been no change in the net position of the corporation of late. Its holdings in the December have been gradually transferred into the deferred future.

Durum wheat at Duluth has developed pronounced strength of late, and at one time yesterday the December future was ⅝c over Chicago, against 3⅝c discount recently. At the close Duluth prices were the same as those in the local market. Millers were reported as buying at Minneapolis. No rain of consequence was reported in the dry sections of the west and southwest.

Corn Lower with Wheat.

Scattered selling by longs was on in corn futures, and with a lack of export demand prices declined around ¾c from Monday's finish, and the close was about the bottom, with December quoted at 25¼c; May, 30c, and July 31⅝@31¾c. Country offerings to arrive were not as liberal as of late owing to less favorable weather over a large part of the belt. Purchases by local handlers were estimated at 20,000 bu.

Buying against bids was a factor in checking the decline in corn futures. The fact that the government report is to be issued after the close today led to considerable evening up on the part of the local trade.

Oats and rye were affected by the action of other grains, and prices declined moderately. Oats finished ¼@⅝c lower, with December at 16c and May, 18⅛@18¼c, while rye was ⅝@1⅛c lower. December was 28½c and May 32¼c at the last.

COTTON CROP FIGURES RAISED 522,000 BALES

Cotton traders were given another surprise in the crop estimates by the government report issued yesterday, but nearly every month this year the trade has had serious jolts by these estimates. The report for November, issued yesterday, increased production over the October figures 522,000 bales to an aggregate of 11,947,000 bales, as compared with 11,425,000 bales last month, and a final last year of 17,096,000 bales. Private reports ranged from 10,975,000 bales to 11,600,000 bales, or an average of 11,460,000 bales. Acreage is given as 36,641,000. The indicated yield is 156.2 lbs of lint cotton per acre against 149.3 lbs in October. The census report gives ginnings to November 1 as 9,245,544 bales—excluding linters, compared with 12,124,295 bales for the same time last year, and 10,853,896 bales in 1930.

Texas has a cotton crop of 4,225,000 bales, leading all others—an increase for the month of 162,000 bales, while last year's crop was 5,320,000 bales. Mississippi is the second largest cotton state with 1,100,000 bales, the same as last month, and 661,000 bales less than last year. Arkansas' cotton crop is 1,160,000 bales, an increase of 79,000 bales for the month, while last year the crop was 1,907,000 bales.

TRADE LEADERS TELL OPINIONS OF ELECTION EFFECT

Most Expect Business Improvement.

majority of the voters that a change of government will tend to improve business should in itself help to bring about that condition."

Banker Optimistic.

Charles H. Sabin, chairman of the board of Guaranty Trust Co.:

"Now we can forget politics and attend to business, which I think will show an improvement. I recognize the fact that many problems yet remain to be solved, but I think Mr. Roosevelt will work them out satisfactorily. I believe we can look to the future with a good deal of optimism."

P. W. Litchfield, president Goodyear Tire and Rubber company:

"The United States has had an overdose of party politics. However, the results were well discounted in advance and there is no reason why the after effects should be anything more than passing. Mr. Roosevelt is in an ideal position to take over the reins of government."

Other Factors More Important.

"I believe that factors apart from the election are of greater weight, but it may be a determining factor as to our future (business) status."

J. C. Penney, chairman of the board, J. C. Penney company:

"I personally feel that Gov. Roosevelt and his many able and outstanding associates will lead the nation steadily forward. Without reservation, I anticipate an upswing in the general feeling of our people and a return to better conditions."

Will H. Hays, head of Motion Picture Industry:

"The principal business of Republicans now is to help make good the promise of early employment and prosperity made by both parties. In a war the army is loyal, whoever is in command. The depression is on the run. We will finish the fight now Everything else is chores."

HOW MARKETS REACTED

The action of the various security and commodity markets yesterday indicated that nobody was greatly surprised at the results of the election.

In the stock market there was a little nervousness during the first hour and trading was in a little larger volume than for several days but there were no extraordinary developments.

Leading issues on the New York stock exchange dropped a point or two during the day after an early rise, but this falling off could not be blamed on the election. There was enough adverse items in the day's grist of news to have accounted for the decline in the stock averages.

Crop Report Hits Cotton.

Cotton, for example, dropped about $1.00 a bale not because of the election but because of the publication of the monthly government crop report showing an increase of 522,000 bales in the estimate of the 1932 crop.

Wheat dropped 1⅞ to 1⅝ cents, but the trade attributed this to rains in the southwest and weakness at Winnipeg and Liverpool. Prices had declined somewhat at Winnipeg on Tuesday while the Chicago Board of Trade was closed for the election.

Another bearish note was sounded by the Iron Age in its weekly report on the steel industry showing that the rate of operations had declined last week from 20 per cent to 19 per cent. Figures for electric power output, usually released on Wednesday by the National Electric Light association, were delayed and will be given out today.

Live Stock Prices.

The best news of the day came from the live stock market. Hog prices staged the sharpest day's advance of the year. It was the sixth consecutive trading day in which hog prices had advanced.

The American dollar yesterday displayed strength against the leading foreign gold currencies. This was interpreted as evidence that Europe was satisfied that a change of parties would not affect the soundness of the dollar. Both parties, it was pointed out, had declared in favor of balanced budgets and sound money.

HOUDAILLE 'A' SHARES LISTED ON N. Y. MARKET

The New York stock exchange yesterday approved the listing of 174,480 shares of class "A" stock of the Houdaille-Hershey corporation, this stock being previously listed on both the Chicago and Detroit exchanges. Trading in the class "A" stock will start shortly. The company's class "B" stock, amounting to 800,428 shares, is listed on the New York, Chicago, and Detroit exchanges.

The company reported that on Sept. 30, 1932, current assets amounted to $3,172,242, of which $2,095,723 was represented by cash and United States government short term securities, against current liabilities of $249,873, leaving a net working capital of $2,922,368.64. This is an increase of $313,555.07 over Dec. 31, 1931.

The corporation and its subsidiaries for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1932, reported a net consolidated loss of $296,114 after all charges, including depreciation, which amounted to $551,514.

Eastman Kodak Company Votes Regular Dividends

Eastman Kodak company declared the usual dividend of 75 cents on the common and $1.50 on the preferred stocks, both payable Jan. 2 to stock of record Dec. 5.

Ohio Oil Co. Declares 10c Dividend on Common

The Ohio Oil company declared a dividend of 10 cents a share on the common stock, payable Dec. 15 to stock of record Nov. 19.

PRODUCTION OF STEEL OFF AS BUYING SLOWS

Preelection hesitancy, which has exerted a dampening influence on iron and steel buying since the middle of October, reached its climax in the last week of the presidential campaign, Iron Age says in its weekly review. With most consumers marking time in the last few days of suspense, business volume suffered noticeably. While slight gains in steel production were registered at Cleveland and Buffalo, losses were reported at Birmingham, Detroit and in the valleys, reducing the national average from 20 per cent to 19½ per cent of capacity.

Undoubtedly a recovery in buying will follow the release of election tension. Certain automobile builders have taken steps to increase their operations. Whether the gain in buying will be sufficient to offset seasonal tendencies as the year end approaches is still uncertain. Much depends on the rapidity with which railroad rehabilitation programs get under way and structural projects, financed by public funds, are launched.

DISCONNECTION OF PHONES IS UP DURING OCTOBER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 9.—Disconnections of telephones in the Bell system during October again showed a tendency to expand, following the improvement registered in the preceding month when the loss was considerably below that of August.

A net total of about 105,000 telephones was taken out of service during the last month, compared with a loss of 90,000 in September and 201,000 in August.

While the increase in disconnections during October was somewhat unexpected in view of the moderate improvement in general business conditions during recent weeks, it is pointed out that the loss of phones during October was well under the average for preceding months and was not greatly in excess of the September total.

EASTERN ROADS TO DISCUSS CUT IN CORN RATES

Executive officers of the Eastern trunk lines and the Central Traffic association are to meet in New York today to discuss general business and to take up the move of grain men started by George E. Booth, president of the Grain and Feed Dealers National association, for a reduction of 50 per cent as an emergency rate to apply on corn exports from the west to the seaboard during the winter months, when lake and rail rates are not obtainable.

Iowa and Montana Given R. F. C. Loans for Relief

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—(AP)—The Reconstruction Finance corporation today authorized a relief loan of $34,000 to the governor of Iowa for use in Webster county and $20,000 to the governor of Montana for use in Powell county. The Iowa loan is for relief from Nov. 1 to Dec. 31 and the Montana loan from Nov. 16 to Dec. 31.

Treasury Invites Bids on $75,000,000 Bill Issue

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—(AP)—The treasury today invited bids for an issue of $75,000,000 of 91 day bills to be sold on a discount basis. The offering will be dated Nov. 16, 1932, and will mature on Feb. 15, 1933. Proceeds will be used to meet a similar maturing obligation.

COPPER PRICES RISE AS BRITISH TARIFF NEARS

Curtailment Conference Also Aids Metal.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 9.—Strength in the foreign market for electrolytic copper today was attributed to British demand for the metal prior to inauguration of the new English tariff which probably will go into effect Dec. 1.

Inquiry improved materially from foreign sources and the market was indicated to be ranging from 5.68 to 5.75 cents a pound, c. i. f., European ports, depending of course, on position and date of delivery. Sales were recorded at 5¾ cents a pound after earlier sales at 5.60.

Domestic Price Stiffens.

This strength was communicated to the domestic market and late in the day it was said there was no copper available at the 5.25 cent-a-pound level.

The nearness of the time when the British tariff on copper will go into effect had its effect on the market, and the fact that James Y. Murdoch, president of Noranda Mines, and Ferdinand Pisart, representing Union du Haut Katanga, MEN—TODAY!

SELECTION FOR THIS OPPORTUNITY WILL BE ON A BASIS OF CHARACTER AND WILLINGNESS TO WORK—NO INVESTMENT OR DEPOSIT REQUIRED.

Take a sheet of paper and 5 sharp pencil and figure this out: Men just starting in this business, backed by a $75,000,000 aggregation of corporations operating in 47 countries, may make only $125 to $200 the first month. The second month their incomes range from $200 to $350. How is that for an increase? Take the case of Ted Lind, for example. A year ago he was averaging $30 a week. Last August he received over $1,200 IN CASH. He can average from $800 to $1,000 monthly consistently. He increased his earnings in Electrolux (not refrigeration) six times or a net of 500% in only 10 months! Were you ever in a business that paid such increases even in boom times? These are BIG DAYS in Electrolux all over the world. In America for 34 consecutive months we have gained monthly; 1932 will be our biggest year!

Your character and earnestness are criterions by which we shall appraise you. Experience counts for little. But we do prefer men with obligations, preferably between 25 and 45; men who can and will put effort into it. You buy nothing here—make no deposit or investment! No seasons or layoffs. Pay weekly!

Incomes of $3,000, $3,750, $4,000, $5,000, $6,000, $6,500, $7,000, $7,250, $7,500, $8,000, and ABOVE are frequent in Electrolux. One man of 35 men RECEIVED AN AVERAGE EACH OF OVER $7,400 IN CASH in 1931, as our government income tax affidavit proves. Successful men train you. Perhaps no other corporation devotes as much thought and effort to increasing the pay of its men as Electrolux. Abundant CASH is always available! The foremost banks are our depositories.

If you qualify and like our business, you would GO TO WORK THIS WEEK!—and this is already Thursday. How many such opportunities are available these days? Men who join us come from all trades, professions and occupations: Railroad men, engineers, teachers, farmers, plumbers, garage fitters, machinists, tool and die makers, chauffeurs, lawyers, bricklayers, printers; in fact, all classes. Every one who succeeds has determination and application. He is not afraid of work. Frequently men in this business make from $15 to $200 in a single day. Many make $25, $50 and $75 in a day —not every day, but frequently, and less other days. Some make from $25 up to $75 after nine at night! Others make big money on rainy days! A railroad man past 65, "new" in this work, made $39.41 one recent rainy day. Last winter Frank McGinnity, in an eastern office, was making about $1,000 a month. He thought this was enough for any man. August of this year he drew in cash over $3,800. This is outstanding, but MANY make 51,000 and above monthly—right away, but as they learn this business better. We are keenly, continuously interested in the right type of men. "Clever" men have no place with us. Sincerity is important. This business is honored worldwide, officially and privately. It is a most marvelous, useful, UNDERSTANDABLE and highly developed invention that has insured our success—that and competent management and helpfulness for men!

If you are serious minded and realize that men are always paid on the basis of WORTH and that we perhaps develop worth in men faster than the ordinary, then come for an interview from 9 a. m. to 12 noon, or 1 to 3 TODAY or THURSDAY, Nov. 10, Parlor F, Morrison Hotel.
